It is the intent of this act that at all times the Board of Registrars shall be, as nearly as may be, evenly divided in political faith, and, therefore, if it appears that at any time, by reason of a change in political affiliations or because of error in the appointment, the Board is not so evenly divided, any ten electors of the district may file a petition with the County Commissioners, setting forth the facts and praying that the changed or erroneous appointments may be revoked and another appointment made instead. The County Commissioners shall grant a public hearing, and, if they find the facts to be as represented, they shall give the relief asked for; but no registrars shall be removed merely because of his party, at an election following his appointment, has polled a less number of votes in the district than some other party. No person who holds or is a candidate for a public office shall act as registrar.

The petition shall remain on file, open to the public inspection, at least ten days before the persons named therein shall be appointed, except in cases where a vacancy occurs in the office of registrar within ten days of a registration day, when the appointment can be made without such delay. If no petitions are filed, the County Commissioners may appoint without regard to party. No appointment shall be made unless the person who desires to be appointed personally appears before the County Commissioners and satisfies them of his qualifications. In case of reappointment, however, it shall not be necessary for him to appear before them. * * * (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 251.)

If the persons nominated are found not to be properly qualified, the county commissioners may decline to appoint them; and the party authorities of the precinct or ward may then suggest another name, or other names, for the said place or places.

How Candidates Shall be Nominated to Fill Vacancies—Nominations May be Made by Nomination Papers.

4. * * * This act shall not apply to the nomination of candidates to be voted for at special elections to fill vacancies, except when such special election is held at the time of a regular election and such vacancy occurred or existed at least sixty days prior to the regular primary antecedent to such regular election; and nothing herein contained shall prevent any body of electors not constituting a political party from nominating candidates by nomination papers, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law. * * * (Act 1917, Sec. 1, P. L. 244.)

The word "vacancy" as applied to an office has no technical meaning. An existing office without an incumbent is vacant. There is no basis for the distinction that it applies only to an office vacated by death, resignation or otherwise. It may be applied to an office when it is first created, and has been filled by no incumbent; and a vacancy may exist by the expiration of the term. Commonwealth ex rel., Appellant, vs. McAfee, 232 Pa., 36.

Manner of Election and Filling of Vacancies in Office of State Committeemen—When State Committees Shall Organize.

7. * * * State committeemen shall be elected by Senatorial districts. Each Senatorial district shall be entitled to elect two members of the State committee, except where a Senatorial district is composed of more than one county or part of a county; in which event the electors residing in each county or part of a county embraced in the said senatorial district shall be entitled to elect one State committeeman. The State committeemen thus elected shall meet for organization not later than the fifth Wednesday following their election, at such hour and place as shall be designated by the State chairman of each respective party. The said State committeemen of all parties shall be elected at the Spring primary. * * * Vacancies happening at any time in the office of State committeeman shall be filled by the city or county committee of the respective parties: Provided, That when said vacancy occurs in a county composed of more than one Senatorial district, the members of the city or county committee embraced within the Senatorial district in said county shall elect said committeeman; and when a vacancy occurs in a Senatorial district composed of more than one county or part of a county, the members of the county committee embraced within said county or part of a county shall elect said committeeman. (Act 1917, Sec. 1, P. L. 144.)

On the back of such ballot shall be printed in prominent type the words "Official primary ballot of Party," and there shall also appear on the back of such ballot the facsimile signatures of the county commissioners of the county.

The ballot shall vary in form only as the names of districts, offices, candidates, or the provisions of this act may require. The names of candidates shall appear in alphabetical order under the respective offices. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 5, P. L. 719, as amended by Act 1915, Sec. 1, P. L. 1025.)

Where no name of a candidate of one party is printed on the primary ballot, and a number of electors write in the blank space on the ballot the name of the candidate of the opposite party, and no other person is voted for, such candidate is entitled to have his name printed on the official ballot as the candidate of such party. Hendersons' Case, 222 Pa. 307.

If two or more candidates for the same office shall have the same surname, or similar surnames, the county commissioners shall, upon the request of any of said candidates, filed in writing, not later than five days after the last day for filing nomination petitions, print the occupation of any such candidate, so filing a request, on the ballot opposite or under his name. * * * (Act 1915, Sec. 1, P. L. 1025.)

20. * * * The voter may designate his choice as is indicated by the instructions shown on the form of ballot above set forth. If he shall vote for more persons for any office than there are candidates to be nominated or elected for such office, or if, for any reason, it may be impossible to determine his choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office; but the rest of his ballot, if properly marked, shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice. (Act 1915, Sec. 1, P. L. 1025.)

Names of Candidates Not to be Printed on Ballot Unless Petition is Accompanied by Affidavit of Candidate.

21. The names of candidates for nomination as President of the United States, and the names of all other party candidates, shall be printed upon the official ballot of a designated party, upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf, signed by qualified electors of the State, or of the political district or division, as the case may be, within which the nomination is to be made or election is to be held, and the filing of affidavits by the candidates as provided in this act; and the names of no candidates shall be printed upon an official ballot of a political party, to be used at any primary, unless such petitions shall have been filed, and unless such candidates, except they be candidates for the office of President of the United States, and shall have filed affidavits, as hereinafter provided. * * * (Act 1917, Sec. 2, P. L. 244.)

Signers May not Sign More than One Petition for Same Office—Qualifications and Requirements of Signers—Time of Signing Petition.

22. * * * Each signer of a nomination petition shall sign but one such petition for each office to be filled, and shall declare therein that he is a member of the party designated in such petition: Provided, however, That where there are to be elected two or more persons to the same office, each signer may sign petitions for as many candidates for such office as, and no more than, he could vote for at the succeeding election. He shall also declare therein that he is a qualified elector of the county therein named, and, in case the nomination is not to be made or candidates are not to be elected by the electors of the State at large, of the political district or division therein named, in which the nomination is to be made or the election is to be held. He shall add his occupation and residence, giving city, borough, or township, with street and number, if any, and shall also add the date of signing. No nomination petition shall be circulated prior to forty (40) days before the last day on which such petition may be filed, and no signature shall be counted unless it bears date within forty (40) days of the last day for filing the same. * * * (Act 1917, Sec. 2, P. L. 244.)

Nomination Petitions May be on One or More Sheets—Each Sheet to be Accompanied by Affidavit—Contents of Affidavit.

23. * * * Said nomination petition may be on one or more sheets, and different sheets must be used for signers residing in different counties. Each sheet shall have appended thereto the affidavit of some person, not necessarily a signer, and not necessarily the same person on each sheet,—setting forth that the affiant is a qualified elector of the State, or of the political district or division, as the case may be, referred to in said petition; his residence, giving city, borough, or township, with street and number, if any; that the signers signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition; that their respective residences are correctly stated therein; that they all reside in the county named in the affidavit, and that each signed on the date set opposite his name; and that, to the best of the affiant's knowledge and belief, the signers are qualified electors and members of the designated party of the State, or of the political district or division, as the case may be. * * * (Act 1917, Sec. 2, P. L. 244.)

What Affidavit Filed With Candidate's Nomination Petition Shall Embrace.

Candidate for Nomination as President to File Post Office Address Instead of Candidate's Affidavit.

26. * * * In the case of a candidate for nomination as President of the United States, it shall not be necessary for such candidate to file the affidavit required in this section to be filed by candidates, but the postoffice address of such candidate shall be stated in such nomination petition. * * * (Act 1917, Sec. 2, P. L. 244.)

Candidate for Election as National Delegate May Include With Affidavit Statement Promising to Support for Presidential Nomination Candidate Receiving Highest Number of Votes at State Primary—Failure of Candidate to Include Statement Not to Invalidate Nomination Petition.

27. * * * Each candidate for election as delegate or alternate delegate to a National party convention may include, with his affidavit, the statement hereinafter set forth in this section; but his failure to include such statement shall not be a valid ground, on the part of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, for refusal to receive and file his nomination petition. Such statement, if any be made, shall be in substantially the following form:

Delegate's Statement.

I hereby declare to the voters of my political party in the (here insert "State of Pennsylvania" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large; otherwise, insert ".....District") that if elected, and in attendance as a delegate to the National convention of the party, I shall, with all fidelity, to the best of my judgment and ability, in all matters coming before the convention, support that candidate for President of the United States who shall have received the highest number of votes cast in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large; otherwise, insert ".....District") by the voters of my party for said office at the ensuing primary, and shall use all honorable means within my power to aid in securing the nomination for such candidate for President.

(Act 1917, Sec. 2, P. L. 244.)

Where Nomination Petitions Shall be Filed—Number of Signers Required and Time of Filing.

29. The nomination petitions in the case of candidates for the office of President of the United States, Senator of the United States, member of the House of Representatives of the United States, for all State offices, for the office of delegate or alternate delegate to a National party convention, and for the office of member of the State or National committee, shall be filed, at least forty days prior to the primary, with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Nomination petitions in all other cases shall be filed, at least four weeks prior to the primary, with the county commissioners of the respective counties.

Nomination Petitions of candidates shall be signed—

(a). If for the office of President of the United States, or of Senator of the United States, by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least ten counties of the State.

(b). If for a State office, to be filled by a vote of the electors of the State at large, for the office of Representative from the State at large in the Congress of the United States, for the office of delegate or alternate delegate at large to a National party convention, or for the office of member of the National committee, by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least five counties of the State.

(c). If for the office of a member of the House of Representatives of the United States, to be filled by a vote of the electors of a Congressional district; or of delegate or alternate delegate to a National party convention, other than delegate or alternate delegate at large; or of judge of any court, other than a court whose judges are to be elected by a vote of the electors of the State at large; or of State Senator, or of any municipal office to be filled by a vote of the electors of a senatorial district, by at least two hundred qualified electors.

(d). If for the office of a member of the State House of Representatives, or for the office of member of the State Committee, or an office to be voted for by the electors of the entire county, by at least one hundred qualified electors.

(e). If for the office of inspector of election, at least five qualified electors.

(f). And for all other offices and all other party offices, by at least ten qualified electors. (Act 1919, Sec. 1, P. L. 839.)

It is the plain duty of the county commissioners when a candidate's petition is presented to them, even though it be regular on its face, to inquire whether the requirements of the Act have been complied with in regard to the number of signers and their qualifications as electors of the division.

In such a case the commissioners have authority to refuse such a petition, where it appears that ten of the fifty-six signers of the petition had been induced to sign upon a false representation that the candidate was a Democrat and had withdrawn from the petition, and that the remaining signers were not qualified voters of the Democratic Party. Moore v. Neil et al., Appellants, 233 Pa., 408.

For What Causes Nomination Petitions May be Refused—Invalidity of Any Sheet of a Petition Shall Not Affect Validity of Petition if Sufficient Petition Remains—Time and Manner of Making Application for Setting Aside Petition—Court after Hearing, May Permit Petition to be Amended—Petitioner to Pay Costs When Objections Not Sustained.

30. No nomination petition shall be refused or set aside except for—

(a). Material error or defects apparent on the face thereof, or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavits; or

(c). Want of a sufficient number of genuine signatures of persons qualified, with respect to age, sex, residence, and citizenship, to be electors.

The invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition, if a sufficient petition remains after eliminating such invalid sheet.

Application to set aside any nomination petition shall be by petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such nomination petition has been filed, setting forth specifically the matters objected to, and must be filed within five days after the last day for filing said nomination petition. Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing a time for hearing, which shall not be later than ten days after the last day for filing said nomination petition, and specifying the time and manner of notice that shall be given to the candidate named in the nomination petition sought to be set aside.

If the matters objected to are such as are specified in subdivision (a) of this section, the court upon hearing the case may, in its discretion, permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as to payment of costs, as the said court may specify.

In case the petition to set aside a nomination petition is dismissed, the petitioner shall pay the whole of the costs of the proceedings, including all witness fees. (Act 1913, Sec. 8, P. L. 730.)

Where on the hearing of objections to a nomination petition it was contended that the petition was of no validity because the affiants who vouched for the signatures on the sheets attached to the petition did not have personal knowledge as to all the persons or signatures vouched for, the objections were properly dismissed where it appeared that the petition contained a sufficient number of genuine signatures of persons qualified in respect to age, sex, residence and citizenship to be electors. Yost's Appeal, 258 Pa., 551.

Secretary of the Commonwealth Shall Furnish County Commissioners With Correct List of Candidates for Various Offices and Also Notify Candidates That Their Names Have Been Certified to County Commissioners.

31. In the case of each candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a National party convention, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall certify as to whether such a candidate has included with his affidavit the statement provided for in subdivision (c) of section six of this act. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 9, P. L. 731.)

County Commissioners Shall Have on File and Open to Public Inspection Forms of Ballot, with the Names, Statements and Notations Required by Act.

32. * * * The county commissioners shall have on file in their office, on and after the Wednesday preceding the primary, open to public inspection, forms of the ballot with the names and such statements and notations as may be required by the provisions of this act printed thereon, which shall be used in each election district within such county. 34. * * * With the official ballots to be furnished in advance of the primaries, the county commissioners shall also furnish, and deliver to the election officers, specimen ballots for the use of electors at the polls, equal in number to one-fifth the whole number of such official ballots; said specimen ballots to be printed on colored paper, and to be of the same size and form as the official ballots, but without any permanent binding or stubs; and in addition thereto, on the Wednesday preceding every primary, the county commissioners shall, upon request made at their office, there deliver to each candidate whose name is printed on any party ballot or to his authorized representative, without charge, three specimen ballots of such party for each election district in the county or city or political district thereof in which such candidate may be voted for, for the use of such candidate and the watchers whom he may appoint as hereinafter provided.

On the back of each specimen ballot for the primary next preceding the election of a President of the United States, the county commissioners shall print subdivision (c) of section six of this act.

The official ballots shall be attached to stubs, which shall be numbered consecutively from one to the highest number to be furnished to each particular election district, and bound in books of fifty each, which shall be numbered in the order of the numbers of their stubs in the same manner as at elections; and the county commissioners shall keep a record of the number of such books and ballots printed and delivered to each election district, and of the number of stubs, unused ballots, and spoiled and canceled ballots subsequently returned therefrom. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 2, P. The said forms, blanks, books, and other supplies shall have printed upon them appropriate instructions, and shall be in appropriate form for use at the primaries. The county commissioners shall also provide for the opening of the polling-places and for the compensation of the owners thereof, and shall see that they are in proper order and provided with voting booths, as at elections. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 2, P. The election officers shall post at least three cards of instructions in the voting room, outside of the guard-rail, as soon as the polls are open, and thereafter give such cards to such persons desiring to vote as shall request the same. (Act 1919, Sec. 2, P. L. 842.)

37. No official ballot shall be taken or detached from its stub in any book of ballots, except by an election officer when a person desiring to vote has been found to be a qualified elector entitled to vote as hereinafter stated, and not more than one ballot shall be removed at any one time or given to any voter, except when a voter inadvertently spoils a ballot and immediately returns it to the election officers for cancellation, in which case he may be given another. Any person removing any ballot from any book of official ballots, except in the manner aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or to undergo an imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court, for each offense. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 3, P. Vacancies in election boards shall be filled in the manner now provided by law. Before entering upon their duties the election officers and clerks shall be sworn, and execute written oaths as is now required by law. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 11, P. L. 732.)

39. * * * The polls shall be open between the hours of seven o'clock ante meridian and seven o'clock post meridian. All persons licensed to sell liquors, either at wholesale or retail, or as bottlers, shall be compelled to keep their places of business closed, on said days for holding said primary, only between the hours of six o'clock ante meridian and eight o'clock post meridian. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 11, P. L. 732.)

General Election Laws, Unless Modified by Act, to Govern Primaries—Assistance to Electors Prohibited, Unless Affidavit is Made Showing Inability to Read or Physical Disability.

40. * * * Primaries shall be conducted in conformity with the laws governing the conduct of general elections, in so far as the same are not modified by the provisions of this act or are not inconsistent with its terms: Provided, That no elector shall be permitted to receive any assistance in marking his ballot, unless he shall first make an affidavit that he cannot read the names on the ballot, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot. (Act 1913, Sec. 11, P. L. 732.)

All Expenses of Holding Primaries to be Paid by County Treasurer, on Order of County Commissioners.

41. * * * Each county of this Commonwealth shall be required to bear and pay the expenses of holding the primary elections in said county. (Act 1915, Sec. 1, P. L. 638.) The county commissioners shall keep an accurate account of the entire expense of holding such primaries, including the preparation and delivery of supplies, voting materials, et cetera, and the total amount shall be paid * * * by the county treasurer, upon the order of the county commissioners. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 12, P. L. 733.)

Qualifications of Electors—What Proof Required—Privileges of Electors—Enrollment as a Member of Political Party Necessary to Vote Party Ticket—Registered Enrolled Electors in Cities Cannot be Challenged at Primaries as to Party Affiliation—Electors Outside of Cities, May be Challenged, as to Party Membership—What Affidavit Shall Show—Challenged Voter, Living Outside of Cities, Refusing to Make Affidavit Shall Not be Permitted to Receive Ballot.

42. * * * Qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of the electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held, except that, with respect to the payment of taxes, it shall be sufficient if an elector shall have paid, within two years before the next succeeding election, a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months before the said election and paid on or before the day of the primary, and, in cases where personal registration is required, on or before the registration day on which the elector registers: Provided, That no elector who is not registered and enrolled as a member of a designated political party in accordance with the law requiring such registration and enrollment now or hereafter in force, shall be permitted to vote the ballot of such party or any other party ballot at any primary. Each elector may be challenged, and, if challenged, shall prove the aforesaid qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election district in which he offers to vote are or hereafter may be required by law to prove their qualifications or identity on election day, except that in cases, as in cities of the first, second, and third classes, where personal registration is required, all challenges respecting party membership must be made at the time of such registration, and in such cases the designation of the political party of the elector on the register shall be conclusive evidence of such membership at the succeeding primary or primaries. In other cases where personal registration is not required, as in districts other than in said cities, if an elector, although enrolled as a member of any particular party, is challenged regarding such membership, he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that, at the last preceding election at which he voted, he voted for a majority of the candidates of said party, and, upon executing such affidavit, he shall be entitled to receive and vote the ballot of such party, but if he is unable or unwilling to make such affidavit, he shall be denied the right to receive such ballot, but he shall not be deemed to be guilty of any violation or attempted violation of any law by reason of having asked for a ballot of the party with which he is enrolled.

If such last preceding election at which such elector voted was a general election at which Presidential electors were voted for, he shall, in determining the number of candidates for which he voted thereat, count the group of Presidential electors as two candidates. (Act 1919, Sec. 3, P. L. 844.)

Where a citizen at a general election votes the straight ticket of a particular party, he will not be entitled, if challenged, at the next succeeding primary election to receive a ballot of another party, although on the ballot which he voted at the general election were the names of the majority of the candidates of the party for whose ballot he asks at the primary election.

†An elector to vote a Non-Partisan Nomination Ballot is not required to be enrolled as to party preference.

A candidate may be voted for by more than one party but he does not thereby lose his relation to a party from the mere fact that his name appears in a column of another party.

The act intends that each candidate is to be credited with each vote cast in his favor, no matter on what ticket, to the end that it may be ascertained whether or not he has received a plurality of votes; but it is equally important that a political party or organized body of electors that has made a nomination is entitled to have an accurate computation made of the number of votes cast in its name, so that its rights with respect to the making of nominations in the future may be ascertained.

A political party is defined as a company or number of persons ranged on one side, or united in opinion or design in opposition to others in the community; those who favor or are united to promote certain views or opinions.

To entitle one to membership in a party he must not only have voted for a majority of the persons who were candidates of that party in the preceding election, but he must have voted for such persons as the candidates of the party to which he claims affiliation; that is, if he voted in a party column, he must have voted for them in the column designated for that party and not in some other party column. Closing of Polls—Party Vote to be Counted and Announced Before Ballot-Boxes are Opened—Counting and Announcement of Names Marked on Lists as Having Voted—Comparison of Lists and Ballots Issued—Disposition of Lists of Voters and "Ballot Check Lists."

43. Upon the closing of the polls at such primary, and before the ballot-boxes are opened, the number of ballots issued to the voters of each party, as shown by the stubs, and the number of ballots of each party, if any, spoiled and returned by voters and canceled, shall be announced to all present in the voting room, and entered on the general return sheets aforesaid; and then the names checked as having voted in the two assessor's lists or registers, marked "ballot check list" and "voting check list," respectively, shall be immediately counted, and the result announced and compared with the number of ballots issued as above ascertained, after deducting the number spoiled and canceled, and said results shall also be compared with the number of names written in the numbered lists of voters, which shall be made, as at elections, as the electors receive and cast their ballots, with the addition of a note of each elector's party enrollment after his name. If any differences exist which are not found to be due merely to clerical errors, such differences shall also be noted on the general return sheets aforesaid. Then the numbered lists of voters (except a copy of the latter which shall be hung outside of the polling-place) shall be placed in the separate envelopes provided for them respectively, and sealed. In cities the voting and ballot check lists shall be put in one envelope and sealed, and subsequently delivered to the registration commissioners or county commissioners as required by the personal registration acts relating to cities of various classes. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

44. * * * The stubs of all ballots used, together with all unused ballots and all spoiled and canceled ballots of each party, and the ballot check list in boroughs, townships, and districts other than in cities, shall be placed in a separate envelope, and sealed before the ballot boxes are opened; which package shall be kept by the judge, and delivered by him in person to the county commissioners, at such place as they shall designate, on or before noon of the Thursday following such primary. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

Sealing of Lists and Unused Ballots—Opening of Ballot-Boxes—Separating, Counting and Recording of Ballots—Ballots to be Kept Within Public View in Voting Room, and Not to be Spoiled or Marked by Pen, Pencil or Hand Stamp While Being Counted.

45. * * * As soon as all the ballots of each party have been properly accounted for, and those outside the ballot-boxes, as well as the said lists, sealed as aforesaid, the election officers shall forthwith open the ballot-boxes, and take therefrom all ballots therein, and separate the same according to the party to which they belong, and, first, audibly count the number cast for each party, one by one, and make a record thereof; and, then, the judge or one of the inspectors, in the presence of the other officers, shall read aloud the names marked or inserted upon each ballot, keeping the ballots of each party in sequence, together with the office for which the person named is a candidate, and any other relevant matter necessary to identify him, and the clerks shall carefully enter each vote as read, and keep account of the same in triplicate tally papers for each party, to be provided as aforesaid. All ballots after being removed from the box shall be kept within the unobstructed view of all persons in the voting room until replaced in said box; and no person, while handling same, shall have in his hand any pencil, pen, stamp, or other means of marking or spoiling any ballot * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

Certification of Votes Cast—Preparation and Delivery of Returns—Posting of Returns Outside of Polling-Place—Ballots and Other Papers Required to be Placed in Ballot-Boxes and Sealed—Delivery of Ballot-Boxes to County Commissioners.

46. * * * When the vote cast for the different persons named upon said party ballots shall have been fully recorded on said tally papers and counted, the election officers shall duly certify to the number of votes cast for each person upon the respective party tickets, and shall prepare triplicate returns thereof for each party, and also general returns in duplicate, showing, besides the entries made thereon as aforesaid, the number of ballots of each party cast and the number of ballots of each party declared altogether void, including any blank ballots cast, as well as the votes cast for each candidate on each party ticket; one of which statements shall be immediately posted for the information of the public outside the voting room or polling-place, and the other of which shall be entrusted to the judge for delivery to the county commissioners with the package of unused ballots, et cetera, aforesaid. The election officers shall then replace with one set of tally papers, one set of said triplicate return sheets, one numbered list of voters sealed as aforesaid (and the voting check list in districts other than in cities), and one oath of each election officer, and lock and seal each ballot-box so that nothing can be inserted therein until it be opened again; and the judge and minority inspector shall deliver them to the county commissioners, at the place designated by them or by law, on or before noon of the Thursday following such primary, and the county commissioners or return board shall not compute any returns from any election district until the ballot-boxes thereof, as well as the package of unused ballots, et cetera, aforesaid therefrom, are returned to them as aforesaid. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

* * * At each election district, the vote as soon as counted shall be publicly and fully declared from the window to the citizens present; and a brief statement showing the votes received by each candidate, shall be made and signed by the election officers as soon as the vote is counted, and shall be immediately posted up on the door of the election-house or polling-place, for the information of the public. (Act 1915, Sec. 1, P. L. 122.)

Disposition of Tally Papers, Triplicate Returns and Affidavits—Counting of Returns by Return Board—When Judges Shall Act as the Return Board—General Returns to be Open to Public Inspection.

47. * * * The minority inspector shall retain one complete set of tally papers, and one of the triplicate return sheets for each party, and one set of the affidavits of voters and other persons, except oaths of election officers, made pursuant to the provisions of this act at such primary, and carefully preserve the same for the period of at least one year. The remaining tally papers, triplicate return sheets, and affidavits of voters and others, including oaths of election officers, shall be placed in separate envelopes, to be provided for the same, and sealed as soon as the count is finally completed. All of such envelopes and the other numbered list of voters, previously sealed as aforesaid, shall be entrusted to the judge of election, and shall, on or before noon of the Thursday following, be deposited by him, in person or by registered mail, with the county commissioners, who shall, on the succeeding day at noon, publicly commence the computation and canvassing of the returns, and continue the same from day to day until completed in the manner hereinafter provided, except that, if any of the county commissioners of any county shall be a candidate for any nomination at any primary, he shall not act as a member of the return board for computing or canvassing any returns of such primary, but the other two commissioners, if both are qualified, shall act, and in case in any county there are not at least two commissioners so qualified, two judges of the court of common pleas of such county shall be designated by said court to act as a return board, provided that neither of them are candidates for any nomination at such primary either on a party or a non-partisan ballot; and if there shall be only one judge of such court in such county or if less than two judges are qualified and able to act in such county, any judge who is qualified may act alone, and if there be none qualified, the prothonotary of such county shall act as the return board. The general returns from the various districts shall be open to public inspection at the office of the county commissioners as soon as they receive same from the judges thereof. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

County Commissioners to Provide Place for, and Advertise Meeting of Return Board—Party Representatives and Candidates to be Admitted to Sessions of Board and May Keep Record of Returns.

48. * * * The county commissioners shall provide a convenient public place for holding the sessions of the return board, whoever may compose it as aforesaid, with adequate accommodations for the authorized representatives of each party and candidate concerned in any such primary, not exceeding two such representatives for each of them at any one time, to attend and to keep or check up their own computations of the votes cast in the several election districts as the returns from the same are read as hereinafter directed; and the county commissioners shall give at least one week's previous notice by advertising once in at least two newspapers of a large paid circulation, published at the county-seat, of the time aforesaid and place when and where such return board will commence and hold its sessions, and keep copies of such advertisement posted in their office during said period. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

County Commissioners to Have Proper Forms Prepared for Making Returns—Clerks Assisting in Computing Vote to be Sworn.

49. * * * At noon on the Friday following any such primary, the county commissioners shall have ready a sufficient number of blank forms of returns, made out in a proper manner and headed as the nature of the ballots may require, for making out full and fair statements of all votes which shall have been given, within the county or any political district therein, according to the returns from the several election districts thereof, for any person voted for therein for any party nomination or party office.

All the clerks of the county commissioners and other persons assisting in the official computation and canvassing of the votes shall be first sworn to perform their duties impartially, and not to read, write, count, or certify any return or vote falsely or fraudulently. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

Reading and Comparison of General Returns—Ballots, Stubs and All Election Returns to be Preserved—Opening of Sealed Returns.

50. * * * The general returns made by the election officers, as aforesaid, from the various election districts shall be read one after another in the usual order, slowly and audibly, by one of the clerks, who shall in each case read therefrom the number of ballots of each party issued, spoiled, and canceled, and cast respectively, whereupon the clerk having charge of the records of the county commissioners showing the number of ballots of each party furnished for each election district and the number of stubs and unused ballots and spoiled and canceled ballots returned, shall publicly announce the number of same respectively; and unless it appears by said numbers or calculations therefrom that said records and the said general return correspond, no further returns shall be read from the latter until all the ballots issued are fully accounted for; and all the stubs and unused ballots, spoiled and canceled ballots, as well as the other election returns aforesaid, shall be open to public inspection, and shall be carefully preserved, together with the contents of the ballot-box, by the county commissioners for at least eleven months, and not destroyed in any event without the previous consent in writing by the district attorney. None of the envelopes sealed by election officers and entrusted to the judges of election shall be opened by any person, except by order of the return board or of the court of common pleas. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

Reading and Comparison of Returns for Each Candidate—Opening of Ballot-Boxes by Return Board in Cases of Discrepancies—Recounting of Ballots—Returns to be Corrected if Fraud or Error is Discovered—District Attorney to be Advised.

51. * * * When the records agree with the said returns regarding the ballots, the votes recorded for each candidate on each party ticket shall be read by the said clerk slowly, audibly, and in an orderly manner, from the said returns, and the figures announced shall be compared by other clerks with the return sheets of each party for the respective districts, and discrepancies shall be immediately called to the attention of the return board, which shall thereupon compare said return sheets with the tally papers for the same election district respecting the same candidates or party ballots; and if the tally papers and party return sheets agree, the general return shall be forthwith corrected to conform thereto; but, in every other case the return board shall forthwith cause the ballot-box of such division to be brought before it, and opened under its direction, and the ballots therein recounted respecting any vote in question, in the presence of representatives of each party and candidate interested who are attending the canvass of such votes; and if such recount shall not be sufficient to correct the error in any of the said returns, the return board may summon the election officers and overseers, if any to appear forthwith, with all election papers in their possession, and the court of common pleas shall use its processes to enforce such summons, if necessary; and, if any error or fraud is discovered, the return board shall compute and certify the votes justly, regardless of any fraudulent or erroneous returns presented to it, and report the facts to the district attorney of the proper county for action in cases that appear to warrant same. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

Recording of Returns—Certification by Return Board of Total Vote for Each Candidate to County Commissioners.

52. * * * As the returns from each election district are read, computed, and found to be correct or corrected as aforesaid, they shall be recorded on the blanks prepared for the purpose of casting up the total vote of each candidate on each party ticket, until all the returns from the various election districts which are entitled to be counted shall have been duly recorded, when they shall be added together, announced, and attested by the clerks who made and computed the entries respectively, and at the expiration of five days after the completion of said computation, the return board shall certify the several returns accordingly to the county commissioners, unless, upon appeals taken from any decision, the court of common pleas shall have directed any returns to be revised, in which cases such returns shall be revised and certified accordingly. (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 846.)

Return Board to Open Ballot-Boxes and Recount Vote at Request of Three Qualified Electors Who Allege Fraud or Error—Correction of Returns in Cases of Error or Fraud.

53. * * * Upon the sworn affidavit of three qualified electors of any election precinct, division, or district of any county that, upon information which they consider reliable, they believe an act of fraud or error, although not manifest upon the general return of votes made therefrom, has been committed therein, the return board shall, at any time prior to the completion of the computation and canvassing of all the returns for the county, open the ballot-box of such election district, and cause the entire vote thereof to be recounted in manner aforesaid, and if they discover any fraud or material error, they shall correct, compute, and certify the votes of such election district justly, regardless of any fraudulent or erroneous returns made by the election officers thereof, and correct any entries previously made in the papers being prepared by the return board accordingly. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 5, P. L. 852.)

The "five qualified electors" who are authorized by Section 15 of the Act of July 12, 1913, P. L. 719, relating to primary elections, to present a sworn petition averring fraud or error in the computation of a vote and asking for a recount of the votes, need not be electors of the precinct, division, or district, in which the alleged fraud or error was committed. Braddock Borough Election Case, 251 Pa. 110.

Persons Aggrieved by Decision of Return Board May Petition Court—Court on Appeal to Hear and Determine All Matters Pertaining to Fraud—How Contests of Primaries Shall be Conducted—Payment of Fees and Costs.

54. * * * Any person aggrieved by any order or decision of any return board, not consisting of a judge or judges of the court of common pleas, regarding the computation or canvassing of the returns, or by any refusal to open the ballot-box of any election district upon a proper petition as aforesaid, may appeal therefrom, within two days thereafter, to the court of common pleas of the proper county, setting forth why he feels that an injustice has been done, and praying for such order as will give him relief, and, upon the payment to the prothonotary of a fee of three dollars for filing such appeal, a judge of the said court shall fix a time and place for hearing the matter in dispute within three days thereafter, of which due notice shall be served, with a copy of said appeal, by the appellant upon one of the return board whose action is complained of, and upon every attorney who opposed the contention of the appellant before such return board, and upon any other person that said judge shall direct, at least two days before said matter shall be reviewed by the court, and proof of such notice or the waiver thereof must be filed therein before any appeal is sustained. The court on such appeal shall have full power and authority to hear and determine all matters pertaining to any fraud or error committed in any election district to which such appeal relates, and to make such decree as right and justice may require, and, pending such appeal, the return board shall suspend any official certification of the votes cast in such election district, but none of the orders or decisions of either the return board or any judge or judges acting as a return board or the court of common pleas on any appeal shall be deemed a final adjudication regarding the results of any primary election so as to preclude any contest thereof. Contests of primaries shall originate and be conducted as in cases of elections. No appeal shall be allowed from any decision of any judge or judges acting as a return board or from any order or decree of the court of common pleas made in pursuance of this section; and the said court may compel the appellant or any opposing party, other than the commissioners or prothonotary, to pay all the witness fees, if any, and other legal costs of rehearing any matter in dispute, which costs may be taxed by the prothonotary in the usual manner. (Act 1919, Sec. 5, P. L. 852.)

Where two candidates at a primary election each presented to the court petitions for a recount of the ballots on account of alleged frauds in certain named election precincts, and, after the recount of the county commissioners, the court upon an appeal, by one of the candidates, from the recount of the county commissioners inquired only into the frauds alleged in the districts covered by the petition of the appellant, and threw out sufficient votes to give the appellant the nomination, the candidate returned by the county commissioners as nominated had no standing to urge that the court should continue the inquiry so as to include an investigation into the precincts covered by the petition, which he had originally filed in the court, where he failed to appeal from the recount of the county commissioners within the time prescribed by the statute. Phillips Appeal—262 Pa. 396.

County Commissioners Shall Certify to Secretary of Commonwealth Returns of Votes Cast for Certain Candidates—Secretary of Commonwealth Shall Tabulate Returns for Each Candidate and Certify the Result to the Commissioners of Each County—Names of Presidential Electors to be Certified to County Commissioners by Secretary of Commonwealth.

Secretary of Commonwealth Shall Tabulate Returns for Each Candidate for President. Make Public Announcement Thereof, and Forward Copy of Statement to Commissioners of Each County.

56. * * * The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall forthwith prepare a statement from said returns, showing the total number of votes cast in the State, and in each Congressional district of the State, for each candidate of each political party for nomination as President of the United States, and shall make public announcement thereof. He shall also, forthwith, send a duplicate of such statement to the county commissioners of each county. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 16, P. L. 735.)

ARTICLE VI.

†NOMINATIONS BY NOMINATION PAPERS—HOW MADE.

How Nominations by Nomination Papers Shall be Made by Qualified Electors.

1. Nominations of candidates for any public office may * * * be made by nomination papers, signed by qualified electors of the State or of the electoral district or division thereof for which the nomination is made, and filed in the proper office as provided in section five of this act. Blank forms for making such nomination shall be furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and no other form than the ones so prescribed shall be used for such purposes. Where the nomination is for any office to be filled by the voters of the State-at-large, the number of qualified electors of the State signing such nomination paper shall be at least one-half of one per centum of the largest vote for any officer elected in the State at the last preceding election at which a State officer was voted for. In the case of all other nominations, the number of qualified electors of the electoral district or division signing such nomination paper shall be at least two per centum of the largest entire vote for any officer elected at the last preceding election in the said electoral district or division for which said nomination papers are designed to be made. Each elector signing a nomination paper shall add to his signature his place of residence and occupation, and no person may subscribe to more than one nomination for each office to be filled. The signatures to each nomination paper and the qualification of the signers shall be vouched for by the affidavit of at least five of the signers thereof, which affidavit shall accompany the nomination paper: Provided, That if five of the electors composing any political body making a nomination by nomination papers shall file, with the prothonotary of the county in which the nomination paper or papers are to be filed, an affidavit setting forth that they have adopted a certain political appellation to designate their policy, subject to the limitations of this act regarding the selection of names, that thereafter such political body shall have the exclusive right to use the said name or appellation for the election for which such nomination or nominations are made, provided that a certificate from the prothonotary setting forth such a compliance with the act be filed with the nomination papers filed by such political body: And provided further, That if five electors, composing any political body as hereinbefore provided, shall file an affidavit, as aforesaid, setting forth that they have adopted a certain political name or appellation to designate their policy for the purpose of making nominations for ward officers or officers to be elected in any ward, such affidavit shall give to such body of electors the exclusive right to use the said name or appellation for the nomination of any candidates for any precinct or other subdivision of such ward for the election for which such nominations are made. (Act 1919 Sec. 1, P. L. 855.)

The pre-emption of a party name for State purposes does not give to the pre-emptors, or the body represented by them, the exclusive right to control the use of that name in the nominations of candidates for every local or district office.

Where five electors of a congressional district file with the prothonotary of their county, as required by the Act of July 9, 1897, P. L. 223, an affidavit setting forth that they had adopted the name of a certain party to designate their policy in the election of a congressman from that district; and, following this pre-emption, the nomination paper, properly signed by a sufficient number of electors, residents of the district, is filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, accompanied by a certificate from the prothonotary, setting forth compliance with the act; and the pre-emption is first in point of time so far as the district nomination is concerned, and there is a strict compliance with the act of 1897 in the preparation, signing and filing of the nomination paper; a prima facie case in favor of the validity of the nomination paper is made out and the paper is not rendered invalid by reason of its not having the approval of the political body represented by five electors who at a prior date had pre-empted the name of such party to designate their policy in the nomination of candidates for State offices. Wakefield's Appeal (No. 1), 229 Pa. 582.

The nomination of a candidate for congress who first secures the pre-emption of a party name and files nomination papers in compliance with the law will be declared regular, where no question of fraud, misrepresentation or bad faith is raised on the record. Wakefield's Appeal (No. 2), 229 Pa. 585.

†See Article V for Primary Elections, and Article VII for Non-Partisan Nominations.

In case the court is in session, one or more judges thereof shall proceed to hear such objections without unnecessary adjournment or delay, and shall give such hearing precedence before any other business before him or them. With respect to papers filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, such objections shall be heard and finally determined at least thirty days before the day of election, and in all other cases at least eighteen days before the day of election. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 2, P. L. 833.)

Objections Must be Accompanied by Proof of Service—Court May Require Defective Papers to be Amended—Petitioner to Pay Costs When Objections not Sustained—Papers May be Amended After Having Been Filed.

8. * * * In case the court is not in session, any judge thereof, on the presentation to him of the certificate of the prothonotary that such objections have been filed, shall proceed to hear such objections. No objection of any nature whatever shall be filed unless accompanied by proof of service of notice of the proposed objection upon at least one of the candidates named in the paper objected to, nor shall any objection be heard in the absence of any of the said candidates without proof of service of notice of the hearing upon them. If the court decide that the paper objected to was not filed by parties entitled under this act to file the same, it shall be wholly void; but if it be judged defective only, the court shall indicate the matters in which it requires amendment, and the time within which such amendments must be made, and every paper amended after the time when names therein contained should have been sent to the sheriff, shall be subject to the provisions of this act concerning substituted nominations.

The officers with whom nomination papers have been filed shall permit the political parties or bodies who have filed them to amend them, of their own motion, at any time prior to the printing of the ballot. (Act 1919, Sec. 2, P. L. 833.)

ARTICLE VII.

†NON-PARTISAN NOMINATIONS—HOW MADE.

All Candidates for Judge of Any Court of Record Shall be Nominated on Non-Partisan Ballot—Definitions.

1. * * * All candidates for * * * the office of judge of any court of record, whether such office of judge be filled by the vote of the electors of the State at large or of the electors of any county or judicial district in the State, shall be nominated in accordance with the provisions of this act, and in no other manner. The term "office of judge" or "office of judge of any court," when used in this act, shall mean the office of judge of any court of record. (Act 1913, Sec. 1, P. L. 1001.)

An election law is not unconstitutional because it abolishes party nominations for certain offices. The organic law is silent upon the right of the parties to make nominations for offices, and hence the Legislature necessarily has a very wide discretion in such matters.

The Act of July 24, 1913, P. L. 1001, which relates only to the office of judge, and provides a method of electing judges throughout the Commonwealth, does not offend against Article VIII, Section 7, of the Constitution, providing that "all laws regulating the holding of elections shall be uniform throughout the State." Uniform operation means that the same law shall apply to all persons placed in the same circumstances, and a law which operates upon every person who is a candidate for the office of judge is uniform. Winston, Appellant v. Moore, 244 Pa. 447.

Non-Partisan Nominations Shall be Made at the Regular Primary Held for Other Offices—Nominations for Office of Judge by Political Parties Prohibited.

2. Candidates for * * * (judge of any court of record), to be filled at any election, shall be nominated in the manner hereinafter provided, at the regular primary provided by law for the nomination of candidates for other offices to be filled at such election; and all laws relating to such primaries shall continue to be in force and to be applicable to the said offices in so far as may be consistent with the provisions of this act. No nomination by any political party of any candidate for any such office shall hereafter be made under any law of this Commonwealth. (Act 1913, Sec. 2, P. L. 1001.)

County Commissioners to Prepare all Non-Partisan Primary Ballots—Ballots to be Uniform as to Paper, Size and Style.

3. Official primary ballots, hereinafter called "non-partisan primary ballots," for the said offices, shall be prepared for the primary by the county commissioners. These non-partisan primary ballots shall be printed on white paper of uniform quality, and shall be uniform in size, style of printing, and general appearance, and but one form of non-partisan primary ballots shall be provided for each polling-place. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 1, P. L. 745.)

Non-Partisan Primary Ballot—Form and Marking of—How Names of Candidates Shall Appear on—Non-Partisan Ballot to be also Printed on Regular Party Ballots.

4. * * * The non-partisan primary ballot shall be substantially in the following form:—

* * * Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed blank spaces, defined by light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart, equal in number to the number of candidates for whom an elector would be entitled to vote for such office at the ensuing election.

On the back of such ballot shall be printed in prominent type the words OFFICIAL NON-PARTISAN PRIMARY BALLOT, and there shall also appear on the back of such ballot the facsimile signatures of the county commissioners of the county. The ballots shall vary in form only as the names of districts, offices, or candidates, or the provisions of this act may require.

* * * The names of candidates for the office of judge shall be printed on the ballot, and the order of precedence shall be determined by casting of lots in the manner hereinafter provided. Opposite or under the name of each candidate who is to be voted for by the electors of more than one county shall be printed the name of the county in which such candidate resides; and opposite or under the name of each candidate who is to be voted for by the electors of the entire county shall be printed the name of the township, borough, or ward and city, as the case may be, in which such candidate resides.

A copy of the non-partisan ballot shall also be printed on the regular party ballots in a separate column, and all votes cast on party ballots for non-partisan candidates shall be counted and returned in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if cast on a separate non-partisan ballot. The regular party ballots shall not have printed on the back thereof anything to denote that they are non-partisan primary ballots. No ballots other than those provided for in this section shall be used at such primary election for such offices.

If two or more candidates for the same office shall have the same surname or similar surnames, the county commissioners shall, upon the request of any of said candidates filed in writing not later than five days after the last day for filing nomination petitions, print the occupation of any such candidates so filing a request on the ballot opposite or under his name. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 1, P. L. 745.)

How Voter May Designate Choice—Shall Not Vote for Greater Number of Persons Than Can be Voted for at General Election—How Improperly Marked Ballots Shall be Counted.

5. * * * The voter may designate his choice as indicated by the instructions shown on the form of ballot above set forth. He may vote for no greater number of persons for nomination to any office than the number for which he could vote at the succeeding election for the same office. If he shall vote for a greater number of persons for nomination to any office than he would have a right to vote for at the ensuing election, his ballot shall not be counted for such office; but the rest of his ballot if properly marked shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice. (Act 1919, Sec. 1, P. L. 745.)

Names of Candidates for Judge to be Printed on Non-Partisan Primary Ballot Upon the Filing of Nomination Petitions and Candidates' Affidavit—Petition or Affidavit Shall Not Refer to Any Party or Policy—Party Membership Not Necessary to Qualify Persons to be Candidate or Sign Petition.

6. The names of all candidates for nomination at any primary, for * * * (Judge of any court of record), shall be printed upon the official non-partisan primary ballot at such primary, upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf, signed by qualified electors of the State, or of the political district or division, as the case may be, within which the nomination is to be made, and the filing of affidavits by the candidates as provided by this act; and the names of no candidates for any of said offices shall be printed upon any official non-partisan primary ballot to be used at any primary unless such nomination petitions shall have been filed, and unless such candidates shall have filed affidavits as hereinafter provided. The petitions and affidavits herein required shall contain no reference to any political party or policy; and party membership shall not be necessary to qualify any person to be a candidate, or to be a signer of a nomination petition, within the provisions of this act. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 4, P. L. 1004.)

Signers to Petition to Sign But One Petition for Each Office to be Filled—Declaration of Signer—Time of Signing Petition.

7. * * * Each signer of a nomination petition shall sign but one such petition for each office to be filled, and shall declare therein that he has signed no inconsistent petition: Provided, however, That where there are to be elected two or more persons to the same office, each signer may sign petitions for as many candidates for such office as, and no more than, he could vote for at the succeeding election. He shall also declare therein that he is a qualified elector of the county named in the sheet which he signs, and, in case the nomination is not to be made by the electors of the State at large, of the political district or division therein named in which the nomination is to be made. He shall add his occupation and residence, giving city, borough, or township, with street and number, if any, and shall also add the date of signing. No nomination petition shall be circulated prior to forty (40) days before the last day on which such petition may be filed, and no signature shall be counted unless it bears date within forty (40) days of the last day for filing same. * * * (Act 1917, Sec. 1, P. L. 242.)

Nomination Petitions May be on One or More Sheets—Each Sheet to be Accompanied by an Affidavit of Witness—Contents of Affidavit.

8. * * * Said nomination petition may be on one or more sheets, and different sheets must be used for signers resident in different counties. Each sheet shall have appended thereto the affidavit of some person—not necessarily a signer, and not necessarily the same person on each sheet—setting forth that the affiant is a qualified elector of the State, or of the political district or division, as the case may be, referred to in said petition; his residence, giving city, borough, or township, with street and number, if any; that the signers signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition, that their respective residences are correctly stated therein, that they all reside in the county named in the affidavit, and that each signed on the date set opposite his name; and that, to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief, signers are qualified electors of the State, or of the political district or division, as the case may be. * * * (Act 1917, Sec. 1, P. L. 242.)

What Affidavit Filed With Candidate's Nomination Petition Shall Embrace.

9. * * * Each candidate shall file with his nomination petition his affidavit stating his residence, with street and number, if any, and his post-office address, his election district, the name of the office for which he desires to be a candidate, that he is eligible for such office, and that he will not knowingly violate any election law or any law regulating and limiting nomination and election expenses and prohibiting corrupt practices in connection therewith. (Act 1913, Sec. 4, P. L. 1001.)

The provisions of the Act of July 24, 1913, P. L. 1001, which require a candidate for nomination to file with his petition an affidavit stating his residence, his post office address, his election district, the name of the office for which he is a candidate, and other matters, relating to his candidacy, are not such restrictions on the rights of the electors as to justify the courts in declaring the act void. Winston, Appellant, v. Moore, 244 Pa. 447.

Where Nomination Petitions Shall be Filed—Candidates to Cast Lots for Position on Ballot—Number of Signers Required and Time of Filing—Manner of Filling Vacancy on Nomination Petition Where Candidate Named in Original Petition Dies Before the Primary.

10. The nominating petitions, in the case of candidates for the office of judge, shall be filed, at least forty days prior to the primary with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Immediately after the last day fixed for filing of such nomination petitions with him, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall fix a day for the casting of lots for the position of names upon the primary ballot, and shall give notice to the candidates to appear before him for that purpose. Such candidates shall appear in person or by agent duly authorized by letter of attorney signed and acknowledged by an officer empowered to take acknowledgments. In the event of any of said candidates not being present in person or by representative at the time of casting of lots, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to appoint some person to represent such absentee. After said lots are cast, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall establish the order in which the names of said candidates are to appear upon the primary ballot, and certify the same to the county commissioners of the respective counties. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 2, P. L. 750.)

Nomination petitions of candidates shall be signed:

- (a) If for the office of judge to be filled by a vote of the electors of the State at large, by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least five counties of the State.
- (b) If for the office of judge of any court of record other than a court whose judges are elected by a vote of the electors of the State at large, by at least two hundred qualified electors of the county or judicial district, as the case may be.

Where a nomination petition has been duly filed under the provisions of this act, and thereafter, and before the day of the primary, the candidate named in said petition dies, the original signers of said petition, or the majority of them, may sign and file another petition proposing a new candidate for the same office, at any time prior to the printing of the non-partisan primary ballot. Said petition so filed shall have the same force and effect as the original petition. (Act 1919, Sec. 2, P. L. 750.)

For What Causes Non-Partisan Nomination Petitions May be Refused—Invalidity of Any Sheet of a Petition Shall Not Affect Validity of Petition if Sufficient Petition Remains—Time and Manner of Making Application for Setting Aside Petition—Court After Hearing May Permit Petition to be Amended—Petitioner to Pay Costs When Objections Not Sustained.

11. No nomination petition, with the aforesaid appended and accompanying affidavits, shall be refused or set aside, except for:—

- (a) Material error or defects apparent on the face thereof, or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavits; or
- (b) Material alterations made after signing, without the consent of the signers; or
- (c) Want of a sufficient number of genuine signatures of persons qualified with respect to age, sex, residence, and citizenship to be electors.

The invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition, if a sufficient petition remain after eliminating such invalid sheet.

Application to set aside any nomination petition shall be by petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such nomination petition has been filed, setting forth specifically the matters objected to, and must be filed within five days after the last day for filing said nomination petition. Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing a time for hearing, which shall not be later than ten days after the last day for filing said nomination petition, and specifying the time and manner of notice that shall be given to the candidate named in the nomination petition sought to be set aside.

If the matters objected to are such as are specified in subdivision (a) of this section, the court upon hearing the case may, in its discretion, permit amendments, within such time and upon such terms as to payment of costs as the said court may specify.

In case the petition to set aside a nomination petition is dismissed, the petitioner shall pay the whole of the costs of the proceedings, including all witness fees. (Act 1913, Sec. 6, P. L. 1001.)

Secretary of the Commonwealth Shall Furnish County Commissioners With Correct List of Candidates for Various Offices and also Notify Candidates That Their Names Have Been Certified to County Commissioners.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth, immediately after the last day fixed for the filing of said petitions with him, shall forward to the county commissioners of each county a correct list of candidates for the various offices, as shown in such petitions, with their respective residences and postoffice addresses as shown in their affidavits, and shall also at the same time notify the said candidates by mail that their names have been so certified to said county commissioners. (Act 1913, Sec. 7, P. L. 1001.)

County Commissioners Shall Prepare and Furnish Official and Specimen Non-Partisan Primary Ballots—Number of Each Kind of Ballots to be Printed—Official Ballots to be Bound—To Whom Ballots Shall be Delivered.

14. The county commissioners shall prepare, and furnish to the election officers of each election district for use at the primary, one set of official non-partisan primary ballots, of not less than seventy-five for every fifty and fraction of fifty voters therein, as contained upon the assessor's or registrars' list.

The county commissioners shall also furnish specimen non-partisan primary ballots for the use of electors at the polls, equal in number to one-fourth the whole number of official non-partisan primary ballots; said specimen ballots to be printed on colored paper, and to be of the same size and form as said official ballots.

The official non-partisan primary ballots shall be bound, in books of one hundred each, in the same manner as ballots at elections; and shall be delivered to the officers of election in the same manner as ballots are or hereafter may be required by law to be delivered to officers of election, for use at elections. (Act 1913, Sec. 9, P. L. 1001.)

All Qualified Electors May Vote at Non-Partisan Primaries—Party Membership Shall Not be Necessary.

15. The qualifications of electors entitled to vote for candidates for * * * (judge of any court of record) at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held; except that, with respect to the payment of taxes, it shall be sufficient if an elector shall have paid within two years before the next succeeding election a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months before said election, and paid on or before the day of the primary, and, in cases where personal registration is required, on or before the registration day on which the elector registers. Party membership shall not be necessary to entitle any person to receive and vote a non-partisan primary ballot at any primary at which a candidate for any such office is to be nominated. (Act 1913, Sec. 10, P. L. 1001.)

Delivery of Ballot to Voter and Manner of Voting—Enrolled Elector to Receive Party Ballot with Non-Partisan Ballot Printed Thereon—Disposition of Spoiled Ballots—Marking and Depositing of Ballots.

16. Any qualified elector who shall ask for and who is entitled to receive a party ballot shall be given the party ballot to which he is entitled, which shall contain the non-partisan primary ballot as provided for in this act, and shall not receive any separate non-partisan primary ballot. Any qualified elector who desires to vote only, or is entitled to receive only, a non-partisan primary ballot, shall be given a separate non-partisan primary ballot and no other ballot. Not more than one non-partisan primary ballot shall be given to a voter: Provided, however, That where a voter inadvertently spoils a non-partisan primary ballot, he may obtain another as provided by law, first returning the spoiled ballot, which shall be canceled, preserved, and returned as in like cases at elections.

The voter shall mark said non-partisan primary ballot, and deposit it in the ballot-box at the same time he marks and deposits the party ballot, if any. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 3, P. L. 751.)

18. * * * When, after the closing of the polls at a primary, the ballots are taken from the ballot-box, the election officers shall, after counting and making a record of the number of ballots for each party, count the number of non-partisan primary ballots cast, and make a record thereof; and, after counting the vote cast for the different persons named on the party ballots and making a record thereof, shall count the vote cast for the different persons named on the non-partisan primary ballots and make a record thereof; and when said count is finally completed they shall certify, in due and proper form, to the number of votes cast for each person upon the non-partisan primary ballots, in addition to certifying the party vote as provided by law. All votes cast for any non-partisan candidate on the non-partisan ballot which is printed on the regular party ballots shall be counted and added to the votes cast for such candidate on the separate non-partisan primary ballots, and the total thus obtained shall be certified by the election officers, together with the record of the party vote as herein provided. (Act 1919, Sec. 3, P. L. 751.)

County Commissioners Shall Certify to Secretary of Commonwealth Returns of Votes Cast for Candidates for Judge—Secretary of Commonwealth Shall Tabulate Returns for Each Candidate and Certify the Result and the Order of Precedence of the Candidates on the Ballot to County Commissioners.

19. The county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination, for all offices of judge of any court, to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the county commissioners of the respective counties the computation of the vote, at least thirty days prior to the date of the succeeding election. Immediately after the county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, it shall also be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the manner hereinafter provided, to establish the order of precedence of said names on the ballots, and certify the same to the county commissioners of the respective counties, at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the succeeding election. (Act 1919, Sec. 4, P. L. 753.)

Who Shall be Declared the Nominees—Whenever any Candidate for Nomination to an Office Receives a Number of Votes Greater than One-half of the Total Votes Cast at Such Primary He Shall be Declared the Sole Nominee for Such Office—No other Names Shall Appear Upon Ballot.

20. The candidates for nomination at any primary for any office within the provisions of this act, to be filled at the succeeding election, equal in number to twice the number to be elected at the succeeding election, who shall have received at such primary the highest number of votes cast for nomination to the office for which they are candidates (or if the number of the candidates voted for as aforesaid be not more than twice the number to be elected, then all the candidates), shall be the nominees for such office; and their names, and none other except as hereinafter provided, shall be printed as candidates for such respective offices upon the official ballots which are provided according to law for use at such succeeding election: Provided, That whenever, at any primary, any candidate for nomination to any of the aforesaid offices to which but one person is to be elected at the succeeding election shall receive a number of votes greater than one-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary, such candidate shall be the sole nominee for such office; and his name, and none other, shall be printed as candidate for such office upon the official ballots for use at such succeeding election: And provided further That whenever, at any primary nominations are to be made of candidates to fill two or more vacancies in any appellate or other court of record, composed of two or more judges, if any one or more such candidates shall receive a number of votes greater than one-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary, then, and in such event, each of such candidates shall be the sole nominee for one of the respective vacancies in such office. One-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary shall be ascertained by taking the total number of votes cast for all the candidates for such office and dividing such total vote of all such candidates by the number of persons each voter is entitled to vote for at such primary for such office, and this quotient shall be divided by two, and any candidate who receives a greater number of votes than the result obtained by the above method of ascertainment shall have met the requirement hereinbefore provided. If it appears that less than the whole number of candidates for such office to be elected at the ensuing election have received the required number of votes hereinbefore specified, then, and in such event, he or they who have received that number of votes at the primary shall be the sole nominee or nominees for that number of vacancies in such office; and his name or their names, and none other, shall be printed as candidates for that number of vacancies in and for such office, upon the official ballots for use at such succeeding election. If it appear that more than the whole number of candidates for such office to be elected at the ensuing election have received the required number of votes hereinbefore specified, then the candidates equal to the number of vacancies in such office who received the highest number of votes shall be the sole nominees for such office. The number of candidates for any remaining vacancy or vacancies in such office, for which the primary has declared no sole nominee or nominees as herein just provided, and the manner of their election, shall remain as provided by existing law. In the event of one or more candidates being sole nominees, as above provided, there shall be two groups of names of candidates on the ballots, the names of such sole nominees being in one group, and the names of other candidates in the other. * * *

The provisions in the Act of July 24, 1913, P. L. 1001, which limits the names of candidates to be printed on the official ballot to the two who polled the highest vote at the preceding primary, is not in violation of the Constitution.

The section of the Act of July 24, 1913, P. L. 1001, providing in substance, that when only one person is to be elected to a particular office, and there are several candidates at the primary, the one who receives more than one-half the total vote polled for such office, and more than one-half of the number of ballots cast in the political district or division, such candidate shall be the sole nominee for the office, and his name alone shall be printed as a candidate upon the official ballot, is not so unreasonable and discriminatory as to amount to a violation of the elector's constitutional rights. Winston, Appellant v. Moore, 224 Pa. 447.

Who Shall be Declared the Nominee in Case of a Tie Vote.

21. * * * In case of a tie, the candidates receiving the tie vote shall appear and cast lots before * * * the Secretary of the Commonwealth, * * * on the third Friday after the primary, and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination: Provided, in any case where the fact of a tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after the third Wednesday after the day of the primary, the day for appearing and casting lots shall be the second day after the day on which the fact of such tie vote is authoritatively determined. If any candidate or candidates receiving a tie vote fail to appear before twelve o'clock noon on said day, * * * the Secretary of the Commonwealth, * * * shall cast lots for him or them. For the purpose of casting lots any candidate may appear in person or by proxy appointed in writing. (Act 1919, Sec. 5, P. L. 753.)

Filling of Vacancies on Ticket After the Primary—Candidate Receiving Next Highest Vote to be Nominee—Candidate May be Nominated by Nomination Papers When Nominations Have Not Been Made—Time for Filing Said Nomination Petitions—Duty of Secretary of Commonwealth in Relation Thereto—Stickers to be Provided by County Commissioners When Nomination is Made After Ballots Are Printed.

22. If after any primary and before the succeeding election any candidate nominated * * * (for judge of any court of record) shall die, or shall by virtue of any present or future law be disqualified to have his name printed on the ballot for the election, a vacancy shall be deemed to exist, which shall be filled by the otherwise unnominated and not so disqualified candidate for the same office next in rank with respect to the number of votes received at such primary. If after any primary and before the succeeding election there should not be any candidate whatever nominated living, and entitled to have his name printed on the ballot for * * * (for judge of any court of record), and which is to be filled at the succeeding election, or not enough of such candidates for any such office to equal the number of persons to be elected thereto at the succeeding election, other candidates may be nominated for such office, with the same effect as though nominated at the primary, by the filing of nomination petitions on behalf of and affidavits by such candidates, in the manner and form and according to the directions hereinbefore provided in sections four and five of this act with respect to getting the name of a candidate for such office printed upon the ballot for the primary, varied in so far as may be necessary to fit the different purpose. Such nomination petitions and affidavits may, nevertheless, in such cases, be filed at any time after the primary and before the succeeding election; but as soon as enough of such after-primary nomination petitions shall have been filed to provide a number of candidates, including any previously nominated and still remaining available, equal to twice the number of persons to be elected to the office, no more such petitions shall be received. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, immediately upon the filing of any such after-primary petition and its accompanying affidavit in proper form in his office, forward to the county commissioners of the county or counties whose electors are entitled to vote at the election for the office a written statement of the name, residence, and post-office address of the candidate therein named, as shown in his affidavit, as well as the name of the office for which he is a candidate; and shall at the same time notify the said candidate, by mail, that his name has been so certified to the county commissioners. As soon as any such substituted or additional candidate shall have been duly nominated as herein provided, his name shall be used by the proper officers as though he had been nominated at the primary, so far as time will allow; and in case such after-primary nomination be filed with or transmitted to the county commissioners after the ballots have been printed, the said commissioners shall prepare and distribute, with the ballots, suitable slips of paper bearing the substituted or added name, together with the title of the office, and having adhesive paste upon the reverse side, which shall be offered to each voter with the regular ballot, and may be affixed thereto. (Act 1913, Sec. 14, P. L. 1001.)

In all other cases within the purview of this section, candidates for such office shall be nominated, with the same effect, as though nominated at a primary, by the filing of nomination petitions on behalf of and affidavits by such candidates, in the manner and form and according to the directions hereinbefore provided in sections four and five of this act with respect to getting the name of a candidate for such office printed upon the ballot for the primary, varied in so far as may be necessary to fit the different purpose. Any number of candidates may be so nominated. Such nomination petitions and affidavits shall be filed the same length of time prior to the election as corresponding nomination petitions are required to be filed before a primary, and shall be filed in the same office; and the same proceedings shall be had with respect thereto, with relation to the election, as herein provided with respect to a primary: Provided, however, Said nomination petitions shall not be deemed to be filed too late if filed within ten days after such vacancy happened. (Act 1913, Sec. 15, P. L. 1001.)

Section 5. Art. 1, of the Constitution of 1874, declaring that "all elections shall be free and equal," means that the voter shall not be physically restrained in the exercise of his right by either civil or military authorities; and that every voter shall have the same right as any other voter. It was not intended to prohibit a limited voting plan by which voters are restricted from voting for the whole number of officers of a certain kind. Commonwealth ex rel. v. Reeder, 171 Pa. 505.

The declaration in the bill of rights that elections shall be free and equal means that the voter shall not be physically restrained in the exercise of his right of franchise by either civil or military authority, and that every voter shall have the same right as any other voter. Winston, Appellant v. Moore, 244 Pa. 447.

(Art. 8, Sec. 11, Constitution.)

Formation of Election Districts—Power of Courts of Quarter Sessions in.

2. The courts of quarter sessions shall have authority within their respective counties to divide any borough, ward or township into two or more election districts, to alter the bounds of any election district, or to form an election district out of parts of two or more adjoining townships so as to suit the convenience of the inhabitants thereof, and to fix the place of holding elections and appoint the election officers pursuant to the provisions of section (one) of this act: Provided, That no district so formed shall contain less than one hundred voters, and the proceedings had in the case of such division or alteration shall be the same as in the erection or alteration of the lines of townships. (Act 1876, Sec. 3, P. L. 178.)

This section is unconstitutional in so far as it commands the court to confirm the report of the commissioners, unless excepted to within a limited time; and the court may proceed to divide a township under Const. 1874, Art. Provided, That this change shall not be made within less than three days of the election, except in cases where the building in which the election was to be held is destroyed by fire: Provided further, That this act shall not apply to cities of the first class. ARTICLE XI.

†ELECTORS.

Race, Color, or Previous Condition of Servitude no Bar to Rights of.

1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. (15th Amend., Sec. 1, U. S. Constitution.)

Qualifications of—Age—Residence—Citizenship—Taxes.

2. Every male citizen,† twenty-one years of age,§ possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections, subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact:

First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month. Second. He shall have resided in the State one year, (or, having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election. Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election. Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he shall have paid, within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election. (Art 8, Sec. 1, Constitution.)

The words "shall be entitled to vote at all elections," in Sec. 1, Art. 8, of the Constitution of 1874, are exactly equivalent to the words "shall enjoy the rights of an elector," in Sec. 1, Art. 3, of the Constitution of 1838. Both expressions mean that the citizen shall not be entitled to vote if he does not possess the enumerated qualifications and every of them; but that if he does possess them all, then he is an elector, and entitled to vote as the law may prescribe. Commonwealth ex rel. v. Reeder, 171 Pa. 505.

Where real estate is assessed in a firm name, and it appears that the property is actually owned by the two members of the firm as tenants in common, and that the tax has been paid, the members of the firm have paid a tax sufficient to become qualified electors within the meaning of the election laws.

†For Enrollment of Voters for Primary Elections, see Article 1; for Registration of Electors in cities of the first, second and third classes, see Articles II, III and IV.

‡A female is not a qualified elector in this State. Burnham v. Launing, 9 Phila., 241.

¶This means two full calendar months. Reifsnelder v. Musser, 12 W. N. C. 155.

The Constitution makes no requirement that the tax shall be assessed against the elector by name, or personally, or as owner of property in severalty. If it is against ascertained property, and he, being in fact the owner, pays it, the requirement is fulfilled. A blunder of the assessor in the form of the assessment cannot deprive the elector of his constitutional right.

On a judicial inquiry into an elector's right to vote the court may go behind the tax records and ascertain the real facts. Commonwealth v. Shrontz, 213 Pa. 327.

Electors Privileged from Arrest While Attending Elections.

3. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of surety of the peace, be privileged from arrest, during their attendance on election, and in going to and returning therefrom. (Art. 8, Sec. 5, Constitution.)

When Electors Shall not Gain or Lose Residence.

For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained a residence, by reason of his presence, or lost it by reason of his absence, while employed in the service, either civil or military, of this State or of the United States, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State nor of the United States, or on the high seas, nor while a student of any institution of learning, nor while kept in any poor-house or other asylum, at public expense, nor while confined in public prisons. (Art. 8, Sec. 13, Constitution.)

A student at an institution of learning cannot ordinarily acquire a residence there; his residence remains with his parents. Fry's App., 71 Pa. 302.

Where Citizens Temporarily Absent in Government Employ May Vote.

5. Citizens of this State temporarily in the service of the State or of the United States governments, on clerical or other duty, and who do not vote where thus employed, shall not be thereby deprived of the right to vote in their several election districts if otherwise duly qualified. (Act 1869, Sec. 19, P. L. 55.)

Electors in Actual Military Service May Vote.

6. Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in actual military service, under a requisition from the President of the United States, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage, in all elections by the citizens, under such regulations as are or shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual places of election. (Art. 8, Sec. 6, Constitution.)

Electors not to Vote Outside Election District in Which Domiciled.

7. From and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any voter in this Commonwealth, except when in actual military service of this State, or of the United States, at any election authorized by law to cast his ballot at any polling-place outside the lawfully designated election district in which he is domiciled. (Act 1893, Sec. 1, P. L. 107.)

Bribery Forfeits Right to Vote.

8. Any person who shall give, or promise, or offer to give, to an elector, any money, reward, or other valuable consideration, for his vote at an election, or for withholding the same, or who shall give, or promise to give, such consideration to any other person or party, for such elector's vote, or for withholding thereof, and any elector who shall receive, or agree to receive, for himself, or for another, any money, reward, or other valuable consideration, for his vote at an election, or for withholding the same shall thereby forfeit the right to vote at such election; and any elector whose right to vote shall be challenged for such cause before the election officers shall be required to swear or affirm that the matter of the challenge is untrue, before his vote shall be received. (Art. 8, Sec. 8, Constitution.)

Persons Convicted of Violation of Election Laws Deprived of Right to Vote for Four Years.

9. * * * Any person convicted of wilful violation of the election laws, shall, in addition to any penalties provided by law, be deprived of the right of suffrage absolutely for a term of four years. (Art. 8, Sec. 9, Constitution.)

All Freemen to be Registered and When Otherwise Qualified, Entitled to Vote.

10. * * * All freemen, without distinction of color, shall be enrolled and registered * * * and shall, when otherwise qualified under existing laws, be entitled to vote at all general and special elections in this Commonwealth. * * * (Act 1870, Sec. 10, P. L. 55.)

†Voters in Cities of First and Second Classes Must Register to Vote—Registered Voters May be Challenged.

11. Any person (in cities of the first class) whose name is on the register shall be entitled to vote at any general or municipal election, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the election officers that he has become disqualified since registration. Any person whose name is registered and also enrolled as a member of a political party may vote the ballot of said party at the primary or primaries succeeding such registration without being subject to any challenge regarding his party membership: Provided, That no elector registered and enrolled as a member of any one particular party shall be allowed to receive or vote the ballot of any other political party at any primary election, and that any qualified elector registered, although not enrolled as aforesaid, shall be permitted to vote a non-partisan ballot according to any law providing for same at any primary election: And provided further, That the presence of any person's name on the register shall not be conclusive evidence of his qualifications as to length of residence at the time of any primary or special election which may intervene between the day of his registration and the next general or municipal election, but, if challenged regarding such qualification, he shall produce such further proof as the law requires, before being permitted to vote. No one except a qualified elector who is in actual military or naval service under a requisition of the President of the United States or by the authority of this Commonwealth, shall be entitled to vote at any election or primary without being registered, except by order of the court of common pleas as herein provided regarding appealed cases; and any person, although registered, may be challenged at any election or primary as to his identity and residence, and, if challenged, he shall sign his name in the register marked "ballot check list" in the place provided for that purpose, if able to do so, and produce such other evidence as is or may be required by law to satisfy the election officers of his identity and residence. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 49, P. L. 880.)

Any person (in cities of the second class) whose name is on the register shall be entitled to vote at any general, special, primary or municipal election, unless it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the election officers that he has become disqualified since registration: Provided, That no person shall vote at a primary unless he has designated at the registration under the law the party whose ballot he desires to vote at the primary. And further provided, That, if a special election or Fall primary shall intervene between registration day and the next general or municipal election, the presence of the name of an elector on the list shall not be conclusive evidence of his qualifications as to length of residence or payment of taxes at said special election or primary. If his name is not registered he shall not be entitled to vote at any election or primary. Before receiving his ballot, every voter shall satisfy the election officers of his identity, and, if challenged, by signing his name in the place provided for that purpose, if able to do so, and by the production of such other evidence as is or may be required by law. * * * (Act 1913, Sec. 17, P. L. 990.)

†Voters in Cities of Third Class Must Register to Vote—Registered Voter May be Challenged.

12. Any person (in cities of the third class) whose name is on the register shall be entitled to vote at any general, special, municipal, or primary election, unless it shall be shown, to the satisfaction of the election officers, that he is no longer a resident of the election district in which he is registered: Provided, That if a special election shall intervene between registration day and the next general or municipal election, the presence of the name of an elector on the list shall only be prima facie evidence of his right to vote. If his name is not registered he shall not be entitled to vote at any election. Before receiving his ballot every voter shall satisfy the election officers of his identity, and, if challenged, by signing his name in the place provided for that purpose, if able to do so, and the production of such other evidence as is or may be required by law. (Act 1907, Sec. 5, P. L. 256.)

Non-Registered Voters, in Boroughs and Townships, to be Permitted to Vote Upon Proof of Qualification.

13. Every person qualified * * * and who shall make due proof, if required, of his residence and payment of taxes, * * * shall be admitted to vote in the township, ward or district (other than cities of the first, second and third classes) in which he shall reside. (Act 1839, Sec. 67, P. L. 534.)

What Proof Required on Election Day of Non-Registered Persons in Boroughs and Townships.

14. On the day of election (in districts other than cities of the first, second and third classes), any person whose name shall not appear on the registry of voters, and who claims the right to vote at said election, shall produce at least one qualified voter of the district as a witness to the residence of the claimant in the district in which he claims to be a voter, for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election, which witness shall be sworn or affirmed and subscribed a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit to the facts stated by him, which affidavit shall define clearly where the residence is of the person so claiming to be a voter; and the person so claiming the right to vote shall also take and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit, stating, to the best of his knowledge and belief, when and where he was born; that he has been a citizen of the United States for one month and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; that he has resided in the Commonwealth one year, or, if formerly a qualified elector or a native born citizen thereof, and has removed therefrom and returned, that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election; that he has resided in the district in which he claims to be a voter for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election; that he has not moved into the district for the purpose of voting therein; that he has, if twenty-two years of age or upwards, paid a State or county tax within two years, which was assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election. The said affidavit shall also state when and where the tax claimed to be paid by the affiant was assessed, and when and where and to whom paid; and the tax receipt therefor shall be produced for examination, unless the affiant shall state in his affidavit that it has been lost or destroyed, or that he never received any; and if a naturalized citizen shall also state when, where and by what court he was naturalized, and shall also produce his certificate of naturalization for examination. * * * (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 254.)

The proof of the right to vote must be made at the time when the right is claimed, or the vote will be illegal; it is too late to make the proof on the trial of a contested election. In re Contested Election of McDonough, 105 Pa. 488 s. c. 15 W. N. C. 49.

An affidavit that is merely defective from want of signature of the voter, or the witness, or that of the officer to the jurat, may be reformed by proof that due proof was made. But this cannot be done by a wholesale affidavit as to all defective proofs, referring to no particular paper; each affidavit must be reformed separately. In re Cusick's Election, 136 Pa. 459, s. c. 26 W. N. C. 425.

All the requisites of the act must be observed, however, and an affidavit by a witness stating in general terms that the voter has resided for the requisite time in the district, instead of clearly defining where the residence for the claimant was, is insufficient. In re Cusick's Election, 136 Pa. 459, s. c. 26 W. N. C. 425.

An affidavit that does not state when and where the voter was born, nor when and where the tax claimed, to have been paid by the affiant was assessed, and where and to whom paid, is defective. In re Cusick's Election, 136 Pa. 459 s. c. 26 W. N. C. 425, overruling, on the latter point.

Non-Registered Person, in Boroughs and Townships, Under Twenty-two Years of Age and Otherwise Qualified, May Vote Without Having Paid Tax.

15. * * * But if the (non-registered) person so claiming the right to vote (in cities other than cities of the first, second and third classes), shall take and subscribe an affidavit that he is a native-born citizen of the United States, or, if born elsewhere, shall state the fact in his affidavit, and shall produce evidence that he has been naturalized or that he is entitled to citizenship by reason of his father's naturalization, and shall further state in his affidavit that he is, at the time of making the affidavit, of the age of twenty-one and under twenty-two years; that he has been a citizen of the United States one month, and has resided in the State one year; or, if a native-born citizen of the State and removed therefrom and returned, that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election, and in the election district two months immediately preceding such election, and he shall be entitled to vote, although he shall not have paid taxes. * * * (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 254.)

†An elector to vote a Non-Partisan Nomination Ballot is not required to enroll as to his party preferences. In cities enrolled registered voters cannot be challenged at primaries as to party; see Article 5, Sec. 42.

Affidavits Offered in Proof of Qualification of Non-Registered Voter, in Boroughs and Townships, to be Preserved and Filed—Name to be Added to Registry List on Due Proof.

18. * * * The said affidavits of all persons making such claims (in districts other than cities of the first, second and third classes), and the affidavits of the witnesses to their residence shall be preserved by the election board, and at the close of the election they shall be inclosed with the list of voters, tally-list and other papers required by law to be filed by the return judge with the prothonotary, and shall remain on file therewith, in the prothonotary's office, subject to examination as other election papers are. If the election officers shall find that the applicant possesses all the legal qualifications of a voter he shall be permitted to vote, and his name shall be added to the list of taxables by the election officers, the word "tax," being added where the claimant claims to vote on tax and the word "age," where he claims to vote on age, the same words being added by the clerks in each case, respectively, on the lists of persons voting at such election. * * * (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 254.)

Registered Voters, in Boroughs and Townships, May be Challenged.

17. It shall be lawful for any qualified citizen of the district (in districts other than cities of the first, second and third classes), notwithstanding the name of the proposed voter is contained on the list of resident taxables, to challenge the vote of such person, whereupon the same proof of the right of suffrage, as is now required by law, shall be publicly made and acted on by the election board, and the vote admitted or rejected, according to the evidence. * * * (Act 1874, Sec. 11, P. L. 36.)

Electors Twenty-Two Years of Age or Upwards Must Have Paid Tax Within Two Years.

18. If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election. (Art. 8, Sec. 1, Constitution.)

Proper Tax Receipt to be Conclusive Evidence—How Payment May be Otherwise Proved.

19. * * * Where the person offering to vote claims the right on the payment of tax, the receipt for such tax, if signed by the proper officer, shall be the evidence thereof; if such person does not produce such receipt, then the payment of the tax may be proved by the oath of such person, or other evidence, stating when, where and to whom such tax was paid. (Act 1874, Sec. 3, P. L. 45.)

Naturalized Citizens to Produce Certificates—On Voting, Certificate to be Stamped—Penalties for Voting Second Time on, or Neglect to Stamp Certificate.

20. * * * Every person claiming to be naturalized citizen shall be required to produce his naturalization certificate, at the election, before voting, except where he has been for five years consecutively a voter in the district in which he offers his vote; and on the vote of such person being received, it shall be the duty of the election officers to write or stamp on such certificate the word "voted," with the day, month and year; and if any election officer or officers shall receive a second vote on the same day, by virtue of the same certificate excepting where sons are entitled to vote, because of the naturalization of their fathers, they and the person who shall offer such second vote shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court; but the fine shall not exceed five hundred dollars in each case, nor the imprisonment one year. The like punishment shall be inflicted, on conviction, on the officers of election who shall neglect or refuse to make, or cause to be made, the indorsement required as aforesaid on said naturalization certificate. (Act 1874, Sec. 11, P. L. 36.)

Certificate of Naturalization or Tax Receipt Conclusive Evidence of Facts Mentioned Therein.

21. In all elections, hereafter the certificate of naturalization, if genuine, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts mentioned therein; and where the person offering to vote claims the right on the payment of tax, the receipt for such tax, if signed by the proper officer, shall be the evidence thereof; if such person does not produce such receipt, then the payment of the tax may be proved by the oath of such person, or other evidence, stating when, where and to whom such tax was paid. (Act 1874, Sec. 3, P. L. 45.)

In any such proceedings the party holding the certificate of citizenship alleged to have been fraudulently or illegally procured shall have sixty days personal notice in which to make answer to the petition of the United States; and if the holder of such certificate be absent from the United States or from the district in which he last had his residence, such notice shall be given by publication in the manner provided for the service of summons by publication or upon absences by the laws of the State or the place where such suit is brought.

If any alien who shall have secured a certificate of citizenship under the provisions of this act shall, within five years after the issuance of such certificate, return to the country of his nativity, or go to any other foreign country, and take permanent residence therein, it shall be considered prima facie evidence of a lack of intention on the part of such alien to become a permanent citizen of the United States at the time of filing his application for citizenship, and, in the absence of countervailing evidence, it shall be sufficient in the proper proceeding to authorize the cancellation of his certificate of citizenship as fraudulent, and the diplomatic and consular offices of the United States in foreign countries shall from time to time, through the Department of State, furnish the Department of Justice with the names of those within their respective jurisdictions who have such certificates of citizenship and who have taken permanent residence in the country of their nativity, or in any other foreign country, and such statements, duly certified shall be admissible in evidence in all courts in proceedings to cancel certificates of citizenship.

Whenever any certificate of citizenship shall be set aside or canceled, as herein provided, the court in which such judgment or decree is rendered shall make an order cancelling such certificate of citizenship upon the records and to notify the Bureau of Naturalization of such Naturalization; and in case such certificate was not originally issued by the court making such order it shall direct the clerk of the court to transmit a copy of such order and judgment to the court out of which such certificate of citizenship shall have been originally issued. And it shall thereupon be the duty of the clerk of the court receiving such certified copy of the order and judgment of the court to enter the same of record and to cancel such original certificate of citizenship upon the records and to notify the Bureau of Naturalization of such cancellation.

The provisions of this section shall apply not only to certificates of citizenship issued under the provisions of this act, but to all certificates of citizenship which may have been issued heretofore by any court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings under prior laws. Not more than one ballot shall be given to a voter except as provided in section twenty-five of this act. Preparation of Ballot by Voter—How Ballots with Two Marks Shall be Counted.

5. On receipt of his ballot, the voter shall forthwith, and without leaving the space enclosed by the guard-rail, retire to one of the voting shelves or compartments, and draw a curtain, or shut the screen or door, and shall then prepare his ballot as follows:

If he desires to vote for every candidate of a political party, he may make a cross-mark in the appropriate square, opposite the name of the party of his choice, in the straight party column on the left of the ballot, and every such cross-mark shall be equivalent to a vote for every candidate for the party so marked: Provided, That the voter may make a cross-mark in the appropriate square, opposite the name of the party of his choice, in the straight party column on the left of the ballot, and may also make a cross-mark in the square to the right of any individual candidate whom he favors. In such case his vote shall be counted for all the candidates of the party in whose straight party column on the left of the ballot he placed such cross-mark, except for those offices for which he has indicated his choice by marking in the squares to the right of individual candidates, and his vote shall be counted for such individual candidates which he has thus particularly marked, notwithstanding the fact that he made a mark in the straight party column on the left of the ballot: Provided further, That in any case where more than one candidate is to be elected to any office, the voter shall, if he desires to divide his vote among candidates of different parties, make a cross (X) mark in the appropriate square, to the right of each candidate for whom he desires to vote, not exceeding the total number to be elected for such office, and no vote shall be counted for any candidate in such group not individually marked, notwithstanding the mark in the party square.

If he desires to vote for an entire group of Presidential electors, he may place a cross-mark in the appropriate square, at the right of the name of the party of his choice. If he desires to divide his vote among candidates from different groups of Presidential electors, he shall make a cross-mark in the appropriate square, to the right of the name of each candidate for Presidential elector for whom he desires to vote: Provided, That a mark in the straight party column, opposite the name of the party of his choice, shall also be counted as a mark for each Presidential elector nominated by such party.

He may vote, according to the above provisions, for the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled, according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office, or he may insert in the blank space provided therefor, in accordance with section fourteen of this act, any name not already on the ballot. And in case of a question submitted to the vote of the people, he may mark in the appropriate margin or space a cross (X), opposite the answer which he desires to give. In all cases where, by existing laws, a voter is entitled to cast more than one vote for a single candidate, he shall place in the appropriate square, instead of a cross (X), a number, which shall indicate the number of votes to be counted for the candidate whose name is so marked. * * * (Act 1919, Sec. 1, P. L. 829.)

Under act June 10, 1893, P. L. 419, regulating elections and directing that the voter "shall prepare his ballot by marking," the "marking" is applicable only to candidates whose names are printed on the official ballots.

In the case of persons "whose names are not already on the ballot," the only prescribed mode of voting, is by inserting their names in the blank spaces prepared therefor in the right hand column of the official ballot. It is the name only that is to be thus inserted, and not the title of the office to be filled.

A ballot should not be counted where the right hand column devoted to blank spaces is covered and obliterated by a slip ticket prepared with adhesive paste, in such a manner that the titles of the offices, direction for insertion of names, and the spaces indicated and defined by lines in the official ballot are covered, and the titles of offices, directions for marking, spaces and names provided therein on the prepared slip ticket, are substituted therefor. In re Little Beaver Township Election, 165 Pa. 233.

Where power has been given by statute to do a thing in a particular way, affirmative words, marking out the way, by necessary implication prohibits all other ways. In re Little Beaver Township Election, 165 Pa. 233.

This act is not unconstitutional; a name may be inserted by a printed adhesive slip. Dewalt v. Bartley, 148 Pa. 520.

Where the Republican column in a ballot contains the name of only one candidate for an office, and the Democratic column contains the name of two candidates, and two persons are to be elected, the voter may make a cross in the circle at the head of the Republican column, and may also make a cross in the square opposite the name of one of the Democratic candidates for the office. Gulick's Appeal, 192 Pa. 446.

Length of Time Voters May Remain in Compartment—When not to Re-enter Enclosed Space, or Compartment Already Occupied.

No body of troops in the army of the United States, or of this Commonwealth, shall be present, either armed or unarmed, at any place of election within this Commonwealth, during the time of such election; Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent any officer or soldier, from exercising the right of suffrage in the election district to which he may belong, if otherwise qualified according to law. (Act 1839, Sec. 95, P. L. 541.)

Penalty for Allowing Contents of Ballot to be Seen; Attempting to Vote Other Than Official Ballot; Making False Declaration of Disability; Interference with Voter; Endeavoring to Induce Voter to Show How he has Voted or Disclosing How Helped Voter Marked His Ballot.

21. A voter who shall allow his ballot to be seen by any person, with the apparent intention of letting it be known how he is about to vote, or shall cast or attempt to cast any other than the official ballot which has been given him by the proper election officer, or shall falsely declare to a judge of election that, by reason of any disability, he is unable to mark his ballot, and on that account desires assistance in marking it, or shall wilfully violate any other provision of this act; or any person who shall interfere with any voter when inside said enclosed space or when marking his ballot, or who shall endeavor to induce any voter before depositing his ballot to show how he marks or has marked his ballot; or any helper who shall attempt to influence the vote of the voter whom he is assisting, or who shall mark a ballot in any other way than that requested by the voter whom he is assisting, or who shall disclose to any one the contents of any ballot which has been marked with his help, except when required so to do in any legal proceedings; shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars, or to undergo an imprisonment for not more than three months, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Act 1903, Sec. 6, P. L. 348.)

ARTICLE XXIV.

AFTER CLOSE OF POLLS—COUNTING VOTE—MARKING OF RETURNS.

Numbered List of Voters, Unused Ballots and Ballot Check-List Shall be Sealed Before Ballot-Box is Opened.

1. * * * After the closing of the polls and before the ballot-boxes are opened, all the lists of voters upon which the numbers of the ballots are recorded as now required by law shall be placed in separate sealed covers properly marked, and the stubs of all the ballots used, together with all unused ballots and the ballot check-list, shall also be enclosed in a sealed package properly designating the voting place, which package shall be sent to the proper office as required by law in the case of the ballots cast, and neither the said package, nor the said lists of voters shall hereafter be opened by the return judges, or in the case of a contest, or upon the order of a court of a competent jurisdiction. (Act 1893, Sec. 24, P. L. 431.)

Who Shall Remain in Voting-Room Within Guard-Rail After Closing of Polls—Mode of Procedure for Counting of Votes.

2. After the polls are closed, the election officers only shall remain in the voting-room within the guard-rail, and shall there at once proceed to count the votes. Such counting shall not be adjourned or postponed until it shall have been fully completed. A record shall first be made of the number of the last ballot cast; the officers in charge of the voting check-list shall, in the presence of the other officers and watchers, count in a distinct and audible voice the names checked on the said list, and announce the whole number thereof; and the list of voters, the stubs of the ballots used, and all unused ballots, shall then be sealed up, as required by section twenty-four of this act. The ballot-box shall then be opened by the inspectors, the ballots taken therefrom, and audibly counted, one by one, by them; when the count is completed, the whole number of ballots cast shall be announced; and the counting of the number of votes received by each person voted for shall then proceed. The judge, in the presence of the inspectors, shall read aloud the name or names marked or inserted upon each ballot, together with the party name, or political appellation, under which each vote was cast, and the answers marked thereon to the questions submitted, if any; and the clerks shall each carefully enter each vote as read, and keep account of the same in tally-papers prepared for the purpose. It shall be unlawful for either judge or inspector while counting the ballots or votes thereon, to have in his hand any pen, pencil or stamp for marking ballots. * * * (Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

Ballots to be Kept in View of Those in Voting-Room—Full Return and Public Announcement to be Made.

3. * * * All ballots, after being removed from the box, shall be kept within the unobstructed view of those present in the voting room, so that they may be able to see all the marks on each ballot, but out of their reach, until they are placed in the ballot-box as required by law. A full return shall be made in the manner now provided by law, of all votes cast; and such returns, as well as those made by the judges of the courts, shall state in every case the number of votes cast for each candidate by each political party or body of which such candidate is a nominee, as the same shall appear upon the ballots cast. The total vote, as soon as counted, shall be publicly announced. * * * (Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

How Imperfectly Marked Ballots Shall be Counted.

4. If a voter has marked his ballot otherwise than as directed by this act, so that for any reason it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office; but the ballot shall be counted for all other offices for which the names of candidates have been properly marked. * * * (Act 1903, Sec. 4, P. L. 345, amendatory to act of June 10, 1893.)

If an elector desires to vote for any of the persons whose names are printed on the official ballot, he must do so by "marking" as directed by the act of June 10, 1893, P. L. 419. If he wishes to vote for persons whose names are not already on the ballot, he can do so by "inserting" their names in the blank spaces prepared therefor. In so far as the mode of voting is thus specifically prescribed by the act, all other modes are by necessary implication forbidden.

Where a voter votes for a person whose name is printed on the ballot by marking with a cross opposite to such person's name, he has no right to insert the same person's name in the blank space provided exclusively for names not already on the ballot. If he does so, he vitiates his ballot and it will not be counted. The presumption in such a case is that the voter knew that the blank space was intended only for the insertion of names not printed on the ballot, and that the person whose name he wrote in the blank space was not the same person whose name, printed in the left hand column, he marked with a cross.

It is not enough that the intention of the voter may possibly be ascertained or his irregular or equivocal acts explained by other evidence than his ballot. The Legislature specifically directed how it should be prepared and used by the voter, in order to avoid all such inquiries and the consequences likely to result therefrom. It was intended that the ballot when prepared by the voter and delivered to the proper election officer should be self-explanatory. In re Contested Election of Redman, 173 Pa. 59.

The mark of a one (1) in a square provided in the official ballot for a cross-mark or a cross-mark (X) in a square below such square, has not the effect of a cross-mark (X) in the proper place for it. In re Contested Election of John J. Flynn, 181 Pa. 457.

A ballot cannot be counted for a candidate where the candidate's name and title of office had not been printed upon the official ballot, but upon separate tickets or stickers which had been inserted and pasted upon the official ballot by the persons who voted for him.

It is the duty of those specially charged with the preparation and distribution of the official ballot to see that the name or title of every office to be filled at the forthcoming election is distinctly designated thereon, as the election law specifically requires.

The only prescribed mode of voting for persons whose names are not already on the ballot is by inserting their names in the blank spaces prepared therefor in the right hand column of the official ballot. It is the name only that is to be thus inserted, not the title of the office to be filled. The latter is already printed there, and constitutes part of the ballot prepared for the use of the voter. Lawlor's Contested Election, 180 Pa. 566.

In an election contest for the office of assessor, it appeared that the election officers rejected three ballots. Each of the ballots contained a cross marked in the circle at the head of the Republican column, in which column was printed the name of contestant in a space designed for the candidate for assessor. In two of the ballots the names of two of the candidates for the office of auditor in the Republican column were erased with a pencil mark, and cross marks were placed in the square at the right of the names of the candidates for auditor in the Democratic column. In the third ballot the name of the candidate for the office of supervisor in the Republican column was stricken out with a pencil mark, and a cross-mark was placed in the square at the right of the name of one of the candidates for supervisor in the column set apart for candidates put in nomination by "nomination papers." Held, that the entire ballots were illegal. In re Contested Election for assessor in Newberry Township, 187 Pa. 297.

At a municipal election held February 15, 1910, a ballot was cast containing a cross mark in the Democratic square, indicating a vote for all the candidates of that party, including one for the office of school director. The ballot also contained a mark to the right of a name of another person that had been written into the ballot as a candidate for school director. Held, that under the act of April 29, 1903, P. L. 338, as under the election act of June 10, 1893, P. L. 419, which it amended, the entire ballot was illegal. In Dailey's Appeal, 232 Pa. 540.

Where a ballot otherwise properly marked, contains a cross mark in the square opposite the name of a candidate, which is smudged or partly obliterated, it is apparent that the voter made an error by placing a mark in the wrong square and then undertook to erase it; the intention of the voter in such case is plain, and the ballot is valid.

In an election contest it appeared that certain ballots contained a cross in the party square of the party to which contestant belonged, and also marks opposite the name of contestant, but not opposite the names of all the other candidates of contestant's party; that other ballots, in addition to the mark in the party square of contestant's party had marks opposite the names of certain other candidates of contestant's party, but not opposite contestant's name. Held, that all such ballots were void. Pfaff v. Bacon, Appellant, 249 Pa. 297.

None but Official Ballots to be Counted—Defective Ballots to be Preserved—Illegal Ballots to be Transmitted to District Attorney.

5. * * * No ballot without the official endorsement shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be allowed to be deposited in the ballot-box, and none but ballots provided in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be counted. Ballots not marked, or improperly or defectively marked, shall be endorsed as defective, but shall be preserved with the other ballots. If any ballot appears to have been obtained otherwise than as provided in this act, the judge of elections shall transmit such ballot to the district attorney, without delay, together with whatever information he may have tending to the detection of the person who deposited the same. (Act 1903, Sec. 4, P. L. 345.)

Disposition of Tickets, Lists, Tally-Papers, Etc., After Vote is Counted—sealing of Ballot-Box.

6. As soon as the election shall be finished, the tickets, list of taxables, one of the lists of voters, (one of) the tally-papers and one of the certificates of the oath or affirmation taken and subscribed by the inspectors, judges and clerks, shall all be carefully collected and deposited in one or more of the ballot-boxes; and such box or boxes, being closely bound round with tape, shall be sealed by the inspectors and judge of election, (and the signatures of the judge and inspectors affixed thereto), and together with the remaining ballot boxes, shall (be forthwith deposited as directed by law), * * * and the other list of voters, tally-papers and certificates shall be enclosed by the said inspectors and judge in a sealed cover, directed to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county, (and delivered as directed in the following section.) * * * (Act 1903, Sec. 1, P. L. 217.)

Counting Vote and Making Out Returns—Results to be Publicly Declared from Window—Brief Statement to be Posted on Door of Election House—Disposition of Returns.

7. As soon as the polls shall close, the officers of election shall proceed to count all the votes cast for each candidate voted for, and make a full return of the same in triplicate, with a return sheet in addition, in all of which the votes received by each candidate shall be given after his or her name, first in words and again in figures, and shall be signed by all of said officers and certified by overseers, if any, or if not so certified, the overseers and any officer refusing to sign or certify, or either of them, shall write upon each of the returns his or their reasons for not signing or certifying them. The vote, as soon as counted, shall also be publicly and fully declared from the window to the citizens present and a brief statement showing the votes received by each candidate shall be made and signed by the election officers as soon as the vote is counted, and the same shall be immediately posted up on the door of the election house for the information of the public. The triplicate returns shall be enclosed in envelopes and be sealed in the presence of the officers, and one envelope, with the unsealed return-sheet, given to the judge, which shall contain one list of voters, tally-paper, and oaths of officers, and another of said envelopes shall be given to the minority inspector. All judges living within twelve miles of the prothonotary's office, or within twenty-four miles, if their residence be in a town, village or city upon the line of a railroad leading to the county-seat, shall, before two o'clock post meridian of the day after the election, and all other judges shall, before twelve o'clock meridian of the second day after the election, deliver said return, together with return-sheet, to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county, which said return-sheet shall be filed, and the day and hour of filing marked thereon, and shall be preserved by the prothonotary for public inspection. * * * (Act of 1874, Sec. 13, P. L. 31, as amended by Act 1909, Sec. 1, P. L. 425.)

A conviction of an election officer for neglect of duty in not delivering election returns to the prothonotary as provided by the act of January 30, 1874, P. L. 31, will be sustained, where the evidence shows that the returns in question were not on file in the office of the prothonotary, that the defendant delivered the returns to a person who met him in the hall of the court house with the statement that he was a clerk of the prothonotary, that the defendant made no attempt to ascertain the name of the alleged clerk either at the time or afterwards, and that there has been an attempt on the part of some persons to commit a fraud by the substitution of forged returns from the district represented by the defendant. Commonwealth vs. Kloss, 38 Pa. Superior Court, 307.

Certificates of Election of Inspectors and Judges of Election and District Officers to be Made and Delivered to Persons Elected.

8. As soon as the election for inspectors and judges of election shall be finished, the inspectors and judges of such election shall * * * make out a certificate of election, for each person chosen as an inspector, judge or township officer, which certificate shall be delivered to the person so chosen, or left at his usual place of abode by the constable of the proper ward, township, district or borough within five days after such election. (Act 1840, Sec. 1, P. L. 683.)

If a majority of votes is cast for a disqualified person, the next in vote is not to be returned as elected. Commonwealth v. Cluley, 56 Pa. 270.

Where there has been an authorized election for a public office the certificate of election which is sanctioned by law or usage is the prima facie written title to the office, and can be set aside only by a contest in the forms prescribed by law.

After the judges of election have issued a certificate of election to one person, they have no power to issue another certificate to another person for the same office. Goldsworthy v. Boyle, 175 Pa. 246.

ARTICLE XXV.

(Act 1861, Sec. 12, P. L. 577.)

I. In case of a Governor, the remaining duplicate shall be inclosed in an envelope, directed to the (President) of the Senate, and indorsed according to the fact, which having been sealed, shall be inclosed in another envelope, sealed and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and the same shall forthwith be placed, by the said president in the nearest post office.

†For places of meeting of district return judges and disposition of returns in case of Supreme and District Judges, see the Judicial Apportionment Act, which immediately precedes the Digest of the Election Laws of Pennsylvania, also Article XXVIII.

II. In case of electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, and of members of the House of Representatives of the United States, and of county officers to be commissioned by the Governor, the remaining duplicate shall be inclosed in an envelope, sealed and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and in like manner placed, by the said president in the nearest post office.

III. In case of the election of a Senator or Senators of this Commonwealth, the same shall be enclosed in an envelope, sealed and directed "To the Senate of Pennsylvania;" and in case of the election of a member or members of the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, the same shall, in like manner, be inclosed in an envelope, sealed and directed "To the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania;" and each of said returns shall be inclosed in an envelope, and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and in like manner placed, by said president, in the nearest post office. * * * (Act 1839, Sec. 80, P. †Proceedings of Return Judges of Elections for State Senators or Members of the House of Representatives of the United States Where Two or More Counties Compose an Election District—Disposition of Returns.

7. When two or more counties shall compose a district for the choice of a member or members of the Senate of this Commonwealth, or of the House of Representatives of the United States * * * the judges of the election, in each county, having met, as aforesaid, the clerks shall make out a fair statement of all the votes which shall have been given at such election, within the county, for every person voted for, as such member or members, which shall be signed by said judges, and attested by the clerks; and one of the said judges shall take charge of such certificate, and shall produce the same at a meeting of one judge from each county, at such place, in such district, as is or may be appointed by law for the purpose; which meeting shall be held on the seventh day after the election. (Act 1839, Sec. 81, P. L. 538.)

The judges of the several counties having met, as aforesaid, shall cast up the several county returns, and make duplicate returns of all the votes given for such office, in said district, and of the name of the person or persons elected, and one of said returns, for each office, shall be deposited in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county in which they shall meet, and the other shall be by said judges deposited in the nearest post office, sealed and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the manner directed in parts two and three of the 80th section of this act. (Act 1839, Sec. 82, P. L. 538; see also Section 3 of Article 26 of this Digest, being Section 1 of act 1909, P. L. 425.)

The district return judges have no supervisory power to examine what preceded the county returns; these are conclusive upon them, except, perhaps, in case of a plain clerical error: they are bound to certify that the person appearing by the county returns to have the greatest number of votes was elected; and if they refuse to sign a proper certificate, a mandamus will lie to compel them; a certificate which states that the candidates receive a certain number of votes respectfully, "but that fraud and bribery appearing to have been used, they decline to certify the election of either," is not a proper certificate. Commonwealth v. Enminger, 74 Pa. 479.

8. It shall also be the duty of the return judges, in every case, to transmit to each of the persons elected to serve in Congress, or in the Senate, or in the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, a certificate of his election, within five days after the day of making up such return. (Act 1839, Sec. 83, P. L. 539.)

9. In case of election of county commissioners and county auditors, one copy of the return of election shall be inclosed in an envelope, sealed and directed "To the Commissioners" of the proper county. (Act 1840, Sec. 8, P. L. 686.)

10. Whenever the returns of an election for Governor shall not be received from any county by the Secretary of the Commonwealth before the election of Governor shall be published, every such return so delayed shall be considered as void, unless the election be contested, in which case such returns shall be allowed to be of the same validity, and liable to the same exceptions, as other returns received in due time. (Act 1839, Sec. 91, P. L. 540.)

It shall be the duty of the sheriff of every county, at least ten days before any general election to be held therein, except borough and township elections, to give notice of the same by advertisements in at least three newspapers, if there be so many published in the county, two of said newspapers representing so far as practicable the political party which at the preceding November election cast the largest number of votes, and the other one of said newspapers representing so far as practicable the political party which at the preceding November election cast the next largest number of votes, and in addition thereto the sheriff of every county shall, at least ten days before any general election to be held in cities of the first, second and third classes, give notice of the same by proclamation posted up in the most conspicuous places in every election district in said cities of the first, second and third classes and in every such advertisement or proclamation.

I. Enumerate the officers to be elected and give a list of all the nominations made as provided in this act and to be voted for in such county, and the full text of all constitutional amendments submitted to a vote of the people, but the proclamation posted in each election district need not contain the names of any candidates but those to be voted for in such district.

He shall give notice that every person, excepting justices of the peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of this State, or of any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise, a subordinate officer or agent who is or shall be employed under the Legislative, Executive or Judiciary Department of this State, or of the United States, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commissioners of any incorporated district, is, by law, incapable of holding or exercising at the same time the office or appointment of judge, inspector or clerk of any election of this Commonwealth, and that no inspector, judge or other officer of any such election shall be eligible to any office to be then voted for except that of an election officer. If the sheriff exceeds his authority, the county is not liable, but the limits of his authority so far as the selection of the newspapers is concerned, are prescribed by the statute and cannot be narrowed or enlarged by any action of the county commissioners. *Graham v. Contributions for Election Expenses Prohibited, Except to Candidates or Political Committees—Corporations Through Their Officers Prohibited from Making Contributions to Candidates or Political Committees for Election Expenses.

9. No person who is not a candidate, or the treasurer of a political committee, shall pay, give or lend, or agree to pay, give or lend, any money or other valuable thing, whether contributed by himself or by any other person, for any election expenses whatever, except to a candidate or to a political committee; and no officer of any corporation, whether incorporated under the laws of this or any other State or any foreign country, except corporations formed for political purposes, shall pay, give or lend, or authorize to be paid, given or lent, any money or other valuable thing belonging to such corporation to any candidate or to any political committee, for the payment of any election expenses whatever. (Act 1906, Sec. 3, P. L. 79.)

Lawful Expenses Which Shall be Paid by Treasurer or Political Committee, or by Candidates for Nomination or Election to Office.

10. No candidate, and no treasurer of any political committee, shall pay, give or lend, or agree to pay, give or lend, either directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing for any nomination or election expenses whatever, except for the following purposes:

First. For printing and traveling expenses, and personal expenses incident thereto, stationery, advertising, postage, expressage, freight, telegraph, telephone, and public messenger services.

Second. For dissemination of information to the public.

Third. For political meetings, demonstrations and conventions, and for the pay and transportation of speakers.

Fourth. For the rent, maintenance and furnishing of offices.

Fifth. For the payment of clerks, typewriters, stenographers, janitors, and messengers, actually employed.

Sixth. For the employment of watchers at primary meetings and elections, to the number allowed by law.

Seventh. For the transportation of voters to and from the polls.

Eighth. For legal expenses, bona fide incurred, in connection with any nomination or election. (Act 1906, Sec. 4. P. L. 79.)

Candidates and Treasurers of Political Committees, Receiving or Disbursing Sums Exceeding Fifty Dollars, Shall File Detailed Accounts, When not in Excess of Fifty Dollars Shall Certify Same Under Oath—When No Contributions Are Received or Disbursements Made, Account Need Not be Filed.

11. Every candidate for nomination at any primary election, caucus, or convention, whether nominated thereat or not, shall, within fifteen days after the same was held, if the amount received or expended shall exceed the sum of fifty dollars, and every candidate for election, and every treasurer of a political committee, or person acting as such treasurer, shall, within thirty days after every election at which such candidate was voted for or with which such political committee was concerned, if the amount received or expended shall exceed the sum of fifty dollars, file with the officers hereinafter specified a full, true, and detailed account, subscribed, and sworn or affirmed to, by him, before an officer authorized to administer oaths, setting forth each and every sum of money contributed, received, or disbursed, by him for election expenses, the date of each contribution, receipt, and disbursement, the name of the person from whom received or to whom paid, and the object or purpose for which the same was disbursed. Such account shall also set forth the unpaid debts and obligations of any such candidate or committee for election expenses, with the nature and amount of each and to whom owing. In the case of candidates for election who have previously filed accounts as candidates for nomination, the accounts shall only include contributions, receipts, and disbursements, subsequent to the date of such prior accounts. If the aggregate receipts or disbursements of a candidate or political committee in connection with any nomination or election shall not exceed fifty dollars, the treasurer of the committee or candidate shall, within thirty days after the election, certify that fact under oath to the officer with whom the statement is filed as hereinafter provided: Provided, however, That if a candidate or political committee does not receive any contributions or make any disbursements, the candidates or the treasurer of the political committee shall not be required to file any account or to make any affidavit. (Act 1919, Sec. 1, P. L. 68.)

An account of a candidate for nomination showing expenditures made in his behalf to secure the nomination, is insufficient under the Act of March 5, 1906, P. L. 78, if it shows moneys paid by the candidate to individual agents of his own to be used on his behalf, but fails to show for what purposes the moneys thus intrusted to the agents were used.

An account which merely exhibits the fact that the candidate has deposited the money in the hands of an agent to be used for legitimate expenses, and does not show the person to whom, and the purpose for which, the agent paid the money, is not such "a full, true and detailed account," as the Act of 1906 plainly contemplated.

To be a true account within the spirit and intent of the act, it must set forth each and every sum of money disbursed by the candidate, whether personally, or by his agent for election expenses, the date of each disbursement, the name of the person to whom paid, and the object or purpose for which the same was disbursed; and, moreover, the account must be accompanied by vouchers for all sums expended exceeding $10.00 in amount. Filing the receipts of his agents for the money placed by him in their hands does not fully meet the requirements of the act.

In a contest over a candidate's account, an agent to whom the candidate intrusted money to be expended, may be asked to give a detailed statement of the manner in which he expended the sums intrusted to him, without any preliminary proof that the candidate knew and consented to the disbursement of the moneys by the agent for illegal purposes. Bechtel's Election Expenses, 39 Pa. Superior Ct. 292, distinguished and explained.

The agent of the candidate may be asked whether he had spent the moneys received by him from the candidate in the purchase of a vote, or whether he had used moneys of his own for such purpose with the candidate's knowledge and consent.

An offer to prove that the agent expended moneys received from the candidate for the purchase of votes to be followed by further proof that such practice and means of getting votes was known to and consented to by the candidate, should be admitted.

In a contest over a candidate's account of expenditures it is not competent upon cross-examination of the candidate to inquire as to his motive in permitting his counsel to raise objections which they deemed proper to the offer or admission of testimony.

Where a candidate includes in his account the price of a box of cigars, he is not estopped by the fact that he included such an item in his account, from showing that the use of the cigars was but the common courtesy which men extend to friends without any thought on his part or their part that the latter would be influenced in their votes thereby. In re Umbel's Election, 231 Pa., 94; S. C. 43 Pa. Superior Court, 598.

An account of election expenses required to be filed under the act of March 5, 1906, P. L. 78, must set forth the payments made for articles published on behalf of the candidate after the primary election, and also payments made for cigars and liquors, given to voters immediately before the general election.

Where a candidate contributes money to the treasurer of a political party or committee, his account should set out the names of the treasurer and the party or committee of which he is treasurer, but it is not necessary for the candidate's account to set out the specific purpose for which the money is used. Leibel's Case, 33 Pa. C. C. R. 667.

Vouchers Shall Accompany Each Expenditure Exceeding Ten Dollars—Disbursement of Anonymous Contributions Prohibited—With Whom Accounts Shall be Filed.

12. Every such account shall be accompanied by vouchers for all sums expended exceeding ten dollars in amount. It shall be unlawful for any candidate, or treasurer of a political committee, or person acting as such treasurer, to disburse any money received from any anonymous source.

Every such account, concerning expenses incurred by, or in regard to, candidates for offices to be voted for by the electors of the State at large, shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and every such account, concerning expenses incurred by, or in regard to, candidates for other offices, shall be filed with the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the several counties where such candidates may respectively reside: Provided, That if any account concerns expenses in regard to candidates who do not all reside in the same county, such accounts shall be filed in each county in which any such candidate (not being a candidate for an office to be voted for by the electors of the State at large), resides. (Act 1906, Sec. 6, P. L. 80.)

Oath not to be Administered to Persons Elected to Office Until Account is Filed.

13. It shall be unlawful to administer the oath of office to any person elected to any public office, until he has filed an account as required by this act, and no such person shall enter upon the duties of his office until he has filed such account, nor shall he receive any salary for any period prior to the filing of the same. (Act 1906, Sec. 7, P. L. 80.)

Public Inspection of, and Preservation of Accounts.

14. All such accounts shall be open to public inspection in the offices where they are filed, and shall be carefully preserved there for a period of two years. (Act 1906, Sec. 8, P. L. 81.)

Time for Filing Petition for Auditing of Accounts—Auditor May be Appointed—Duties and Powers of Auditor—Disposition of Costs.

15. Within twenty days after the last day for filing of any account required by this act, any five electors of the State, or of the political division thereof concerning which any such account has been filed, may present a petition to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the office where such account has been filed is situated, praying for an audit of such account. The court shall thereupon direct the officer or officers with whom such account has been filed to certify the same to the court for audit, and may, in its discretion, require security to be entered for costs. The court may, in its discretion, appoint an auditor to audit said account; but the fees of such auditor shall not exceed the sum of ten dollars a day for each day actually engaged. The court or auditor shall fix a date, as early as may be convenient, for the audit; at which time the person by whom such account has been filed shall be required to be present in person, to vouch his account, and answer, on oath or affirmation, all such relevant questions concerning same as may be put to him by the petitioners or their counsel. The auditor shall issue subpoenas to all parties whom the petitioner or the accountant may require to give evidence concerning such account, and he shall determine, subject to exception, all questions as to the admissibility of evidence, and shall file a copy of the evidence with his report. If, upon the audit, the court shall decide that the account was false in any substantial manner, or that any illegal election expenses were incurred, the costs of said audit shall be paid by the accountant; but otherwise, by the petitioners. (Act 1906, Sec. 9, P. L. 81.)

Under the Act of March 5, 1906, P. L. 78, which provides that "within twenty days after the last day for the filing of any account required by this act, any five electors of the State may present a petition in a court of quarter sessions of the county in which the office where such account has been filed, is situated, praying for an audit of such account," the filing of a petition for audit with the clerk of the court of quarter sessions, the court not being in session, is a sufficient presentation of the petition to give the court jurisdiction over it. Jermyn's Election Expenses, 57 Pa. Superior Court 109.

Decision of Court Upon Audit Subject to Appeal—Decision to be Certified to Attorney General—Writ of Quo Warranto to be Issued—Election Shall be Declared Void and Office Vacant Where Illegal Expenses are Incurred—To Whom Decision of Court Shall be Certified.

16. The decision of the court upon the audit shall be subject to appeal; but if the court shall decide that any candidate who has been elected has incurred any illegal election expenses, or has consented to the incurring of any illegal election expenses by any person or committee, the court shall certify its decision to the Attorney General, who shall thereupon cause a writ of quo warranto to be issued; and if, upon proceedings under such writ of quo warranto, it shall be decided that the candidate in question has incurred any illegal election expenses, or has consented to the incurring of illegal election expenses by any person or committee, his election shall be declared void and his office vacant: Provided, That in the case of candidates elected to the office of Senator or Representative in the General Assembly, the decision of the court shall be certified to the President of the Senate or to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as the case may be; And provided further, That in the case of any candidate elected to the office of member of the House of Representatives of the United States, the decision of the court shall be certified to the Governor of this Commonwealth, who shall transmit the same to the Speaker of the said House of Representatives. (Act 1906, Sec. 10, P. L. 81.)

If Court Shall Decide, Upon Audit, That Illegal Election Expenses Have Been Incurred, It Shall Certify Its Decision to District Attorney, Who Shall Institute Criminal Proceedings.

17. If the court shall decide, upon the audit, that any person, whether a candidate or not, has incurred illegal election expenses, or has otherwise violated any of the provisions of this act, it shall certify its decision to the district attorney of the county in which such person may reside, and it shall thereupon be the duty of such district attorney to institute criminal proceedings against such person. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 82.)

All Questions Asked Must be Answered—Answers not to be Used as Evidence—Except in an Action for Perjury.

18. No person shall be excused from answering any question, in any proceedings under this act, on the ground that such answer would tend to incriminate him; but no such answer shall be used as evidence against such person in any criminal action or prosecution whatever, except in an action for perjury in giving such testimony. (Act 1906, Sec. 12, P. L. 82.)

A candidate's sworn statement of expenses incurred by him having, on petition of five electors, been referred to an auditor, as provided by section 9 of the Act of March 5, 1906, P. L. 78, and the candidate having declined to answer relevant questions, held, that section 12, of the act, providing that no person shall be excused from answering any question on the ground that such answer would tend to incriminate him, is constitutional. Liebel's Account, 16 Pa. D. R. 595.

Secretary of Commonwealth Shall Furnish all Blank Forms for Statements of Candidates and Committees—To Whom Secretary of Commonwealth and County Commissioners Shall Transmit Forms.

19. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, at the expense of the Commonwealth, furnish to the county commissioners blanks, in the form approved by the Secretary and Attorney General, suitable for the statements hereinbefore required. On the receipt of the list of candidates for public offices, before a caucus or primary, or upon the filing of a nomination, before a municipal election, the county commissioners shall transmit to the candidate or candidates put in nomination, or at said primaries, and to the treasurers of political committees, the blanks above described. Upon the filing of a nomination for a State or National election, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall transmit to the candidate or candidates put in nomination, and to the treasurer of the political committees, the blanks above described. To any person required to file a statement, such blank shall be furnished upon application therefor. (Act 1906, Sec. 13, P. L. 82.)

Penalty for Incurring Illegal Election Expenses.

20. Any person who shall incur any illegal election expenses, or otherwise violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars or more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than one month or more than two years, either or both, at the discretion of the court. (Act 1906, Sec. 14, P. L. 82.)

The term of office of the State Treasurer shall hereafter commence on the first Monday of May next succeeding his election, and shall continue for * * * (four) years, or until his successor shall be duly qualified. (Act 1874, Sec. 2, P. L. 126.)

Manner of Filling Vacancy When Death of Person Elected to the Office of Auditor-General Occurs Between Time of His Election and Time for Assuming Duties of His Office.

25. In case of the death of any person elected to the office of Auditor-General * * * between the day of his election and the first Tuesday of May next ensuing, such vacancy shall be filled by the incumbent of the office at the time being until his successor shall be regularly elected and qualified. (Act 1872, Sec. 1, P. L. 32.)

At the annual election next ensuing after the death of such person, so elected to the office of Auditor-General, * * * the qualified voters of this Commonwealth shall choose, by ballot, one person to fill such vacancy, who shall assume the duties of such office on the first day of December next ensuing after said election, and hold said office for the term of the person deceased, which he was elected to fill. (Act 1872, Sec. 2, P. L. 32.)

Whenever an election to fill such vacancy shall be held, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, on the first Tuesday of November next ensuing after such election, in the presence of the Governor, Attorney-General and Auditor-General, and such other citizens as desire to be present, to open and count said returns; and the Governor shall, by proclamation, declare the name of the person thus duly elected, which returns shall be presented to the two houses of the Legislature, within ten days after the commencement of the next ensuing session of the General Assembly. (Act 1872, Sec. 3, P. L. 32.)

Method of Filling Vacancies Occurring in Offices of Auditor-General and State Treasurer.

26. * * * (The Governor) shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor-General or State Treasurer * * * if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office, at the next election day appropriate to such office according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day, in which case, the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on Executive nominations, the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the Journal. (Art. 4, Sec. 8, Constitution.)

When a vacancy in the office of State Treasurer, shall happen by death, resignation, or otherwise, the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate when in session, shall fill said vacancy by appointment; and the person so appointed, after having taken the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and given the requisite security fixed by law, shall perform the duties of State Treasurer until the first Monday in May, first succeeding the next general election, which shall happen more than * * * (two) calendar months after the vacancy occurs, or until his successor shall be duly qualified. (Act 1874, Sec. 3, P. L. 126.)

The State Treasurer is a constitutional officer whose term is limited by the constitution, and such term cannot be extended by an act of assembly.

The Act of May 9, 1874, P. L. 126, which provides that "the term of office of the State Treasurer shall hereafter commence on the first Monday of May next succeeding his election, and shall continue for two years, or until his successor shall be duly qualified," is an unconstitutional exercise of the legislative power in so far as it attempts to extend the term of the office beyond the period of two years.

The death of the treasurer-elect before he qualifies creates a vacancy in the office at the end of the incumbent's term on the first Monday of May, and the incumbent is therefore not entitled to hold over until a successor be elected and qualified to fill the office. In such a case the Governor has the right to appoint and commission another person to fill the vacancy at the end of the incumbent's term. Commonwealth v. Sheatz, 228 Pa. 301.

It has been judicially declared that the word "vacancy" aptly and fitly describes the condition of an office when it is first created and has been filled by no incumbent. Com. v. Walsh, 89 Pa. 419, recognized in Stevens' Election, 94 Pa. 283. And the Governor's power to appoint conferred by the Acts of 1874, P. L. 118, and of 1877, P. L. 12, immediately attaches to such vacancy.

 Officers of townships of the first class shall hold their offices until their successors are elected and qualified. (Act 1917, Sec. 101, P. L. 840.)

Officers to be Elected In.

7. The electors of each township of the first class shall elect (a) at least five township commissioners, or, where there are more than five election districts in any township, then as many as there are election districts, (b) one township treasurer, (c) one township assessor and two assistant assessors, and (d) three township auditors. (Act 1917, Sec. 102, P. L. 840.)

Election and Number of Township Commissioners—Court of Common Pleas to Number All Election Districts Not Numbered.

8. At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected, by the qualified voters of each even-numbered election district of townships of the first class, one township commissioner, who need not reside in the election district for which he is elected; in townships of the first class having five or less election districts, the number of commissioners of such township shall be five. The remaining number of commissioners to which the said township is entitled, as aforesaid, including the commissioners now holding office for the odd-numbered election districts of the said township, shall hold over and continue in said office until the first Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty. At the township election to be held on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and every four years thereafter, the qualified voters of each odd-numbered election district of every township of the first class shall elect one commissioner, who need not reside in the election district for which he is elected; and the remaining number of commissioners to which the said township is entitled, as aforesaid, shall at the same time be elected by the qualified voters of the whole township. All commissioners hereafter elected shall hold office for the term of four years.

At such election the township commissioners elected in even-numbered districts shall be elected for a term of two years, and the township commissioners elected at large and in odd-numbered districts shall be elected for a term of four years, or vice versa, as the case may be, in order that the terms may harmonize with the elections in townships organized prior to the passage of this act.

After the passage of this act, upon application, the court of common pleas of the proper county shall number all election districts not numbered in townships of the first class, and cause the same to be certified to the county commissioners. (Act 1917, Sec. 110, P. L. 840.)

In case any one or more of the township commissioners is to be elected by vote of the qualified electors of the township at large, the notice shall so state. The ballots to be cast at any election for township commissioners shall designate, under an appropriate heading, the candidate for the office of township commissioner for whom the qualified electors of the election district are entitled to cast their ballots, and under an appropriate heading the candidate or candidates for the office of township commissioner which are to be elected by the electors of the township at large. In an election contest instituted by petition of electors to the Attorney General, and the appointment of a special court under section six of the act of May 19, 1874, no appeal lies except where a constitutional question is involved, when the case may be appealed under the act of June 12, 1878.

An appeal in such a case will be quashed where it appears that the rules applied by the court below, in so far as they involved constitutional questions, were in favor of the appellant. Whether the rules laid down were applied correctly to the case of each particular vote offered or challenged did not raise any constitutional question, but merely one of fact.

Under the act of June 12, 1878, what the Supreme Court is authorized to review is the soundness of the law as declared by the court below to have been their guide in reaching a decision. Lyon v. Dunn, 198 Pa. 90.

Jurisdiction Where There is More Than One Court of Common Pleas in the District.

26. In any contested election of any president or additional law judge in any judicial district, where there is more than one court of common pleas, the court of the next highest number to the court for which the person whose election is contested is returned as elected, if there be one higher, and if not, the one next lower, shall perform all the duties required of the three president judges, as prescribed in the foregoing section. (Act 1874, Sec. 7, P. L. 210.)

When Appeal is Allowed in Contested Elections of Judges.

27. When the election of a judge of the Supreme Court, or a judge of any subordinate court of record, required to be learned in the law, shall be contested, if the trial and determination of such election contest shall involve the true construction of any provision of the Constitution, or if the decision shall depend on any question arising upon the Constitution, an appeal shall lie from the decision of the court or judges empowered to try such contested election to the Supreme Court. (Act 1878, Sec. 1, P. L. 204.)

Manner of Taking Appeal.

28. Such appeal may be taken by any person whose right to the office was tried and determined, or by any person aggrieved by the decision, within thirty days after the decision of the judges shall have been entered of record to the case in the court of common pleas. The appeal shall be filed in the prothonotary's office of the proper district, but may be heard by the said Supreme Court in any district; and it shall be the duty of said court to hear and decide the same, without delay. (Act 1878, Sec. 2, P. L. 205.)

Duties of Court Trying Contest.

29. To this end, it is hereby made the duty of the judges in the court of common pleas trying such election contest to first, find separately and explicitly the facts deemed by them material to the decision, and also such other facts as any party to the contest may request them in writing to ascertain; and to, second, answer such points of law as may be submitted to them. (Act 1878, Sec. 3, P. L. 205.)

Supreme Court to Decide Who Received Highest Number of Votes—Commission to Issue to Person Declared Elected.

30. The said Supreme Court, having decided the constitutional question involved in such election contest, shall thereupon proceed to decide and declare which of the candidates voted for received the greatest number of legal votes and is entitled to the office, and shall cause their decision to be certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; whereupon, the person who, by the decision of the said Supreme Court, shall appear to have received the largest number of legal votes, shall be entitled to the office and be commissioned accordingly. (Act 1874, Sec. 13, P. L. 211.)

34. After the hearing, as aforesaid, the court shall, without unnecessary delay, decide which of the candidates voted for received the greatest number of legal votes, and is entitled to the certificate of election. (Act 1874, Sec. 14, P. L. 212.)

36. Cases of the fourth class shall be tried and determined by the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the county in which the election contested shall be held. (Act 1874, Sec. 16, P. L. 212.)

GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR CONTESTED ELECTIONS.

Powers of Court on Trial of Contested Elections.

37. The proper court or judge shall have power to compel the attendance of any election officer or other person as a witness, and may also compel the production of all books, papers, tally-lists, returns of election, other documentary or record evidence, at discretion, for use on the trial, and may issue subpoenas and attachments for these purposes, as in other cases of proceedings in the courts of this Commonwealth, and all such books, papers, documents, ballots, boxes and records shall be returned to the proper custody. Certified copies of all election papers, assessments, registers of votes and records, duly authenticated by the person having custody thereof, shall be competent evidence and prima facie proof of their contents; but the party against whom the same shall be produced shall have the right to compel the attendance of the person who certifies them for cross-examination. Examiners to take and report evidence may be appointed, and reasonable notice of the time and place of taking the same shall be prescribed by the court or judge and served upon the opposite party. (Act 1874, Sec. 8, P. L. 210.)

In examining the returns of an election the whole returns are to be taken, and the omissions, if any, in any one part of them are to be supplied from what appears in the others. When election officers fail to set out upon the triplicate return sheet or in the open returns the terms for which several candidates for the office of school director were respectively voted for, this may be corrected and supplied by the tally-lists which show such terms. Commonwealth v. Fletcher, 180 Pa. 456.

The Supreme Court will not reverse an order of the quarter sessions dismissing exceptions to the report of an examiner in an election contest, and refusing a petition that the report should be recommitted to the examiner, where it appears that the decree is sustained by the facts as found, and that the investigation before the examiner covered the matters alleged as a ground for recommitment. In re Lyon's and Smith's Election, 199 Pa. 505.

Limit of Time Allowed Certain Contestants for Taking of Testimony.

38. That hereafter in all contested elections, except of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, and all other officers of this Commonwealth who now are or hereafter shall be required to be elected by the qualified voters of the State at large, the time to be consumed in taking testimony in court before an examiner or examiners appointed for that purpose shall not exceed ninety days in any one case, no matter whether such testimony be taken in court or before an examiner or examiners, or partly in court and partly before an examiner or examiners, and said testimony shall be taken in the following order, to wit: A period of time not exceeding forty days shall be allowed the contestant for this purpose; a succeeding period of time, not exceeding forty days, shall be allowed for said purpose to the person returned as elected; and the contestant may take testimony in rebuttal during ten days, immediately succeeding the time allowed the person returned as elected for taking testimony. * * * (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 103.)

Provided, That no costs shall be paid out of the treasury of any district, county, city, township, borough, ward, school district or municipality in any such contest until the same has been finally determined; and no costs, accruing or chargeable in any case after the limit of time herein fixed, shall be paid by the proper district, county, city, township, borough, ward, school district, or municipality, nor shall they be under any liability for the payment of the same. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 103.)

Compensation of Witnesses and Officers in Contested Election Cases.

40. Witnesses and officers shall be paid the same fees as are now or hereafter shall be fixed by law for similar services in the county in which the trial shall be held, but witnesses whose votes are shown to be illegal shall receive no witness fees or mileage. * * * (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 118.)

In case the contestant or contestants establish his or their right to the office in either of the above named cases, the costs shall be paid by the proper district, county, borough, township, municipality or school district. Whenever a petition to contest an election in any of said cases shall be presented to the court, it shall be the duty of said petitioners, within ten days thereafter, to file a bond signed by at least five of the said petitioners in such sum as the said court, or any judge thereof during vacation, shall designate, with sureties to be approved by the said court or judge, conditioned for the payment of all costs which may accrue in said contested election proceeding in case the said petitioners by decree of said court shall be adjudged liable to pay said costs, and if the said bonds shall not be filed, as herein provided, the said petition to contest the election shall be dismissed. * * * (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 118.)

Whenever, in contested elections of president or additional law judges, and of county, borough, township or municipal officers, if any court or judge shall have heretofore decided, or shall hereafter decide, that the complaint was not, or is not, without probable cause, the said court or judge is hereby authorized, and shall apportion all the costs among the proper districts, counties, cities, townships, boroughs, wards, school districts or municipalities of the whole district in which contest is had, in such way as said court or judge shall think just; and to compel by order the payment of such amounts so apportioned to each by the properly constituted authorities of each other of the proper districts, counties, cities, townships, boroughs, wards, school districts or municipalities, as the payment of debts by the same can now be enforced. (Act 1876, Sec. 1, P. L. 148.)

In contested elections of electors of President and Vice-President, and State officers whose jurisdiction extends over the State, and Senators and members of the House of Representatives, as aforesaid, in which the court or judge shall not decide that the complaint is without probable cause, the Commonwealth shall be liable for all costs, and the same shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated, on bills certified to be correct by the proper court or judge, upon examination and approval of the Auditor General. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 118.)

43. The proper court or judge shall have power to appoint phonographic reporters, if necessary, to take the testimony, and may order printing of such matters as may be necessary during the trial; and all bills for such reports and printing, certified to be reasonable and correct by the court or judge, shall be a part of the costs, and collectible as other costs in the case: Provided, That all printing required in cases of the second and third classes, shall be done by the State Printer, at contract prices; and in all other cases, the prices to be paid for such reporting and printing shall be fixed in the order providing therefor, and no more than the amount thus fixed shall be paid in any case. (Act 1874, Sec. 10, P. L. 211.)

Who Shall Preside on Trials of Contested Elections—Powers and Duties of Court.

44. No judge shall sit on the trial of a case in which he shall be a party. In any case where, by reason of incompetency or any disability to act, there shall be no law judge of the district in which any contest shall arise present, and able as well as qualified to act, the judge, learned in the law residing nearest the court house of the county in which, by the provisions of this act, the trial in any such case is required to be had, except in cases otherwise provided in this act, shall preside on the trial, and shall have and exercise all the powers and authority, and discharge all the duties granted to or imposed upon the regular judges of the said courts in cases wherein they are qualified and required to act by the provisions of this law. Any law judge, who is hereby authorized to preside in any such case, and any president or other judge, learned in the law, of the proper court, shall have full power to hold any of the said courts, by this act required to try any such contested election case, without the assistance of the associate justices, or either of them, of such courts not learned in the law. And all of the said courts and judges hereby required to try any contested election case shall have plenary power to make, issue and enforce all necessary orders, rules, process and decrees, for a full and proper understanding and final determination and enforcement of the decision of every such case, according to the course of practice in similar cases under the laws of this Commonwealth, or which may be necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this act. (Act 1874, Sec. 17, P. L. 212.)

How Commencement of Proceedings Shall be Effected in Cases of Contested Elections.

45. The commencement of proceedings in every case shall be by petition, which shall be made and filed, as herein required, within thirty days after the day of election. The petition shall concisely set forth the cause of complaint, showing wherein it is claimed the election is undue or illegal, and after filing shall not be amended unless such amendment shall be allowed by the proper court or judge after notice to the other party and hearing, and if allowed reasonable time shall be given to answer. In cases of the second class the petition shall be signed by at least one hundred qualified electors who voted at the election contested, in cases of the third class by at least fifty such electors, and in cases of the fourth class by at least twenty-five, and shall be verified by at least five of the petitioners by affidavit taken and subscribed before some person authorized by the laws of this Commonwealth to administer oaths, setting forth that they verily believe the facts stated therein are true, that according to the best of their knowledge and belief the election was undue or illegal, and the return thereof not correct, and that the petition to contest the same is made in good faith. The petition shall be presented to the court or law judge having jurisdiction, except where otherwise provided in this act, and if it shall be adjudged sufficient it shall be filed of record in the proper court, and thereupon a time shall be fixed for hearing. Notice of the filing of the petition with a copy thereof shall be served upon the person whose right of office shall be contested, together with a rule to answer at the time fixed for hearing, which notice copy and rule shall be served such length of time before the day fixed for hearing, as the said court or judge shall require, not exceeding forty days, in cases of the second and third classes, and in all other cases not exceeding thirty days. (Act 1874, Sec. 18, P. L. 213.)

A petition was filed to contest the election of a borough officer, which averred that many illegal ballots were cast, and counted against the contesting candidate, and if they had not been counted the contestant would have been elected; the petition, however, failed to aver expressly that said illegal votes were cast for the candidate who was declared elected, and also omitted to state the number of such illegal votes or the whole number of votes cast: Held, that the petition was defective and insufficient, and was properly quashed. Zerby v. Snare, 107 Pa. 183.

Proceedings to contest elections are regulated by statute and should be so construed by the courts as to protect the elective franchise. The petition should aver plainly and distinctly such facts, which if sustained by proof, would require the court to set aside the result. It should, in the language of the act of May 19, 1874, P. L. 208, "concisely set forth the cause of complaint, showing wherein it is claimed the election is undue or illegal." This is all the statute requires, and the court is not authorized to require more by construction. This will give the respondent sufficient information of the charges of illegality which he is required to meet, and he is entitled to nothing more. Cole's Election, 223, Pa. 271.

Witnesses not Permitted to Withhold Testimony in Contested Election Cases.

46. In trials of contested elections and in proceedings for the investigation of elections no person shall be permitted to withhold his testimony upon the ground that it may criminate himself or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding except for perjury in giving such testimony. (Art. 8, Sec. 10, Constitution.)

* * * In trials of contested elections, and in all proceedings for the investigation of elections, no person shall be permitted to withhold his testimony upon the ground that he may criminate himself, or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony. (Act 1874, Sec. 19, P. L. 213.)

Governor to Issue Commission Though Election be Contested.

47. Whenever it shall appear by the returns of election laid before the Governor, by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, as now required by law, that any person has been duly elected to the office of prothonotary, clerk of the courts, recorder of deeds or register of wills, judge, or any other officer receiving a commission from the Governor, in any of the several counties of this Commonwealth, it shall be the duty of the Governor to issue a commission to such person, notwithstanding that the election of such person to any or either of said offices may be contested, in the manner now provided by law: Provided, That whenever it shall appear by the decision of the proper tribunal having jurisdiction of said contested election, that the person to whom said commission shall have issued, has not been legally elected to the office for which he has been commissioned, then a commission shall issue to the person who shall appear legally elected to said office; the issuing of which commission shall nullify and make void the commission already issued, and all power and authority under said commission first issued, shall thereupon cease and determine: Provided further, That this act shall not in any manner affect any contest now pending. (Act 1889, Sec. 1, P. L. 60.)

In Case of Contest Mistakes in Affidavit May be Corrected or Deficiencies Supplied.

48. * * * Provided, That in case any person is allowed to vote at an election, who is not registered, but makes an affidavit which by reason of the failure to fully observe the requirements of this section is insufficient, in any contest growing out of said election it shall be lawful to correct any mistakes or supply any deficiencies in such affidavit, so as to show that the said person was in fact a qualified voter; but this shall not apply to non-registered voters who make no affidavit, or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 254.)

In Case of Contest and Ballots Cast are Found Defective the Election shall be Declared Invalid—How Vacancies Thus Occurring are to be Filled.

49. Whenever in any contested election the tribunal trying the case shall decide that the ballots used in one or more election districts were, by reason of the omission, addition, misplacing, mis-spelling or misstatement of one or more titles of offices, or names of candidates, or parties or policies represented by them, so defective as to the office in contest as to be calculated to mislead the voters in regard to any of the candidates nominated for said office, and that the defective condition of the said ballots may have affected the result of the entire election for said office, the said tribunal shall declare the election to be invalid as regards the said office, and shall report their decision to the proper officer or officers who are now by law authorized to fill vacancies occurring in such office, who, upon receipt of such notice, shall without delay proceed to appoint a suitable person or persons to fill the vacancies thus created, and the person or persons so appointed, shall continue in office until the next election succeeding his appointment at which such office is now by law required to be filled. (Act 1897, Sec. 1, P. L. 23.)

And the stakeholder is hereby prohibited, during said time, to pay over the amount so bet to either of the parties, and shall be liable for the same, whether such bet is paid over or delivered to the parties, or either of them, or not, and the party winning shall in like manner be liable to the payment of the whole amount so bet, where the same is received by him; and said bet, or the value thereof, may be recovered as debts of like amount are by law recoverable. In the event that no such promise or pledge has been made by such candidate, that fact shall be distinctly stated.

No candidate for Representative in Congress or for Senator of the United States shall promise any office or position to any person, or to use his influence or to give his support to any person for any office or position for the purpose of procuring the support of such person, or of any person, in his candidacy; nor shall any candidate for Senator of the United States give, contribute, expend, use, or promise any money or thing of value to assist in procuring the nomination or election of any particular candidate for the legislature of the State in which he resides, but such candidate may, within the limitations and restrictions and subject to the requirements of this act, contribute to political committees having charge of the disbursement of campaign funds.

Any person, not then a candidate for Senator of the United States, who shall have given, contributed, expended, used, or promised any money or thing of value to aid or assist in the nomination or election of any particular member of the legislature of the State in which he resides, shall, if he thereafter becomes a candidate for such office, or if he shall thereafter be elected to such office without becoming a candidate therefor, comply with all of the provisions of this section relating to candidates for such office, so far as the same may be applicable; and the statement herein required to be made, verified, and filed after such election shall contain a full, true, and itemized account of each and every gift, contribution, expenditure, and promise whenever made, in any wise relating to the nomination or election of members of the legislature of said State, or in any wise connected with or pertaining to his nomination and election of which publicity is not given in a previous statement. convened at St. Louis, Missouri, Wednesday, June 14, 1916, and adjourned June 16th. William F. McCombs, of New York, New York, was made temporary chairman; and Ollie M. James, of Marion, Kentucky, was made the permanent chairman. Nominated for President: Woodrow Wilson, of Trenton, New Jersey; for Vice-President: Thomas R. Marshall, of Indianapolis, Indiana. Adopted on June 16th the following

PLATFORM:

The Democratic Party, in national convention assembled, adopts the following declaration to the end that the people of the United States may both realize the achievements wrought by four years of Democratic administration and be apprised of the policies to which the party is committed for the further conduct of national affairs.

RECORDS OF ACHIEVEMENT.

We indorse the administration of Woodrow Wilson. It speaks for itself. It is the best exposition of sound Democratic policy at home and abroad.

We challenge comparison of our record, our keeping of pledges and our constructive legislation, with those of any party of any time.

We found our country hampered by special privilege, a vicious tariff, obsolete banking laws and an inelastic currency. Our foreign affairs were dominated by commercial interests for their selfish ends. The Republican Party, despite repeated pledges, was impotent to correct abuses which it had fostered. Under our administration, under a leadership which has never faltered, these abuses have been corrected, and our people have been freed therefrom.

Our archaic banking and currency system, prolific of panic and disaster under Republican administrations—long the refuge of the Money Trust—has been supplanted by the Federal Reserve Act, a true democracy of credit under Government control, already proved a financial bulwark in a world crisis, mobilizing our resources, placing abundant credit at the disposal of legitimate industry and making a currency panic impossible.

We have created a Federal Trade Commission to accommodate the perplexing questions arising under the anti-trust laws so that monopoly may be strangled at its birth and legitimate industry encouraged. Fair competition in business is now assured.

We have effected an adjustment of the tariff, adequate for revenue under peace conditions, and fair to the consumer and to the producer. We have adjusted the burdens of taxation so that swollen incomes bear their equitable share. Our revenues have been sufficient in times of world stress, and will largely exceed the expenditures for the current fiscal year.

We have lifted human labor from the category of commodities and have secured to the workingman the right of voluntary association for his protection and welfare. We have protected the rights of the laborer against the unwarranted issuance of writs of injunction, and have guaranteed to him the right of trial by jury in cases of alleged contempt committed outside the presence of the court.

We have advanced the parcels post to genuine efficiency, enlarged the Postal Savings System, added 10,000 rural delivery routes and extensions, thus reaching 2,500,000 additional people, improved the Postal Service in every branch, and for the first time in our history placed the post-office system on a self-supporting basis, with actual surplus in 1913, 1914 and 1916.

*Vice Vance C. McCormick, who resigned February 26, 1919.

ECONOMIC FREEDOM.

The reforms which were most obviously needed to clear away special privilege, prevent unfair discrimination and release the energies of men of all ranks and advantages, have been effected by recent legislation. We must now remove, as far as possible, every remaining element of unrest and uncertainty from the path of the business men of America, and secure for them a continued period of quiet, assured and confident prosperity.

TARIFF.

We reaffirm our belief in the doctrine of a tariff for the purpose of providing sufficient revenue for the operation of the Government economically administered and unreservedly indorse the Underwood tariff law as truly exemplifying that doctrine. We recognize that tariff rates are necessary subject to change to meet changing conditions in the world's production and trade. The events of the last two years have brought about many momentous changes. In some respects their effects are yet conjectural and wait to be disclosed, particularly in regard to our foreign trade.

Two years of a war which has directly involved most of the chief industrial nations of the world and which has indirectly affected the life and industry of all nations, are bringing about economic changes more varied and far-reaching than the world has ever before experienced. In order to ascertain just what those changes may be, the Democratic Congress is providing for a non-partisan tariff commission to make impartial and thorough study of every economic fact that may throw light either upon our past or upon our future fiscal policy with regard to the imposition of taxes on imports or with regard to the changed and changing conditions under which our trade is carried on. We cordially indorse this timely proposal and declare ourselves in sympathy with the principle and purpose of shaping legislation within that field in accordance with clearly established facts rather than in accordance with the demands of selfish interest or upon information provided largely, if not exclusively, by them.

AMERICANISM.

The part which the United States will play in the new day of international relationships that is now upon us will depend upon our preparation and our character. The Democratic Party, therefore, recognizes the assertion and triumphant demonstration of the indivisibility and coherent strength of the Nation as the supreme issue of this day in which the whole world faces the crisis of manifold change. It summons all men of whatever origin or creed who would count themselves Americans, to join in making clear to all the world the unity and consequent power of America. This is an issue of patriotism. To taint it with partisanship would be to defile it. In this day of test, America must show itself not a Nation of partisans but a Nation of patriots. There is gathered here in America the best of the blood, the industry and the genius of the world, the elements of a great race and a magnificent society to be welded into a mighty and splendid Nation.

Whoever, actuated by the purpose to promote the interest of a foreign power, in disregard of our own country's welfare or to injure this Government in its foreign relations or cripple or destroy its industries at home, and whoever by arousing prejudices of a racial, religious or other nature creates discord and strife among our people so as to obstruct the wholesome process of unification, is faithless to the trust which the privileges of citizenship repose in him and is disloyal to his country. We, therefore, condemn as subversive of this Nation's unity and integrity, and as destructive of its welfare, the activities and designs of every group or organization, political or otherwise, that has for its object the advancement of the interest of a foreign power, whether such object is promoted by intimidating the Government, a political party, or representatives of the people, or which is calculated and tends to divide our people into antagonistic groups and thus to destroy that complete agreement and solidarity of the people and that unity of sentiment and purpose so essential to the perpetuity of the Nation and its free institutions. We condemn all alliances and combinations of individuals in this country of whatever nationality or descent, who agree and conspire together for the purpose of embarrassing or weakening our Government or of improperly influencing or coercing our public representatives in dealing or negotiating with any foreign power. We charge that such conspiracies among a limited number exist and have been instigated for the purpose of advancing the interests of foreign countries to the prejudice and detriment of our own country. We condemn any political party which, in view of the activity of such conspirators, surrenders its integrity or modifies its policy.

PREPAREDNESS.

Along with the proof of our character as a nation must go the proof of our power to play the part that legitimately belongs to us. The people of the United States love peace. They respect the rights and covet the friendship of all other nations. They desire neither any additional territory nor any advantage which can not be peacefully gained by their skill, their industry, or their enterprise; but they insist upon having absolute freedom of national life and policy, and feel that they owe it to themselves and to the role of spirited independence which it is their sole ambition to play, that they should render themselves secure against the hazard of interference from any quarter, and should be able to protect their rights upon the seas or in any part of the world. We, therefore, favor the maintenance of an army fully adequate to the requirements of order, of safety and of the protection of the Nation's rights; the fullest development of modern methods of seacoast defense and the maintenance of an adequate reserve of citizens trained to arms and prepared to safeguard the people and territory of the United States against any danger of hostile action which may unexpectedly arise; and a fixed policy for the continuous development of a Navy worthy to support the great naval traditions of the United States and fully equal to the international tasks which this Nation hopes and expects to take a part in performing. The plans and enactments of the present Congress afford substantial proof of our purpose in this exigent matter.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS.

The Democratic administration has throughout the present war scrupulously and successfully held to the old paths of neutrality and to the peaceful pursuit of the legitimate objects of our national life which statesmen of all parties and creeds have prescribed for themselves in America since the beginning of our history. But the circumstances of the last two years have revealed necessities of international action which no former generation can have foreseen. We hold that it is the duty of the United States to use its power, not only to make itself safe at home, but also to make secure its just interests throughout the world, and, both for this end and in the interest of humanity, to assist the world in securing settled peace and justice. We believe that every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which it shall live; that the small states of the world have a right to enjoy from other nations the same respect for their sovereignty and for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist upon; and that the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression or disregard of the rights of peoples and nations; and we believe that that time has come when it is the duty of the United States to join with the other nations of the world in any feasible association that will effectively serve those principles, to maintain inviolate the complete security of the highway of the seas for the common and unhindered use of all nations.

The present administration has consistently sought to act upon and realize in its conduct of the foreign affairs of the nation the principle that should be the object of any association of the nations formed to secure the peace of the world and the maintenance of national and individual rights. It has followed the highest American traditions. It has preferred respect for the fundamental rights of smaller States even to property interests, and has secured the friendship of the people of such States for the United States by refusing to make a mere material interest an excuse for the assertion of our superior power against the dignity of their sovereign independence. It has regarded the lives of its citizens and the claims of humanity as of greater moment than material rights, and peace as the best basis for the just settlement of commercial claims. It has made the honor and ideals of the United States its standard alike in negotiation and action.

PAN-AMERICAN CONCORD.

We recognize now, as we have always recognized, a definite and common interest between the United States and the other peoples and Republics of the Western hemisphere in all matters of national independence and free political development. We favor the establishment and maintenance of the closest relations of amity and mutual helpfulness between the United States and the other Republics of the American continents for the support of peace and the promotion of a common prosperity. To that end we favor all measures which may be necessary to facilitate intimate intercourse and promote commerce between the United States and our neighbors to the south, and such international understandings as may be practicable and suitable to accomplish these ends.

We commend the action of the Democratic administration in holding the Pan-American Financial Conference at Washington in May, 1915, and organizing the International High Commission which represented the United States in the recent meeting of representatives of the Latin American Republics at Buenos Aires, April, 1916, which have so greatly promoted the friendly relations between the people of the Western hemisphere.

MEXICO.

The Monroe Doctrine is reasserted as a principle of Democratic faith. That doctrine guarantees the Independent Republics of the two Americas against aggression from another continent. It implies, as well, the most scrupulous regard upon our part for the sovereignty of each of them. We court their good will. We seek not to despoil them. The want of a stable, responsible government in Mexico, capable of repressing and punishing marauders and bandit bands, who have not only taken the lives and seized and destroyed the property of American citizens in that country, but have insolently invaded our soil, made war upon and murdered our people thereon, has rendered it necessary to temporarily occupy, by our armed forces, a portion of the territory of that friendly State. Until, by the restoration of law and order therein, a repetition of such incursions is improbable, the necessity for their remaining will continue. Intervention, implying as it does military subjugation, is revolting to the people of the United States, notwithstanding the provocation to that course has been great and should be resorted to, if at all, only as a last recourse. The stubborn resistance of the President and his advisers to every demand and suggestion to enter upon it, is creditable alike to them and to the people in whose name he speaks.

MERCHANT MARINE.

Immediate provisions should be made for the development of the carrying trade of the United States. Our foreign commerce has in the past been subject to many unnecessary and vexatious obstacles in the way of legislation of Republican Congresses. Until the recent Democratic tariff legislation, it was hampered by unreasonable burdens of taxation. Until the recent banking legislation, it had at its disposal few of the necessary instrumentalities of international credit and exchange. Until the formulation of the pending act to promote the construction of a merchant marine, it lacked even the prospect of adequate carriage by sea. We heartily indorse the purpose and policy of the pending shipping bill and favor all such additional measures of constructive or remedial legislation as may be necessary to restore our flag to the seas and to provide further facilities for our foreign commerce, particularly such laws as may be requisite to remove unfair conditions of competition in the dealing of American merchants and producers with competitors in foreign markets.

CONSERVATION.

For the safeguarding and quickening of the life of our own people we favor the conservation and development of the natural resources of the country through a policy which shall be positive rather than negative, a policy which shall not withhold such resources from development but which, while permitting and encouraging their use, shall prevent both waste and monopoly in their exploitation, and we earnestly favor the passage of acts which will accomplish these objects, reaffirming the declaration of the platform of 1912 on this subject.

The policy of reclaiming our arid lands should be steadily adhered to.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND THE FARMER.

We favor the vigorous prosecution of investigations and plans to render agriculture more profitable and country life more healthful, comfortable and attractive, and we believe that this should be a dominant aim of the Nation as well as of the States. With all its recent improvement farming still lags behind other occupations in development as a business, and the advantages of an advancing civilization have not accrued to rural communities in a fair proportion. Much has been accomplished in this field under the present administration, far more than under any previous administration. In the Federal Reserve Act of the last Congress and the Rural Credits Act of the present Congress, the machinery has been created which will make credit available to the farmer constantly and readily, placing him at last upon a footing of equality with the merchant and the manufacturer in securing the capital necessary to carry on his enterprises. Grades and standards necessary to the intelligent and successful conduct of the business of agriculture have also been established or are in the course of being established by law. The long-needed Cotton Futures Act, passed by the Sixty-third Congress, has now been in successful operation for nearly two years. A Grain Grades Bill, long needed, and a Permissive Warehouse Bill, intended to provide better storage facilities and to enable the farmer to obtain certificates upon which he may secure advances of money, have been passed by the House of Representatives, have been favorably reported to the Senate, and will probably become law during the present session of the Congress. Both Houses have passed a good-roads measure which will be of far-reaching benefit to all agricultural communities. Above all, the most extraordinary and significant progress has been made, under the direction of the Department of Agriculture, in extending and perfecting practical farm demonstration work which is so rapidly substituting scientific for empirical farming. But it is also necessary that rural activities should be better directed through cooperation and organization, that unfair methods of competition should be eliminated and the conditions requisite for the just, orderly and economical marketing of farm products created. We approve the Democratic administration for having emphatically directed attention for the first time to the essential interests of agriculture involved in farm marketing and finance, for creating the Office of Markets and Rural Organization in connection with the Department of Agriculture, and for extending the cooperative machinery necessary for conveying information to farmers by means of demonstration. We favor continued liberal provision, not only for the benefit of production, but also for the study and solution of problems of farm marketing and finance and for the extension of existing agencies for improving country life.

GOOD ROADS.

The happiness, comfort and prosperity of rural life, and the development of the city, are alike conserved by the construction of public highways. We, therefore, favor national aid in the construction of post roads and roads for military purposes.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYMENT.

We hold that the life, health and strength of the men, women and children of the Nation are its greatest asset, and that in the conservation of these the Federal Government, wherever it acts as the employer of labor, should both on its own account and as an example, put into effect the following principles of just employment:

1. A living wage for all employees.
2. A working day not to exceed eight hours, with one day of rest in seven.
3. The adoption of safety appliances and the establishment of thoroughly sanitary conditions of labor.
4. Adequate compensation for industrial accidents.
5. The standards of the "Uniform Child Labor Law" wherever minors are employed.
6. Such provisions for decency, comfort and health in the employment of women as should be accorded the mothers of the race.
7. An equitable retirement law providing for the retirement of superannuated and disabled employes of the civil service, to the end that a higher standard of efficiency may be maintained.

We believe also that the adoption of similar principles should be urged and applied in the legislation of the States with regard to labor within their borders and that through every possible agency the life and health of the people of the Nation should be conserved.

LABOR.

We declare our faith in the Seamen's Act, passed by the Democratic Congress, and we promise our earnest continuance of its enforcement.

We favor the speedy enactment of an effective Federal Child Labor Law, and the regulation of the shipment of prison-made goods in interstate commerce.

We favor the creation of a Federal Bureau of Safety in the Department of Labor, to gather facts concerning industrial hazards, and to recommend legislation to prevent the maiming and killing of human beings.

We favor the extension of the powers and functions of the Federal Bureau of Mines.

We favor the development upon a systematic scale of the means, already begun under the present administration, to assist laborers throughout the Union to seek and obtain employment, and the extension by the Federal Government of the same assistance and encouragement as is now given to agricultural training.

We heartily commend our newly established Department of Labor for its fine record in settling strikes by personal advice and through conciliating agents.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

We favor a thorough reconsideration of the means and methods by which the Federal Government handles questions of public health to the end that human life may be conserved by the elimination of loathsome diseases, the improvement of sanitation, and the diffusion of a knowledge of disease prevention.

We favor the establishment by the Federal Government of tuberculosis sanitariums for needy tubercular patients.

SENATE RULES.

We favor such alteration of the rules of procedure of the Senate of the United States as will permit the prompt transaction of the Nation's legislative business.

ECONOMY AND THE BUDGET.

We demand careful economy in all expenditures for the support of the Government, and to that end favor a return by the House of Representatives to its former practice of initiating and preparing all appropriation bills through a single committee chosen from its membership, in order that responsibility may be centered, expenditures standardized and made uniform, and waste and duplication in the public service as much as possible avoided. We favor this as a practicable first step toward a budget system.

CIVIL SERVICE.

We reaffirm our declarations for the rigid enforcement of the Civil Service laws.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

We heartily indorse the provisions of the bill, recently passed by the House of Representatives, further promoting self-government in the Philippine Islands as being in fulfillment of the policy declared by the Democratic Party in its last National platform, and we reiterate our indorsement of the purpose of ultimate independence for the Philippine Islands, expressed in the preamble of that measure.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

We recommend the extension of the franchise to the women of the country by the States upon the same terms as to men.

PROTECTION OF CITIZENS.

We again declare the policy that the sacred rights of American citizenship must be preserved at home and abroad, and that no treaty shall receive the sanction of our Government which does not expressly recognize the absolute equality of all our citizens irrespective of race, creed or previous nationality, and which does not recognize the right of expatriation. The American Government should protect American citizens in their rights not only at home but abroad, and any country having a Government should be held to strict accountability for any wrongs done them, either to person or to property. At the earliest practicable opportunity our country should strive earnestly for peace among the warring nations of Europe and seek to bring about the adoption of the fundamental principle of justice and humanity, that all men shall enjoy equality of right and freedom from discrimination in the lands wherein they dwell.

PRISON REFORM.

We demand that the modern principles of prison reform be applied in our Federal Penal System. We favor such work for prisoners as shall give them training in remunerative occupations so that they may make an honest living when released from prison; the setting apart of the net wages of the prisoner to be paid to his dependent family or to be reserved for his own use upon his release; the liberal extension of the principles of the Federal Parole Law, with due regard both to the welfare of the prisoner and the interests of society; the adoption of the probation system, especially in the case of first offenders not convicted of serious crimes.

PENSIONS.

We renew the declarations of recent Democratic platforms relating to generous pensions for soldiers and their widows and call attention to our record of performance in this particular.

WATERWAYS AND FLOOD CONTROL.

We renew the declaration in our last two platforms relating to the development of our waterways. The recent devastation of the lower Mississippi Valley and several other sections by floods accentuates the movement for the regulation of river flow by additional bank and levee protection below, and diversion, storage and control of the flood waters above, and their utilization for beneficial purposes in the reclamation of arid and swamp lands, and development of water power, instead of permitting the floods to continue as heretofore agents of destruction. We hold that the control of the Mississippi River is a national problem. The preservation of the depth of its waters for purposes of navigation, the building of levees and works of bank protection to maintain the integrity of its channel and prevent the overflow of its valley resulting in the interruption of interstate commerce, the disorganization of the mail service, and the enormous loss of life and property, impose an obligation which alone can be discharged by the National Government.

We favor the adoption of a liberal and comprehensive plan for the development and improvement of our harbors and inland waterways with economy and efficiency so as to permit their navigation by vessels of standard draft.

ALASKA.

It has been and will be the policy of the Democratic Party to enact all laws necessary for the speedy development of Alaska and its great natural resources.

TERRITORIES.

We favor granting to the people of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico the traditional Territorial government accorded to all Territories of the United States since the beginning of our Government, and we believe that the officials appointed to administer the government of these several Territories should be qualified by previous bona fide residence.

CANDIDATES.

We unreservedly indorse our President and Vice-President, Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, and Thomas Riley Marshall of Indiana, who have performed the functions of their great offices faithfully and impartially, and with distinguished ability.

In particular we commend to the American people the splendid diplomatic victories of our great President, who has preserved the vital interests of our Government and its citizens, and kept us out of war.

Woodrow Wilson stands to-day the greatest American of his generation.

CONCLUSION.

This is a critical hour in the history of America, a critical hour in the history of the world. Upon the record above set forth, which shows great constructive achievement in following out a consistent policy for our domestic and internal development; upon the record of the Democratic administration, which has maintained the honor, the dignity and the interests of the United States, and at the same time, retained the respect and friendship of all the nations of the world; and upon the great policies for the future strengthening of the life of our country, the enlargement of our national vision and the ennobling of our international relations, as set forth above, we appeal with confidence to the voters of the country.

THE PROGRESSIVE.

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Chairman—Victor Murdock, Wichita, Kansas.

Vice-Chairman—Matthew Hale, Boston, Massachusetts.

Secretary—O. K. Davis, Washington, District of Columbia.

Treasurer—E. H. Hooker, New York, New York.

Headquarters—209 Madison Avenue, New York, New York.

National Committeeman from Pennsylvania—William Flinn, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

convened at Chicago, Illinois, Wednesday, June 7, 1916, and adjourned June 10, 1916. Raymond Robins, of Chicago, Illinois, was made temporary and, subsequently, permanent chairman. Nominated for President: *Theodore Roosevelt, of Oyster Bay, New York; for Vice-President, John M. Parker, of New Orleans, Louisiana. Adopted on June 9th the following

PLATFORM:

This is the year of decision for the Nation's future. As we now decide, so we shall go forward in righteousness and power, or backward in degradation and weakness.

Of necessity we deal now with the foundations of our national life. We are facing elemental facts of force, of right and wrong, of extreme national peril. Our present choice of path will be irrevocable. The tradition of isolation has been ended. The United States is now part of a world system of civilization. We stand or fall as we prepare now to take our part in peace or war or hold our own therein.

TREATMENT OF CITIZENS.

As members of an international community we are subject to certain basic duties:

To secure the rights and equal treatment of our citizens, native or naturalized, on land and sea, without regard to race, creed or nativity;

To guard the honor and uphold the just influence of our Nation;

To maintain the integrity of international law.

These are the cornerstones of civilization. We must be strong to defend them. We earnestly desire to keep the peace, but there are higher things which we must keep if we would keep the faith as Washington and Lincoln kept it. Peace at the price of submission and cowardice is not desirable, nor is it the peace of justice which alone would make it permanent. Supine submission to the invasion of our rights or indifference to the wrongs of weaker nations will not long maintain peace, nor will mere threat of action enforce our rights under international law.

*Withdrew as a candidate for President, June 22, 1916. The Progressive National Committee met in Chicago June 26, 1916, and, after having received the letter of Theodore Roosevelt withdrawing as a candidate for President, endorsed Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican nominee.

There must be an unflinching determination and a personal ability to defend our rights and to fulfill our international obligations. In such a readiness lies the sure safeguards of both National honor and continued peace. Failure to deal firmly and promptly with the menace of Mexican disorders has brought conditions worse than warfare and has weakened our national self-respect. Every resource of government should forthwith be used to end those conditions, and protect from outrage the lives, honor and property of American men and women in Mexico.

Whatever our country can legitimately do to attain peace for war stricken Europe and to aid in the procurement of equal rights, without discrimination because of race or creed to all men in all lands, should be done.

Adequate provision for the common defense has become the task of foremost national concern. We must be ready in spirit, arms and industry. Preparation in arms requires:

A navy restored to at least second rank in battle efficiency;

A regular army of 250,000 men, fully armed and trained, as a first line of land defense.

A system of military training adequate to organize with promptness, behind that first line of the army and navy, a citizen soldiery, supplied, armed and controlled by the national government.

In our democracy every male citizen is charged with the duty of defending his country. This duty is not new. It has existed from the foundation of the government. Under modern conditions it cannot be performed without military training; service without training means slaughter and disaster.

DISLOYALTY IS DENOUNCED.

Beneath the structure of military and economic strength there must be a unified spirit of cosmopolitan people, a deep loyalty and undivided allegiance to America—the land which has welcomed us and our immigrant forefathers. Back of any adequate national preparedness in arms or in industry, must remain the democratic soul of an undivided people, determined to keep America's great heritage and traditions unflinching in first place.

American problems must be faced and solved solely in the light of American ideals. American political action must be taken in the service of American ends. Unwavering patriotism and unflinching fidelity to America is the only spirit which should animate our citizens. If in this melting pot of a hundred nations the children of any fail to find our common destiny worthy of common devotion and defense, we shall sustain irreparable loss of national character.

In this spirit of Americanism, action must be taken for the common defense.

FOR UNIVERSAL SERVICE.

As the Nation has always recognized and exercised the right to enforce compulsory military service in time of war, so should there be universal military training for that service during times of peace.

We believe in preparedness for defense, but never for aggression. We must not sacrifice the lives of men for the glory or gain of military conquest. And we believe that the women of the country who share with men the burdens of government in times of peace and make equal sacrifice in times of war, should be given the full political right of suffrage by both Federal and State action. Arms alone cannot maintain a nation. Of far greater prominent importance must stand a national industry efficient for the general welfare—a prosperity justly distributed, a national life organized in all points for national ends. Four years ago this party was born of a nation's awakened sense of these fundamental truths. In the platform then adopted we set forth our position on public questions. We here reaffirm the declarations there made on national issues.

A nation to survive must stand for the principles of social and industrial justice. We have no right to expect continued loyalty from an oppressed class.

We must remove the artificial causes of the high cost of living; prevent the exploitation of men, women and children in industry by extension of the workmen's compensation law to the full limit permitted under the Constitution and by a thorough-going child labor law; protect the wage-earner; and by a properly regulated system of rural credits encourage the farmer and give to the landless to require more land.

A country must be worth living in to be worth fighting for.

WILL INSURE PROSPERITY.

To make possible social justice, to maintain our position in peace and war, we must insure business and industrial prosperity. This can be done:

By a regulation of industry aimed at promoting its growth and prosperity and a just distribution of its returns and a healthy expansion of foreign trade.

By a conservation and development of our national resources for the good of all;

By the re-establishment of our merchant marine;

By the development of a system of interstate national highways;

By making a new standard of governmental efficiency through a complete civil service system, a national budget and the destruction of "pork-barrel" legislation;

By the creation of a permanent, expert tariff commission, with a view of intelligently and scientifically adjusting the tariff, so as to build up, rather than destroy, American industry.

FOR PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

The protective system is essential to our national prosperity. Tremendous new pressures will be thrown upon our industries after the war by the highly mobilized production of Europe. At all times conditions of competition must be equalized between our own and foreign countries. We can only get the protection we need through the use of exact and complete knowledge, unaffected by prejudice or politics. We can secure that knowledge at all times, and when need it, only through such a commission.

The industrial issues are chiefly national. The present and certain future make it imperative that the regulation and promotion of industry, and especially of transportation and foreign trade, be national, not local. Only Federal power can work justice to capital and labor throughout the Nation. Only national authority can mobilize industry for defense as the Nation's needs demand it.

We have set forth in this platform plain essentials of national existence. They are not new in principle. Most men agree with them. Any man may propose them. The urgent and immediate need is for their performance. We have had ample experience with the promiser; with words and the bitter taste of words retracted. We must choose a man who, not alone by words, but by past deeds, gives guarantee that he can and will make these things good.

The issue is one of men. In the midst of world changes unparalleled in history, we cannot forecast the problems which will confront our government during the war and at its end.

NEEDS MAN WHO ACTS.

We, therefore, need as President a leader who knows the nations; a man who acts. If we continue longer to stand for words as above deeds, for fancies as above facts, we shall receive and merit the fate that surely awaits the man or people who do not face the truth.

We will meet and work with any man or party who sees the Nation's need and puts forward a leader fit to meet it. We will accept no less, in plan or in the man, and we solemnly charge upon any who place partisan politics above country the responsibility for a nation's future, sacrificed to self interests and spoils.

THE REPUBLICAN.

*Chairman—Will H. Hays, Sullivan, Indiana.

Secretary—James B. Reynolds, Washington, District of Columbia.

†Treasurer—Fred W. Upham, Chicago, Illinois.

Eastern Headquarters—452 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York.

Western Headquarters—Conway Building, 111 West Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

convened at Chicago, Illinois, Wednesday, June 7, 1916, and adjourned June 10th. Warren G. Harding, of Marion, Ohio, was made temporary, and, subsequently, permanent chairman. Nominated for President: Charles E. Hughes, of New York, New York; for Vice-President, Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indianapolis, Indiana. Adopted on June 8th the following

PLATFORM:

In 1861 the Republican Party stood for the Union. As it stood for the Union of States, it now stands for a united people, true to American ideals, loyal to American traditions, knowing no allegiance except to the Constitution, to the Government and to the flag of the United States.

We believe in American policies at home and abroad.

*Elected February 13, 1918, to succeed William R. Willcox, who resigned February 12, 1918.

PROTECTION OF AMERICAN RIGHTS.

We declare that we believe in and will enforce the protection of every American citizen in all the rights secured to him by the Constitution, by treaties and the law of nations, at home and abroad, by land and sea. These rights, which, in violation of the specific promise of their party made at Baltimore in 1912, the Democratic President and the Democratic Congress have failed to defend, we will unflinchingly maintain.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

We desire peace, the peace of justice and right, and believe in maintaining a strict and honest neutrality between the belligerents in the great war in Europe. We must perform all our duties and insist upon all our rights as neutrals without fear and without favor. We believe that peace and neutrality, as well as the dignity and influence of the United States, cannot be preserved by shifty expedients, by phrase-making, by performances in language, or by attitudes ever changing in an effort to secure groups of voters. The present administration has destroyed our influence abroad and humiliated us in our own eyes. The Republican Party believes that a firm, consistent, and courageous foreign policy, always maintained by Republican presidents in accordance with American traditions, is the best, as it is the only true way, to preserve our peace and restore us to our rightful place among the nations.

We believe in the pacific settlement of international disputes, and favor the establishment of a world court for that purpose.

MEXICO.

We deeply sympathize with the fifteen million people of Mexico who for three years have seen their country devastated, their homes destroyed, their fellow citizens murdered and their women outraged, by armed bands of desperadoes led by self-seeking, conscienceless agitators who, when temporarily successful in any locality, have neither sought nor been able to restore order or establish and maintain peace.

We express our horror and indignation at the outrages which have been and are being perpetrated by these bandits upon American men and women who were or are in Mexico by invitation of the laws and of the government of that country and whose rights to security of person and property are guaranteed by solemn treaty obligations. We denounce the indefensible methods of interference employed by this administration in the internal affairs of Mexico and refer with shame to its failure to discharge the duty of this country as next friend to Mexico, its duty to other powers who have relied upon us as such friend, and its duty to our citizens in Mexico, in permitting the continuance of such conditions, first by failure to act promptly and firmly, and second, by lending its influence to the continuation of such conditions through recognition of one of the factions responsible for these outrages.

We pledge our aid in restoring order and maintaining peace in Mexico. We promise to our citizens on and near our border, and to those in Mexico, wherever they may be found, adequate and absolute protection in their lives, liberty and property.

MONROE DOCTRINE.

We reaffirm our approval of the Monroe Doctrine, and declare its maintenance to be a policy of this country essential to its present and future peace and safety and to the achievement of its manifest destiny.

LATIN AMERICA.

We favor the continuance of Republican policies which will result in drawing more and more closely the commercial, financial and social relations between this country and the countries of Latin America.

PHILIPPINES.

We renew our allegiance to the Philippine policy inaugurated by McKinley, approved by Congress and consistently carried out by Roosevelt and Taft. Even in this short time it has enormously improved the material and social conditions of the Islands, given the Philippine people a constantly increasing participation in their Government and, if persisted in, will bring still greater benefits in the future.

We accepted the responsibility of the Islands as a duty to civilization, and the Filipino people. To leave with our task half done, would break our pledges, injure our prestige among nations, and imperil what has already been accomplished.

We condemn the Democratic administration for its attempt to abandon the Philippines, which was prevented only by the vigorous opposition of Republican members of Congress, aided by a few patriotic Democrats.

RIGHTS OF EXPATRIATION.

We reiterate the unqualified approval of the action taken in December, 1911, by the President and Congress to secure with Russia, as with other countries, a treaty that will recognize the absolute right of expatriation and prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens whether native born or alien, and regardless of race, religion or previous political allegiance. We renew the pledge to observe this principle and to maintain the right of asylum, which is neither to be surrendered nor restricted, and we unite in the cherished hope that the war which is now desolating the world may speedily end, with a complete and lasting restoration of brotherhood among the nations of the earth and the assurance of full equal rights, civil and religious, to all men in every land.

PROTECTION OF THE COUNTRY.

In order to maintain our peace and make certain the security of our people within our own borders the country must have not only adequate but thorough and complete national defenses ready for any emergency. We must have a sufficient and effective Regular Army, and a provision for ample reserves, already drilled and disciplined, who can be called at once to the colors when the hour of danger comes.

We must have a Navy so strong and so well proportioned and equipped, so thoroughly ready and prepared, that no enemy can gain command of the sea and effect a landing in force on either our Western or our Eastern coast. To secure these results we must have a coherent and continuous policy of national defense, which even in these perilous days the Democratic Party has utterly failed to develop, but which we promise to give to the country.

TARIFF.

The Republican Party stands now, as always, in the fullest sense for the policy of tariff protection to American industries and American labor and does not regard an anti-dumping provision as an adequate substitute.

Such protection should be reasonable in amount but sufficient to protect adequately American industries and American labor and so adjusted as to prevent undue exactions by monopolies or trusts. It should, moreover, give special attention to securing the industrial independence of the United States as in the case of dye stuffs.

Through wise tariff and industrial legislation our industries can be so organized that they will become not only a commercial bulwark but a powerful aid to national defense.

The Underwood tariff act is a complete failure in every respect. Under its administration imports have enormously increased in spite of the fact that intercourse with foreign countries has been largely cut off by reason of the war, while the revenues of which we stand in such dire need have been greatly reduced.

Under the normal conditions which prevailed prior to the war it was clearly demonstrated that this Act deprived the American producer and the American wage earner of that protection which enabled them to meet their foreign competitors, and but for the adventitious conditions created by the war, would long since have paralyzed all forms of American industry and deprived American labor of its just reward.

It has not in the least degree reduced the cost of living, which has constantly advanced from the date of its enactment. The welfare of our people demands its repeal and the substitution of a measure which in peace as well as in war will produce ample revenue and give reasonable protection to all forms of American production in mine, forest, field and factory.

We favor the creation of a tariff commission with complete power to gather and compile information for the use of Congress in all matters relating to the tariff.

BUSINESS.

The Republican Party has long believed in the rigid supervision and strict regulation of the transportation and of the great corporations of the country. It has put its creed into its deeds, and all really effective laws regulating the railroads and the great industrial corporations are the work of Republican Congresses and Presidents. For this policy of regulation and supervision the Democrats, in a stumbling and piecemeal way, are undertaking to involve the Government in business which should be left within the sphere of private enterprise and in direct competition with its own citizens, a policy which is sure to result in waste, great expense to the tax payer and in an inferior product.

The Republican Party firmly believes that all who violate the laws in regulation of business, should be individually punished. But prosecution is very different from persecution, and business success, no matter how honestly attained, is apparently regarded by the Democratic Party as in itself a crime. Such doctrines and beliefs choke enterprise and stifle prosperity. The Republican Party believes in encouraging American business, as it believes in and will seek to advance all American interests.

RURAL CREDITS.

We favor an effective system of Rural Credits as opposed to the ineffective law proposed by the present Democratic administration.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

We favor the extension of the Rural Free Delivery system and condemn the Democratic administration for curtailing and crippling it.

MERCHANT MARINE.

In view of the policies adopted by all the maritime nations to encourage their shipping interests, and in order to enable us to compete with them for the ocean-carrying trade, we favor the payment to ships engaged in the foreign trade of liberal compensation for services actually rendered in carrying the mails, and such further legislation as will build up an adequate American Merchant Marine and give us ships which may be requisitioned by the Government in time of national emergency.

We are utterly opposed to the Government ownership of vessels as proposed by the Democratic Party, because Government-owned ships, while effectively preventing the development of the American Merchant Marine by private capital, will be entirely unable to provide for the vast volume of American freights and will leave us more helpless than ever in the hard grip of foreign syndicates.

RAILROADS.

Interstate and intrastate transportation have become so interwoven that the attempt to apply two and often several sets of laws to its regulation has produced conflicts of authority, embarrassment in operation and inconvenience and expense to the public.

The entire transportation system of the country has become essentially national. We, therefore, favor such action by legislation or if necessary, through an amendment to the Constitution of the United States as will result in placing it under complete Federal control.

ECONOMY AND A NATIONAL BUDGET.

The increasing cost of the national government and the need for the greatest economy of its resources in order to meet the growing demands of the people for government service call for the severest condemnation of the wasteful appropriations of this democratic administration, of its shameless raids on the treasury, and of its opposition to and rejection of President Taft's oft repeated proposals and earnest efforts to secure economy and efficiency through the establishment of a simple business-like budget system to which we pledge our support and which we hold to be necessary to effect any real reform in the administration of national finances.

CONSERVATION.

We believe in a careful husbandry of all the natural resources of the nation—a husbandry which means development without waste; use without abuse.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

The Civil Service Law has always been sustained by the Republican Party, and we renew our repeated declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended wherever practicable. The Democratic Party has created since March 4, 1913, thirty thousand offices outside of the Civil Service law at an annual cost of forty-four million dollars to the tax payers of the country.

We condemn the gross abuse and misuse of the law by the present Democratic administration and pledge ourselves to a reorganization of this service along lines of efficiency and economy.

TERRITORIAL OFFICIALS.

Reaffirming the attitude long maintained by the Republican Party, we hold that officials appointed to administer the government of any territory should be bona fide residents of the territory in which their duties are to be performed.

LABOR LAWS.

We pledge the Republican Party to the faithful enforcement of all Federal laws passed for the protection of labor. We favor vocational education; the enactment and rigid enforcement of a Federal child labor law; the enactment of a generous and comprehensive workmen's compensation law, within the commerce power of Congress, and an accident compensation law covering all Government employes. We favor the collection and collation, under the direction of the Department of Labor, of complete data relating to industrial hazards for the information of Congress, to the end that such legislation may be adopted as may be calculated to secure the safety, conservation and protection of labor from the dangers incident to industry and transportation.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The Republican Party reaffirming its faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people, as a measure of justice to one-half the adult people of the country, favors the extension of the suffrage to women, but recognizes the right of each state to settle this question for itself.

Such are our principles, such are our "purposes and policies." We close as we began. The times are dangerous and the future is fraught with perils. The great issues of the day have been confused by words and phrases. The American spirit, which made the country and saved the union, has been forgotten by those charged with the responsibility of power. We appeal to all Americans, whether naturalized or native-born, to prove to the world that we are Americans in thought and in deed, with one loyalty, one hope, one aspiration. We call on all Americans to be true to the spirit of America, to the great traditions of their common country, and above all things, to keep the faith.

THE SOCIALIST.

Chairman—Morris Hillquit, 30 Church Street, New York, New York.
Executive Secretary and Treasurer—Adolph Germer, 4447 Irving Park Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois.

Headquarters—803 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

National Committeemen from Pennsylvania—Charles A. Maurer, 517 Elm Street, Reading, Berks County; Charles W. Ervin, 1326 Arch Street, Philadelphia; Gertrude Breslau Fuller, 60 Mont Clair Avenue, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County.

The Socialist Party of 1917 did not hold a National Convention, the nomination of candidates for office and drafting of platform having been transacted by referendum of the membership. Nominated for President: Allan L. Benson, of Yonkers, New York; for Vice-President: George R. Kirkpatrick, of Newark, New Jersey. Adopted the following

PLATFORM:

In the midst of the greatest crisis and bloodiest struggle of all history the Socialist Party of America reaffirms its steadfast adherence to the principles of international brotherhood, world peace and industrial democracy.

The great war which has engulfed so much of civilization and destroyed millions of lives is one of the natural results of the capitalist system of production.

The Socialist Party, as the political expression of the economic interests of the working class, calls upon them to take a determined stand on the question of militarism and war, and to recognize the opportunity which the Great War has given them of forcing disarmament and furthering the cause of industrial freedom.

An armed force in the hands of the ruling class serves two purposes: To protect and further the policy of imperialism abroad and to silence by force the protest of the workers against industrial despotism at home. Imperialism and militarism plunged Europe into this world-war. America's geographical and industrial situation has kept her out of the cataclysm. But Europe's extremity has been the opportunity of America's ruling class to amass enormous profits. As a result, there is a surfeit of capital which demands the policy of imperialism to protect and further investments abroad. Hence the frenzy of militarism into which the ruling class has made every attempt to force the United States.

The workers in Europe were helpless to avert the war because they were already saddled with the burden of militarism. The workers in the United States are yet free from this burden and have the opportunity of establishing a working class policy and program against war. They can compel the government of the United States to lead the way in an international movement for disarmament and to abandon the policy of imperialism which is forcing the conquest of Mexico and must, if carried out, eventually plunge the United States into a world-war.

The working class must recognize the cry of preparedness against foreign invasion as a mere cloak for the sinister purpose of imperialism abroad and industrial tyranny at home. The class struggle, like capitalism, is international. The proletariat of the world has but one enemy, the capitalist class, whether at home or abroad. We must refuse to put into the hands of this enemy an armed force even under the guise of a "democratic army," as the workers of Australia and Switzerland have done.

Therefore the Socialist Party stands opposed to military preparedness, to any appropriations of men or money for war or militarism, while control of such forces through the political state rests in the hands of the capitalist class. The Socialist Party stands committed to the class war, and urge upon the workers in the mines and forests, on the railways and ships, in factories and fields, the use of their economic and industrial power, by refusing to mine the coal, to transport soldiers, to furnish food or other supplies for military purposes, and thus keep out of the hands of the ruling class the control of armed forces and economic power, necessary for aggression abroad and industrial despotism at home.

The working class must recognize militarism as the greatest menace to all efforts toward industrial freedom, and regardless of political or industrial affiliations must present a united front in the fight against preparedness and militarism.

Hiduous as they are, the horrors of the far-stretched battlefield of the old world are dwarfed by the evil results of the capitalist system, even in normal times. Instead of being organized to provide all members of society with an abundance of food, clothing and shelter, and the highest attainable freedom and culture, industry is at present organized and conducted for the benefit of a parasitic class. All the powers of government, and all our industrial genius, are directed to the end of securing to the relatively small class of capitalist investors the largest amount of profits which can be wrung from the labor of the ever-increasing class whose only property is muscle and brain, manual and mental labor power.

The dire consequences of this system are everywhere apparent. The workers are oppressed and deprived of much that makes for physical, mental and moral well-being. Year by year poverty and industrial accidents destroy more lives than all the armies and navies in the world.

To preserve their privilege and power is the most vital interest of the possessing class, while it is the most vital interest of the working class to resist oppression, improve its position, and struggle to obtain security of life and liberty. Hence there exists a conflict of interests, a social war within the Nation, which can know neither truce nor compromise. So long as the few own and control the economic life of the Nation the many must be enslaved, poverty must coexist with riotous luxury, and civil strife prevail.

The Socialist Party would end these conditions by reorganizing the life of the Nation upon the basis of Socialism. Socialism would not abolish private property, but greatly extend it. We believe that every human being should have and own all the things which he can use to advantage, for the enrichment of his own life, without imposing disadvantage or burden upon any other human being. Socialism admits the private ownership and individual direction of all things, tools, economic processes and functions which are individualistic in character, and requires the collective ownership and democratic control and direction of those which are social or collectivistic in character.

We hold that this country cannot enjoy happiness and prosperity at home and maintain lasting peace with other nations, so long as its industrial wealth is monopolized by a capitalist oligarchy. In this, as in every other campaign, all special issues arising from temporary situations, whether domestic or foreign, must be subordinated to the major issue—the need of such a reorganization of our economic life as will remove the land, the mines, forests, railroads, mills and factories, all the things required for our physical existence, from the clutches of industrial and financial freebooters and place them securely and permanently in the hands of the people.

If men were free to labor to satisfy their desires there could be in this country neither poverty nor involuntary unemployment. But the men in this country are not free to labor to satisfy their desires. The great industrial population can labor only when the capitalist class, who own the industries, believe they can market their product at a profit. The needs of millions are subordinated to the greed of a few. The situation is not unlike that of a pyramid balanced upon its apex. Oftentimes this pyramid tumbles and industrial depression comes. There was such a crash in 1907. If the capitalist owners had been willing to get out of the way, industry could have been revived in a day. But the capitalist owners are never willing to get out of the way. Their greeds come first—the people's needs, if at all, afterward. Therefore business did not quickly revive after the industrial depression of 1907. Mr. Taft was elected to bring good times, but in four years failed to bring them. Mr. Wilson was elected to bring good times, but not all of the measures he advocated had the slightest effect upon industry. The European war has brought to this country tremendous orders for military supplies and has created a period of prosperity for the few. For the masses of the people there is but an opportunity to work hard for a bare living, which is not prosperity, but slavery. As against the boast of the present national administration that its political program, now fully in force, has brought prosperity to the masses, we call attention to the statement of the Federal Public Health Service that $800 a year is required to enable a family to avoid physical deterioration through lack of decent living conditions, that more than half of the families of working men receive less than that amount, that nearly a third receive less than $500 a year, and that one family in twelve receives less than $300 a year.

The capitalist class, for a great many years, has been trying to saddle upon this country a greater army and a greater navy. A greater army is desired to keep the working class of the United States in subjection. A greater navy is desired to safeguard the foreign investments of American capitalists and to "back up" American diplomacy in its efforts to gain foreign markets for American capitalists. The war in Europe, which diminished and is still diminishing the remote possibility of European attack upon the United States, was nevertheless seized upon by capitalists and by unscrupulous politicians as a means of spreading fear throughout the country, to the end that, by false pretenses, great military establishments might be obtained. We denounce such "preparedness," as both false in principle, unnecessary in character and dangerous in its plain tendencies toward militarism. We advocate that sort of social preparedness which expresses itself in better homes, better bodies and better minds, which are alike the products of plenty and the necessity of effective defense in war.

The Socialist Party maintains its attitude of unalterable opposition to war.

We reiterate the statement that the competitive nature of capitalism is the cause of modern war, and that the co-operative nature of Socialism is alone adapted to the task of ending the war by removing its causes. We assert, however, that even under the present capitalist order, additional measures can be taken to safeguard peace, and to this end, we demand:

MEASURES TO INSURE PEACE.

(1) That all laws and appropriations for the increase of the military and naval forces of the United States shall be immediately repealed.

(2) That the power be taken from the President to lead the Nation into a position which leaves no escape from war. No one man, however exalted in official station, should have the power to decide the question of peace or war for a nation of a hundred millions. To give one man such power is neither democratic nor safe. Yet the President exercises such power when he determines what shall be the Nation's foreign policies and what shall be the nature and tone of its diplomatic intercourse with other nations. We, therefore, demand that the power to fix foreign policies and conduct diplomatic negotiations shall be lodged in Congress and shall be exercised publicly, the people reserving the right by referendum to order Congress, at any time, to change its foreign policy.

(3) That no war shall be declared or waged by the United States without a referendum vote of the entire people, except for the purpose of repelling invasion.

(4) That the Monroe Doctrine shall be immediately abandoned as a danger so great that even its advocates are agreed that it constitutes perhaps our greatest single danger of war. The Monroe Doctrine was originally intended to safeguard the peace of the United States. Though the Doctrine has changed from a safeguard to a menace, the capitalist class still defends it for the reason that our great capitalists desire to retain South and Central America as their private trade preserve. We favor the cultivation of social, industrial and political friendship with all other nations in the western hemisphere, as an approach to a world confederation of nations, but we oppose the Monroe Doctrine because it takes from our hands the peace of America and places it in the custody of any nation that would attack the sovereignty of any state in the western world.

(5) That the independence of the Philippine Islands be immediately recognized as a measure of justice both to the Filipinos and to ourselves. The Filipinos are entitled to self-government; we are entitled to be freed from the necessity of building and maintaining enough dreadnoughts to defend them in the event of war.

(6) The government of the United States shall call a congress of all neutral nations to mediate between the belligerent powers in an effort to establish an immediate and lasting peace without indemnities, or forcible annexation of territory, and based on a binding and enforceable international treaty, which shall provide for concerted disarmament on land and at sea and for an International Congress with power to adjust all disputes between nations, and which shall guarantee freedom and equal rights to all oppressed nations and races.

WORKING PROGRAM.

As general measures calculated to strengthen the working class in its fight for the realization of its ultimate aim, the Co-operative Commonwealth, and to increase its power of resistance against capitalist oppressions, we advocate and pledge ourselves and our elected officers to the following program:

POLITICAL DEMANDS.

1. Unrestricted and equal suffrage for men and women.
2. The immediate adoption of the so-called "Susan B. Anthony amendment" to the constitution of the United States granting the suffrage to women on equal terms with men.
3. The adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall and of proportional representation, nationally as well as locally.
4. The abolition of the Senate and of the veto power of the President.
5. The election of the President and the Vice-President by direct vote of the people.
6. The abolition of the present restriction upon the amendment of the constitution so that that instrument may be made amendable by a majority of the voters in the country.
7. The calling of a convention for the revision of the constitution of the United States.
8. The abolition of the power usurped by the Supreme Court of the United States to pass upon the constitutionality of legislation enacted by Congress. National laws to be repealed only by Act of Congress or by referendum vote of the whole people.
9. The immediate curbing of the power of the courts to issue injunctions.
10. The election of all judges of the United States Courts for short terms.
11. The free administration of the law.
12. The granting of the right of suffrage in the District of Columbia with representation in Congress and a democratic form of municipal government for purely local affairs.
13. The extension of democratic government to all United States territory.
14. The freedom of press, speech and assemblage.
15. The increase of the rates of the present income tax and corporation tax and the extension of inheritance taxes, graduated in proportion to the value of the estate and to nearness of kin—the proceeds of these taxes to be employed in the socialization of industry.
16. The enactment of further measures for general education and particularly for vocational education in useful pursuits. The Bureau of Education to be made a department.
17. The enactment of further measures for the conservation of health and the creation of an independent department of health.
18. The abolition of the monopoly ownership of patents and the substitution of collective ownership, with direct rewards to inventors by premiums or royalties.

COLLECTIVE OWNERSHIP.

1. The collective ownership and democratic management of railroads, telegraphs and telephones, express service, steamboat lines and all other social means of transportation and communication and of all large-scale industries.
2. The immediate acquirement by the municipalities, the states or the federal government, of all grain elevators, stock yards, storage warehouses and other distributing agencies, in order to relieve the farmer from the extortionate charges of the middlemen and to reduce the present high cost of living.
3. The extension of the public domain to include mines, quarries, oil wells, forests and water power.
4. The further conservation and development of natural resources for the use and benefit of all the people:
 - (a) By scientific forestation and timber protection.
 - (b) By the reclamation of arid and swamp tracts.
 - (c) By the storage of flood waters and the utilization of water power.
 - (d) By the stoppage of the present extravagant waste of the soil and the products of mines and oil wells.
 - (e) By the development of highway and waterway systems.
5. The collective ownership of land wherever practicable, and in cases where such ownership is impracticable, the appropriation by taxation of the annual rental value of all land held for speculation or exploitation.
6. All currency shall be issued by the Government of the United States and shall be legal tender for the payment of taxes and impost duties and for the discharge of public and private debts. The Government shall lend money on bonds to counties and municipalities at a nominal rate of interest for the purpose of taking over or establishing public utilities and for building or maintaining public roads and highways, and public schools—up to 25 per cent. of the assessed valuation of such counties or municipalities. Said bonds are to be repaid in twenty equal and annual installments, and the currency issue for that purpose by the Government is to be cancelled and destroyed serially as the debt is repaid. All banks and banking institutions shall be owned by the Government of the United States or by the States.

7. Government relief of the unemployed by the extension of all useful public works. All persons employed on such work to be engaged directly by the Government under a work day of not more than eight hours and at not less than the prevailing union wages. The Government also to establish employment bureaus; to lend money to States and municipalities without interest for the purpose of carrying on public works, to contribute money to unemployment funds of labor unions and other organizations of workers, and to take such other measures within its power as will lessen the wide spread misery of the workers caused by the mis-rule of the capitalist class.

INDUSTRIAL DEMANDS.

The conservation of human resources, particularly of the lives and well-being of the workers and their families:

1. By shortening the work day in keeping with the increased productiveness of machinery.
2. By securing the freedom of political and economic organization and activities.
3. By securing to every worker a rest period of not less than a day and a half in each week.
4. By securing a more effective inspection of workshops, factories and mines.
5. By forbidding the employment of children under eighteen years of age.
6. By forbidding the interstate transportation of the products of child labor and of all uninspected factories and mines.
7. By establishing minimum wage scales.
8. By abolishing official charity and substituting a non-contributory system of old age pensions, a general system of insurance by the state of all its members against unemployment and invalidism, and a system of compulsory insurance by employers of their workers, without cost to the latter, against industrial diseases, accidents and death.
9. By establishing mothers' pensions.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

convened at Saint Paul, Minneapolis, Tuesday, July 18, 1916, and adjourned July 21st. Daniel A. Poling, of Columbus, Ohio, was made temporary chairman; and Robert H. Patton, of Springfield, Illinois, was made the permanent chairman. Nominated for President: Frank J. Hanly, of Indianapolis, Indiana; for Vice-President: Ira J. Landrith, of Baltimore, Maryland. Adopted on July 21st the following

PLATFORM:

The Prohibition Party, assembled in its Twelfth National Convention in the City of Saint Paul, Minnesota, on this twenty-first day of July, 1916, thankful to Almighty God for the blessings of liberty, grateful for our institutions and the multiplying signs of early victory for the cause for which the party stands, in order that the people may know the source of its faith and the basis of its action, should it be clothed with governmental power, challenges the attention of the Nation and asks the votes of the people on this Declaration of Principles.

PROHIBITION.

We denounce the traffic of intoxicating liquors. We believe in its abolition. It should be made a crime,—not a business,—and ought not to have governmental sanction.

We demand,—and, if given power, we will effectuate the demand,—that the manufacture, importation, exportation, transportation and sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited.

To the accomplishment of this end, we pledge the exercise of all governmental power—the enactment of statutes and the amendment of constitutions, State and National. Only by a political party committed to this purpose can such policy be made effective. We call upon all voters, believing in the destruction of the drink traffic, to place the Prohibition Party in power on this issue, as a necessary step in the solution of the liquor problem.

SUFFRAGE.

The right of citizens of the United States to vote should not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex. We declare in favor of the enfranchisement of women by amendments to State and Federal Constitutions.

We condemn the Republican and Democratic Parties for their failure to submit, to the States, an equal suffrage amendment to the National Constitution.

We remind the four million women voters that, in 1872, we declared for their political rights, the first so to do, and we invite their co-operation in electing the Prohibition Party to power.

PEACE AND PREPAREDNESS.

We are committed to the policy of peace and friendliness to all nations. We are opposed unalterably to the wasteful military program of the Democratic and Republican Parties. Militarism protects no worthy institution. It endangers them all and violates the high principles which have brought us as a Nation to the present hour. We are for a constructive program in preparedness for peace. We declare for, and will promote, a World Court, to which national differences shall be submitted, so maintained as to give its decrees binding force.

We will support a compact among nations to dismantle navies and disband armies; but, until such World Court and compact are established, we pledge ourselves to maintain an effective army and navy and to provide coast defenses entirely adequate for national protection.

We are opposed to universal military service and to participation in the rivalry which has brought Europe to the shambles and now imperils the civilization of the race.

Private profit, so far as constitutionally possible, should be taken out of the manufacture of war munitions and all war equipment.

In normal times, we favor the employment of the army in vast reclamation plans; in reforesting hills and mountains; in building State and National highways; in the construction of an inland waterway from Florida to Maine; in opening Alaska and in unnumbered other projects, which will make our soldiers constructive builders of peace. For such service there should be paid an adequate, industrial wage.

Those units of our navy which are capable of being converted into merchantmen and passenger vessels should be constructed with that purpose in view, and chiefly so utilized in times of peace.

We condemn the political parties, which for more than thirty years have allowed munition and war equipment manufacturers to plunder the people and to jeopardize the highest interests of the Nation by furnishing honey-combed armor plate and second rate battleships, which the Navy League now declares are wholly inadequate.

We will not allow the country to forget that the first step toward physical, economic, moral and political preparedness is the enactment of National Prohibition.

MEXICO AND THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Mexico needs not a conqueror, but a good Samaritan. We are opposed to the violation of the sovereignty of the Mexican people, and we will countenance no war of aggression against them. We pledge the help of this country on the suppression of lawless bands of marauders and murderers, who have taken the lives of American citizens, on both sides of the border, as well as of Mexicans in their own country.

The lives and property of our citizens, when about their lawful pursuits, either in the United States or in Mexico, must and will be protected. In the event of a breakdown of government across the border, we would use, in the interests of civilization, the force necessary for the establishment of law and order.

In this connection we affirm our faith in the Monroe Doctrine, proclaimed in the early days of the Nation's life and unswervingly maintained for nearly a hundred years.

We cannot claim the benefits of the Doctrine and refuse to assume or discharge the responsibilities and the duties which inhere therein and flow therefrom.

These duties have long been unmet in Mexico. We should meet them now, acting, not for territory, not for conquest or for ourselves alone, but for and with all the nations of North and South America.

The Democratic Party has blundered and four years ago the Republican Party evaded, and passed on, the problem it now seeks the opportunity to solve.

THE PHILIPPINES.

The abandonment of the Philippines at this time would be an injustice to them and a violation of our plain duty. As soon as they are prepared for self-government, by education and training, they should be granted their independence on terms just to themselves and us.

TARIFF AND RECIPROCITY.

The countries at war are preparing for a fierce industrial struggle to follow the cessation of hostilities. As a matter of commercial economy, international friendliness, business efficiency, and as a help to peace, we demand that reciprocal trade treaties be negotiated with all nations with which we have trade relations.

A Commission of specialists, free from the control of any party, should be appointed, with power to gather full information on all phases of the questions of tariff and reciprocity, and to recommend such legislation as it deems necessary for the welfare of American business and labor.

MERCHANT MARINE.

The necessity of legislation to enable American shipbuilders or owners to meet foreign competition, on the most favorable terms, is obvious.

Materials for construction should be admitted free of duty.

The purchase of ships abroad, when low prices invite, should be allowed and, when so purchased, should be admitted to American registry.

Harbor rules and charges and navigation laws should not be onerous, but favorable to the highest degree.

Liberal payment should be made by the Government for carrying mails and for transport services.

All shipping from the United States to any of our possessions should be reserved to ships of American registry.

The people should not overlook the fact that the effect of Nation-wide Prohibition, on labor and industry generally, will be such as to lower the cost of shipbuilding per unit and, at the same time, permit the payment of higher wages. The increased volume of trade and commerce, which will result when the wastage of the liquor traffic is stopped, will quicken our shipping on every sea and send our flag on peaceful missions into every port. This is urged as an incidental effect of wise action on the liquor question, but is none the less to be desired and will aid in the solution of the problem of our merchant marine.

CIVIL SERVICE.

In order that the public service may be of the highest standard, the Government should be a model employer in all respects. To enforce the civil service law, in spirit as well as in letter, all promotions should be non-political, based only upon proven fitness; all recommendations for demotions or removals from the service should be subjected to the review of a non-partisan board or commission.

The merit system should be extended to cover all postmasters, collectors of revenue, marshals and other such public officials whose duties are purely administrative.

We reaffirm our allegiance to the principle of secure tenure of office, during good behavior and capable effort, as the means of obtaining expert service. We declare for the enactment of an equitable retirement law for disabled and superannuated employes, in return for faithful service rendered, in order to maintain a high degree of efficiency in public office.

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

Differences between capital and labor should be settled through arbitration, by which the rights of the public are conserved, as well as those of the disputants. We declare for the prohibition of child labor in factories, mines and workshops; an eight-hour maximum day, with one day of rest in seven; more rigid sanitary requirements and such working conditions as shall foster the physical and moral well-being of the unborn; the protection of all who toil by the extension of Employers' Liability Acts; the adoption of safety appliances for the protection of labor and for laws that will promote the just division of the wealth which labor and capital jointly produce. Provision should be made for those who suffer from industrial accidents and occupational diseases.

SOCIAL JUSTICE.

We stand for justice to humanity and for its rights, safety and development; we believe in the equality of all before the law; in old-age pensions and insurance against unemployment and in help for needy mothers, all of which could be provided from what is now wasted for drink.

AGRICULTURE.

While it is admitted that grain and cotton are fundamental factors in our national life, it cannot be denied that proper assistance and protection are not given these commodities at terminal markets, in the course of interstate commerce.

We favor and pledge our efforts to obtain public grain elevators at necessary terminal markets, such elevators to be owned and operated by the Federal Government, also to secure Federal grain inspection under a system of civil service and to abolish any Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, or other place of gambling in grain or trading in "options" or "futures" or "short-selling," or any other form of so-called speculation, wherein products are not received or delivered, but wherein so-called contracts are settled by the payment of "margins" or "differences" through clearing houses or otherwise.

This Party stands committed to free and open markets, based upon legitimate supply and demand, absolutely free from questionable practices of market manipulation. We favor government ware-houses for cotton at proper terminals where the interests of producers so require; and the absolute divorce of all railroad elevators or ware-houses owned by railroad companies, whether for public or private use, from operation or control by private individuals in competition with the public in merchandising grain, cotton and other farm products.

We furthermore endorse all proper co-operative methods which tend toward broader and better markets for producer and consumer.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Public utilities and other resources, which are natural monopolies, now are exploited for personal gain under a monopolistic system. We demand the ownership or control of such utilities by the people and their operation and administration in the interests of all.

FREE INSTITUTIONS.

We stand for the preservation and development of our free institutions and for absolute separation of church and state, with the guaranty of full religious and civil liberty.

DEPARTMENTAL DECISIONS.

Departmental decisions ought not to be final, but the rights of the people should be protected by provision for court review.

CONSERVATION.

We reaffirm our declarations in favor of conservation of forests, water power and other natural resources.

EFFICIENCY.

We pledge a business-like administration of the Nation's affairs; the abolition of useless offices, bureaus and commissions; economy in the expenditure of public funds; efficiency in governmental service; and the adoption of the budget system.

The President should have power to veto any single item or items of an appropriation bill.

We condemn, and agree when in power to remedy, that which is known as "pork barrell" legislation, by which millions of dollars have been appropriated for rivers where there is no commerce, harbors where there are no ships and public buildings where there is no need.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

We favor uniform marriage and divorce laws, the extermination of polygamy and the complete suppression of the traffic in girls and women.

SINGLE PRESIDENTIAL TERM.

We are in favor of a single presidential term of six years.

RULE OF THE PEOPLE.

We favor the initiative, referendum and recall.

AMERICANISM.

We stand for Americanism. We believe this country was created for a great mission among the nations of the earth. We rejoice in the fact that it has offered asylum to the oppressed of other lands and to those, more fortunately situated, who yet wished to improve their condition. It is the land of all peoples and belongs not to any one,—it is the heritage of all. It should come first in the affection of every citizen, and he who loves another land more than this is not fit for citizenship here; but he is a better citizen, who, loving his country, has reverence for the land of his fathers, and gains from its history and traditions that which inspires him to nobler service to the one in which he lives.

The Federal Government should interest itself in helping the newcomer into that vocation and locality where he shall most quickly become an American. Those, fitted by experience and training for agricultural pursuits, should be encouraged to develop the millions of acres of rich and idle land.

CONCLUSION.

This is the day of opportunity for the American people. The triumph of neither old political party is essential to our safety or progress. The defeat of either will be no public misfortune. They are one party. By age and wealth, by membership and traditions, by platforms and in the character of their candidates, they are the Conservative Party of the United States.

The Prohibition Party, as the promoter of every important measure of social justice presented to the American people in the last two generations, and, as the originator of nearly all such legislation, remains now the only great Progressive Party.

The patriotic voters, who compose the Republican and Democratic Parties, can, by voting the Prohibition ticket this year, elect the issue of National Prohibition.

To those, of whatever political faith, who have the vision of a land redeemed from drink, we extend a cordial invitation to join with us in carrying the banner of Prohibition to Nation-wide victory.

THE SOCIALIST LABOR.

Secretary—Arnold Peterson, 45-51 Rose Street, New York, New York.

Treasurer—William A. Walters, 45-51 Rose Street, New York, New York.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

convened at New York, New York, Saturday, April 29, 1916, and adjourned May 3d. Arthur Elmer Reimer, of Boston, Massachusetts, was made temporary chairman of the convention. Nominated for President: Arthur Elmer Reimer, of Boston, Massachusetts; for Vice-President: Caleb Harrison, of Chicago, Illinois. Adopted on April 29th the following

PLATFORM:

The Socialist Labor Party, in national convention assembled, reaffirming its previous platform declarations, reasserts the right of man to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

We hold that the purpose of government is to secure every citizen the enjoyment of this right; but taught by experience we hold furthermore that such right is illusory to the majority of the people, to wit, the working class, under the present system of economic inequality that is essentially destructive of their life, their liberty, and their happiness.

We hold that the true theory of economics is that the means of production must be owned, operated, and controlled by the people in common. Man cannot exercise his right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness without the ownership of the land on, and the tool with which to work. Deprived of these, his life, his liberty and his fate fall into the hands of that class which owns these essentials for work and production.

We hold that the existing contradiction between social production and capitalist appropriation—the latter resulting from the private ownership of the natural and social opportunities—divides the people into two classes; The Capitalist Class and the Working Class; throws society into the convulsions of the Class Struggle; and perverts government in the interests of the Capitalist Class.

Thus Labor is robbed of the wealth it alone produces, is denied the means of self-employment, and, by compulsory idleness in wage slavery, is even deprived of the necessities of life.

Against such a system the Socialist Labor Party raises the banner of revolt, and demands the unconditional surrender of the Capitalist Class.

In place of such a system the Socialist Labor Party aims to substitute a system of social ownership of the means of production, industrially administered by the Working Class,—the workers to assume control and direction as well as operation of their industrial affairs.

This solution of necessity requires the organization of the Working Class as a class upon revolutionary political and industrial lines.

We therefore call upon the wage workers to organize themselves into a revolutionary political organization under the banner of the Socialist Labor Party; and to organize themselves likewise upon the industrial field into a revolutionary industrial union in keeping with their political aims.

And we also call upon all other intelligent citizens to place themselves squarely upon the ground of Working Class interests, and join us in this mighty and noble work of human emancipation, so that we may put summary end to the existing barbarous class conflict by placing the land and all the means of production, transportation, and distribution into the hands of the people as a collective body, and substituting the Co-operative Commonwealth for the present state of planless production, industrial war and social disorder—a commonwealth in which every worker shall have the free exercise and full benefit of his faculties, multiplied by all the modern factors of civilization.

RESOLUTION ON PREPAREDNESS.

Whereas, The conflict of economic interests of groups of capitalists in different countries that are compelled to seek foreign markets and to attempt to dominate the world market, makes war between nations actual or ever imminent, and

Whereas, The workers are exploited and robbed in times of peace at home, and in times of war are compelled to slaughter their fellow workers in other lands in order to force a market for the wealth produced by them but of which they are robbed by the capitalists; and

Whereas, The working class can have no possible interest in the quarrels of the robber class over division or disposition of the wealth stolen from the workers; and no set of circumstances can justify the sending of one country's proletariat to slaughter the proletariat of another country in defense of capitalism in any form whatever; and

Whereas, Under the rule of capitalism as expressed in government by the Political State there are but two Nations—the Working Class and the Capitalist Class; and as, broadly speaking, the interests of the capitalist class are common internationally, so are the interests of the workers common internationally;

Therefore, We recognize in the military "preparedness" program of the owning class a movement hostile to the interests and lives of the working people and maintain that the only "national defense" program worthy of the workers' attention is the kind that contemplates defense of their own class interests against the only real enemy, which is the capitalist class, irrespective of country; and to prepare by organization politically and industrially to seize the power of government and take possession of industries in all countries to the end that Socialism shall be established, thus establishing community of economic interests of the peoples of all countries and races, which must result in abolishing wars together with the cause of wars, forever.

The Socialist Labor Party also holds that pending the time of the complete overthrow of the capitalist wage system, the working classes of the world will not be in a position to make wars impossible, no matter how much they may be imbued with the spirit and ideas of internationalism, anti-militarism and anti-patriotism, unless they build up in their respective countries economic organizations on revolutionary industrial union lines. These organizations in order to be effective for the purpose must be sufficiently strong to enable the workers,—in case their governments attempt again to plunge the world into war—to prevent mobilization of troops, ammunitions, and other war supplies by paralyzing the mines, and all means of communication, transportation and all industries where ammunition and other war supplies are manufactured.

RESOLUTION ON ECONOMIC ORGANIZATION.

Whereas, There exists today in the United States two conceptions of what an economic organization of Labor should be; and

Whereas, One conception—that held by the American Federation of Labor and kindred unions—is that the organization should concede the right of capitalists to own and control industry, and should be built upon narrow craft lines for the sole purpose of protecting its members in their employment and of securing petty improvements in the conditions of Labor, thus becoming a mere "watch-your-job-and-boost-your-pay" organization; and

Whereas, The other conception—that held only by the Workers' International Industrial Union—is that the economic organization of Labor should deny the right of capitalism to continue in the ownership and control of industry and that it should be built upon industrial lines, not only with the aim of more effectively co-operating in the daily struggle against the employing class, but for the supreme purpose of taking possession of the industries and operating them in the interests of society as a whole; and

Whereas, "Neutrality" toward economic organizations of Labor on the part of a political party of Socialism is equivalent to neutrality toward organizations that endorse and support the system of private ownership of the social means of producing wealth, the system which the party is fighting; and

Whereas, The bona fide or revolutionary Socialist Movement needs the economic as well as the political organization of Labor, the latter for propaganda and as a civilized means of registering public opinion through the ballot; the former as the only conceivable organized force without which all ballot is impotent, and which force is essential for ultimately locking out the capitalist class from the industries; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Socialist Labor Party, do all in its power to show the fallacy of craft unionism, and urge the workers to organize industrially on the principles of the Workers' International Industrial Union.

RESOLUTION ON CONDUCT DURING STRIKES.

Resolved, That the Socialist Labor Party, while retaining its right to criticise and expose all wrongfully constructed and conducted labor organizations, and exercising its duty to do so, emphatically maintains its position that it is the duty of every member of the party to stand on the side of the workmen whenever a bona fide strike or other conflict for improved conditions of labor occurs, either as a spontaneous action of the workers or as a result of action taken by any labor organization whatever.

PLATFORM.

The State Committee reconvened at Harrisburg, Saturday, September 14, 1918, at which time, the Platform Committee made the following report which was adopted:

PREAMBLE.

The Democratic Party in Pennsylvania, represented by the Democratic State Committee, presents to the people the following record of achievements and it declares the ensuing principles of government as the policies by which it is guided in order that those who approve of this record and these principles may participate actively in the government of the Commonwealth and of the Country by supporting for public office candidates of the Democratic Party in the State of Pennsylvania.

*Elected September 4, 1918, to succeed George R. McLean of Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, who resigned September 4, 1918.

ENDORSEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT.

We ardently express our pride and confidence in the leadership of our President, Woodrow Wilson. In the most crucial period of the world's history he stands pre-eminent in foresight, comprehension, courage and initiative, the veritable field-marshal of freedom in the prevention of despotism from dominating the earth and in the preservation of liberty and popular government of its people. His extraordinary ability to voice the aspirations and purposes of democracy, his clear, definite view of the correct finality of the war, and his swift and unswerving course to that end have made him the chieftain of the twenty-eight nations fighting for justice and humanity, and the trustee of the hopes of their millions and millions of people.

ENDORSEMENT OF CONGRESS.

We also declare our admiration of the prompt and patriotic action of Congress in accurately solving the great problems of statesmanship continually confronting it. Tested, as no previous body of legislators in the history of the republic have been tested, by the magnitude, variety and novelty of the momentous questions before them, these Nestors of the nation steadily have held us on a high and wisely chosen course through the channels of unprecedented war.

LEADERSHIP IN THE WAR.

Destiny has placed upon the Democratic Party the obligation of leadership in the greatest war ever waged by the nation or by the world. When the conflict burst upon us it was the sagacious President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, who, piercing the masques and disguises with which the Germanic empires sought to conceal the true purpose of their onslaught against the peace of the world, first announced to mankind that the concerted attack of Teutonism was not to punish Serbia but that in reality it represented the assault of arrogant autocracy determined to destroy democracy; that it was feudalism, modernly organized, endeavoring to re-establish itself with the Emperor of Germany as the over-lord of the entire world. Consolidating with singular clarity the motives which united the twenty-eight nations in the greatest alliance of all times, in the grand army of all ages, Woodrow Wilson, uttered the martial maxim of democracy by which this mighty host in arms is guided and by which this epochal struggle in future ages will be comprehended: "We seek the reign of law, based upon the consent of the governed and sustained by the organized opinion of mankind."

The Democratic Party thus personified in the President of the United States, in his associates in executive offices, and in the wise and vigorous majority in Congress, has met the obligation of leadership in this national and world-wide crisis with a genius, force and skill unequalled by any party in the history of nations at war.

Under their fast and faultless direction, one million and eight hundred thousands of our soldiers are overseas, another million is crossing, and many millions are being mobilized, while our navy has been so expanded that today in ships and personnel it is a magnificent armada, the second sea-power in the world. War, thus insolently and suddenly flung upon us, a quiet, peaceful people, unused to the methods and temper of warfare, has been met by the most marvelous, scientific mobilization of men and materials in the history of the world.

To our soldiers and sailors we send congratulations and proud and fervent greetings. They have justified manifold the great confidence which we, prompted by tradition, have placed in their valor. They have met the troops of Teutonism and reversed the progress of the war. The advance of battle today is swiftly towards Berlin. The fierce fighting spirit of our soldiers and sailors is not animated by a lust of carnage but it is fired by the realization that they are exacting retribution for the unspeakable cruelties perpetrated by German arms, German airplanes and German submarines, and by the realization that they are waging the final war in the age-long struggle of mankind for justice and freedom. We pledge to them our united support in every effort to the accomplishment of victory and we promise them in the days of their glorious home-coming such rewards that not one warrior among them will have just cause to say that his country is ungrateful.

The people of Pennsylvania, in company with their fellow citizens throughout the Union, stand face to face with the supreme test of American citizenship. The success of our army and navy calls for the aid of every man and woman in this Commonwealth, all giving bountifully of their fortune, their wisdom and their work. Woodrow Wilson, the guiding genius of all, must be encouraged, strengthened and enthused for the stupendous task still before him. We appeal therefore to the voters of Pennsylvania to fortify the President of the United States by electing throughout the State the Democratic candidates for Congress in order that the executive and the legislative branches of government may present an organized, co-operating effective combination of power, statesmanship thus matching our soldiery in swiftness and harmony of action and winning the war, speedily and conclusively, under Woodrow Wilson.

DEMOCRACY'S LABOR RECORD.

In a country of magnificent resources the most important resource is productive labor. The Democratic Party has kept faith with those who toil. Through the initiative of Woodrow Wilson and the strong, straightforward action of Democratic Congresses more reforms for labor have been accomplished than have characterized any previous administrative period in the legislative annals of the Republic. Not only have a group of progressive labor laws been written upon the statute books but salutary measures have been put in force by the executive officials of the government. The record of the Republican Party in this respect has been a vast morass of pledges preached in party platforms but bleak and barren of performances. The Democratic Party has more than fulfilled every pledge. It has meted out substantial economic justice. It not only has improved the conditions under which labor works but it has bettered the conditions under which labor lives. In proof thereof we present the actual record of the Democratic Party as guardians of the interests of American labor.

To the Democratic Party labor owes:

1. The establishment of the period of eight hours as a standard working day;
2. The creation of the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation for the adjustment of great railway and industrial disputes without recourse to strikes and lockouts;
3. The prevention of the abuse of writs of injunction;
4. The adoption of a comprehensive compensation law in order that workmen and their families promptly and automatically may be compensated for accident and death resulting from occupation;
5. The prohibition of human labor from being classed as a commodity or article of commerce;
6. The restriction of punishments for alleged contempts of court, and the extension thereto of trial by jury in all cases where the alleged contempt did not occur in the immediate presence of the court;
7. The specific enumeration of the acts which labor legally may commit in furtherance of its contention in a labor dispute;
8. The prohibition of funds, appropriated for prosecution of violations of the anti-trust laws, from being used to prosecute laborers for acts committed in furtherance of their legitimate functions;
9. The establishment of new safety and experimental stations for the Bureau of Mines in order to enable it to extend its work of safeguarding miners;
10. The extension of federal boiler inspection so as to apply also to locomotive engines and tenders;
11. The bestowal upon sailors of the right to terminate their employment because of unsatisfactory wages or conditions when their vessel is in a safe port;
12. The exclusion from interstate commerce of all articles produced by the labor of children. This law has been declared unconstitutional but the Democratic Party is pledged to the re-enactment of its principle in constitutional form.

DEMOCRACY'S PLEDGE TO LABOR.

Notwithstanding this record of achievements the program of the Democratic Party in behalf of labor is not complete. We champion the creation of a State commission to study the subject of wages in order that a minimum wage may be obtained by law in all industries. We believe that there should be a special extension in the laws of the Commonwealth for the protection of the women and minors now forced by war to perform work previously done by men, and whose presence in the ranks of toil is destined to remain long after the war has terminated.

We commend the system in operation in many enterprises throughout the State by which labor, in accordance with a system of bonuses, participates in the profits of production and we declare this principle to be a mighty stride in the promotion of economic justice and industrial peace. We applaud the appointment of practical representatives of labor upon the industrial councils and commissions of the nation and we declare that similar appointments should characterize like bodies in the State of Pennsylvania.

We favor the amendment of the Pennsylvania compensation law in order that the operation of the act may be more swift in behalf of the beneficiary, that the percentage of compensation may be increased, and that its provisions may be extended to all disability which arises from occupational disease.

To such a program of legislation for labor in Pennsylvania we pledge the support of the Democratic members of the State Legislature and upon this pledge we particularly ask for the support of the voters of the State for Democratic candidates for State offices.

POLITICAL EQUALITY FOR WOMEN.

We hold that the question involved in the general political enfranchisement of women no longer is debatable. Demonstration in many states throughout the Union has supplemented speculation and proven the soundness of the proposition that women by natural right are entitled to vote and to hold public office equally with men.

In ratifying this principle we further recognize the supreme services rendered by women in this war. They not only have accomplished efficiently the work which in previous conflicts has been performed by women but courageously they have taken places in activities however dangerous, laborious and severe, and there toiling have discharged tasks hitherto considered exclusively the work of men. Such achievements intensify the demand that the fictitious disabilities imposed upon women by law shall be removed.

REFORM IN EDUCATION.

We direct, betimes, the attention of the public to the coming of a new era in public education. At the close of the war Pennsylvania will be called upon to provide educational facilities in accordance with new conditions. A world must be rebuilt. The builders to a large extent are the boys and girls now in school who will reach maturity during the reconstruction period. In numbers they exceed our armies. Their work is equally important. Their training and equipment cannot be less. We advocate for them and for our returning soldiers the establishment of trade and vocational schools as an extension of our public school system so that the youth of Pennsylvania hereafter may not be sent into life with the meagre and scattered knowledge represented by a common and high school education but that they may be given, besides, a specific and thorough training in a practical, profitable and useful occupation.

We recommend laws which will organize systematically and sensibly the profession of public teaching in order that teachers may be appointed by virtue of scholastic and executive qualifications, that they may advance upon merit, that they may be adequately paid, secure in their tenure of position and that they may be pensioned when disabled by age.

Finally, we pledge our support of liberal appropriations to our normal schools and to our colleges and universities whose extraordinary services through their highly specialized men and women this war has made singularly conspicuous and whose presence in abundance the country will need after the war more than ever before.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION.

Forty-five years have elapsed since the adoption of the present constitution of Pennsylvania. During this long and eventful period many conditions that confronted its framers have disappeared, many new methods of government have been devised, and in some respects the intentions sought in our constitution actually have been defeated by the changes wrought by time. Evidence of the need of a revision is to be found in the group of proposed amendments annually submitted to the voters. We declare in favor of the assembling of a constitutional convention in order that our basic body of law may be so revised that the people may enjoy modern privileges which now are denied to them through the operation of an obsolete State constitution.

HOME RULE FOR CITIES.

We protest against the unnecessary restrictions imposed upon the governments of our cities by prohibitions in their charters and in the statutes of the Commonwealth. The modern theory of sound municipal government contemplates home rule to the utmost extent compatible with orderly and uniform State government. We demand, therefore, that the restrictions which unjustifiably hobble and cripple the administration of the cities of Pennsylvania shall be removed.

MINE CAVE-INS.

The Democratic Party vigorously sustains the people residing in the coal sections of the State in their demand that the State government shall extend to them its full engineering force to prevent further loss of property and jeopardy of life by the sinking of the surface of the earth above improperly and inadequately constructed mines.

IMPROVED COUNTRY HIGHWAYS.

The amazing growth of traffic along public highways due to the expansion of agriculture calls for the extension of the State's highway system so that all farming communities may be connected with their markets by improved public roads.

FLOODS AND WATERWAYS.

The need for the greater utilization of the State's water resources becoming more and more apparent through the exigencies of war, we pledge our efforts to the creation of and the carrying out of plans for the complete regulation of rivers in the State for the prevention of floods and as an aid to transportation.

CONCLUSION.

Upon this statement of pledges redeemed by the enactment of corresponding laws and upon this enumeration of principles which we are striving to have reduced to law the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania calls upon the voters of the Commonwealth to sustain the administration of Woodrow Wilson and to secure a similar administration in this State by electing to office candidates of the Democratic Party throughout the Commonwealth.

THE SOCIALIST.

Chairman—Roy F. Hoverter, Reading, Berks County.
 Executive Secretary—Treasurer—Birch Wilson, Reading, Berks County.
 Headquarters—440 Washington Street, Reading, Berks County.

CANDIDATES.

The Socialist Party candidates nominated at the primaries held on Tuesday, May 21, 1918, were, as follows: For Governor: Charles Schl, 2820 North Nineteenth Street, Philadelphia; Lieutenant-Governor: Dalton T. Clarke, 170 Wilson Avenue, Washington, Washington County; Secretary of Internal Affairs: William Adams, 614 Swissvale Avenue, Wilkinsburg, Allegheny County; Four (4) Representatives in Congress-at-Large: Cora M. Bixler, 481 West King Street, P. O. 27 Penn Square, Lancaster, Lancaster County; John C. Euler, 2668 Myrtle Street, Erie, Erie County; Henry W. Schlegel, 407 Turner Street, Allentown, Lehigh County; Harry T. Vaughn, 50 Main Street, Wheatland, Mercer County.

PLATFORM:

The Socialist Party of Pennsylvania, met in State Convention at Reading, Saturday and Sunday, March 2 and 3, 1918, at which a platform was adopted and submitted to a referendum vote of the membership in May, 1918. The platform as adopted is, as follows:

We, the Socialist Party of Pennsylvania, make our appeal to the voters of the State to support our candidates upon the principles laid down in the platform and program herein set forth.

We meet at a time of great national crisis. The world we were accustomed to has been destroyed. Our political liberties have been wiped out; the State Legislature, by combined action of Republicans, Democrats and reformers, has destroyed our social legislation secured after long years of untiring effort. The ruling class has seized the opportunity to coin the crisis into unheard of dividends at the expense of the government and nation, resulting in additional suffering among the masses. The industrial masters have shown themselves utterly incapable of social service; so that from every standpoint of public good, the time has come for the government to take over the great industries and operate them efficiently; the time has come when the people must assume complete control of the means of existence in order that all political and economic autocracy may be overthrown and universal democracy established.

EXISTING CONDITIONS.

The greatest problem the people face today is that of earning their livelihood. Through the constant rise in prices, the introduction of machinery and more efficient processes, the speeding up of work, the closing of avenues of employment by the wiping out of business concerns, it becomes ever harder for the masses of our people to make both ends meet. Sickness and untimely death readily overtake the bread-winners, children are torn from school and thrust into the labor market, while employment and poverty menace the welfare of the whole working class.

This is true no less of the toilers of the field than of the factory. It applies almost equally to the farm laborer, the tenant farmer and the owner of the small farm. Set upon by the different trusts which furnish modern appliances and supplies, which transport and dispose of the farm product, the farmers of small means and the laborers who share their burdens, carry all the cares of big business and reap none of the rewards. As a consequence, an exceedingly large part of the farmers work mortgaged land in this highly productive agricultural state of ours.

Likewise the men and women of the professions, and those whose meagre savings and long hours of effort are invested in small concerns, are little better off than working people and stand in constant fear of being squeezed out by the concentration of the larger corporations and trusts.

In short, the chief benefit of the increased cost of living, of industrial improvement and progress, flows to the handful of capitalists who own the larger tracts of land, natural resources, factories, stores and means of transportation and who, by their control over these agencies and banking facilities, control the livelihood of the rest of the people, whom they exploit for their own private gain.

THE REAL ISSUE.

The issue is, therefore, drawn between the working class, the great majority of the people, who by their labor of brain and brawn do the necessary work of the State, as against the capitalist class, the small group who, by their ownership as private property of the State's industries, live upon unearned wealth taken from labor.

The Socialist Party alone represents the working class. Its purpose is to end the existing economic and social injustice, and to bring in a higher order by raising the condition of those who toil and making opportunity equal to all.

The capitalist class accumulate vast property and power because they are favored by the policies of the other parties, Republican, Democratic and reform alike. These parties serve different factions of capitalists, but, taken together, they serve the capitalist class as a whole.

It was with the assistance of these parties that the corporations and trusts were developed, by being granted every manner of legislative, executive and judicial protection, enabling them to grow and flourish, so that they now exact tribute from the bulk of the people of the State.

EVILS WE SUFFER.

In their greed for profits, the masters of industry have poisoned our food and polluted our streams, endangering the health of many communities. They have given us the tenement of the slums in place of the home, the factory in place of the school and playground, the house of shame in place of the family hearth. They have made their workshops human slaughter houses and breeding dens for tuberculosis and other dread diseases. They have laid a premium upon the toil of little children and choked up the fountains of mother love. They have, by fraud and violence, stolen enormous tracts of public domain and destroyed the forests. The toil they take from the once independent farmer makes it difficult for him to hold the younger generation which the country sorely needs. They have, by the use of labor-saving devices, made of the mechanic a mere machine tender. They have throttled education, monopolized the discoveries and inventions of science, perverted the arts, subsidized the press and corrupted the rostrum. The masters of industry are the masters of the people.

DESTROYING OUR LIBERTIES.

Because the legislature, executive officers and courts of the Commonwealth have heretofore responded to the beck and call of the corporations and trusts, the injunction has become a powerful factor in labor troubles, the rights of free speech and free press have been ignored, while working people who have gone on strike to improve their hard lot have been cowed by extraordinary armed force in the shape of a State constabulary resembling the cossacks of old Russia.

We feel the same revulsion as did the founders of our republic against the quartering of troops among us in time of peace, and believe that to the several communities should be reserved the maintenance of their peace and good order. We, therefore, favor the repeal of the act authorizing the state constabulary.

We are also unalterably opposed to governors employing the power of martial law in labor disputes, and pledge ourselves to be ever on the alert to preserve the political rights bequeathed to us by centuries of struggle and sacrifice.

PROGRAM OF THE PARTY.

We also pledge ourselves, when in office:

To extend the suffrage to women, because any part of the people disfranchised is thereby enslaved;

To abolish poll-tax and establish a system of inheritance and income taxes to take all unearned wealth for State use;

To grant self-government to municipalities over local matters;

To establish the initiative, which is the right of the people to say the first word in legislation;

To establish the referendum, which is the right of the people to say the last word in legislation;

To establish the recall, which is the right of the people to remove untrustworthy officials;

To provide for the free administration of justice;

To make appropriations only to institutions in which the State has a share of control, and to improve the public school system;

To stamp out disease and foster education;

To have State work done by the State;

To establish income, inheritance and other taxes so that all unearned wealth may be taken over for State use;

To assist the farmers in raising sufficient food stuffs to be sold at reasonable prices, by forcing down the cost of agricultural implements, seed and fertilizer, insuring proper transportation and encouraging the movement of well-paid competent farm labor;

To provide for State insurance: to pay adequate compensation to employees injured at work and the families of those killed; also, against illness, invalidity, old age and unemployment; to exercise the right of eminent domain to take over land held out of use, and to assist the unemployed by public work at such fair wages and conditions of labor as will set an example to private employers;

To establish in the industries of the State a working week of not more than forty-eight hours, equal pay for equal service, at a minimum wage high enough to abolish child labor altogether;

To assist the workers in building up their labor unions, expecting them to bind their unions together in ever greater solidarity, so that they may use such power in united class action for their immediate benefit and final emancipation from wage slavery;

To safeguard in every way the well-being of the masses who toil against the class which exploits them.

THE SOCIALIST GOAL.

At the same time we point out that the evils which the people suffer in Pennsylvania are similar to those in other States and Nations, and that they will not be entirely removed until the nation and the world are carried for Socialism.

Socialism is that higher form of civilization wherein the means of existence necessary to us all, such as the lands, mines, mills and railroads, now owned by the capitalist class, will be owned and operated by the people together, so that goods will be made for common use instead of for private gain, so that there will be neither classes nor class rule, and so that there will no longer be the buying and selling of human labor.

We, the Socialist Party of Pennsylvania, therefore reaffirm our loyalty and devotion to the principles of International Socialism, as set forth in the platform of the Socialist Party of America, and pledge ourselves to work unceasingly to win the powers of government in order to close the reign of the money lords and bring forth the world-wide Socialist republic.

RESOLUTIONS:

PEACE RESOLUTION.

In conformity with the Memorial and Proclamation of the National Executive Committee on our attitude toward the war, and accepting as they do the overtures of the President of the United States for a democratic peace, we, the Socialist Party of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, ask that a Peace Conference be now called; that it meet upon the basis of the Russian Revolutionary formula of "No forcible annexations, no punitive indemnities, and the right of each nationality to its own development;" that such peace terms include complete disarmament of all nations; the permission of representatives of the people to sit at the peace proceedings; and that, as a preliminary, there be the release in this country of all prisoners whose offense is only that of conscientious obedience to the tradition of political liberty so dear to the American Nation.

MOONEY RESOLUTION.

No more despotic attack has been made upon the leaders of the organized labor movement in recent years than the attempt to railroad to the gallows Thomas Mooney and his co-defendants in San Francisco. Of the complete innocence of the men and women there is now no reasonable doubt, an investigating committee appointed by the President of the United States having exposed the outrageous frame-up against them. We therefore call for the immediate release of Thomas Mooney and his co-defendants, and pledge ourselves to support them to the limit of our resources.

ON MILITARY TRAINING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Whereas, The capitalist class is making determined and persistent efforts to use the public schools for the military training of children and for the inculcation of the military spirit; therefore be it

Resolved, That we are opposed to all efforts to force military training into the public schools, and that we recommend the introduction instead of a system of thorough and progressive courses in physical training.

ON TEMPERANCE.

The manufacture and sale for profit of intoxicating and adulterated liquors leads directly to many serious social evils. Intemperance in the use of alcoholic liquors weakens the physical, mental and moral powers.

We hold, therefore, that any excessive indulgence in intoxicating liquors by members of the working class is a serious obstacle to the triumph of our class, since it impairs the vigor of the fighters in the political and economic struggle, and we urge the members of the working class to avoid any indulgence which might impair their ability to wage a successful political and economic struggle, and so hinder the progress of the movement for their emancipation.

We do not believe that the evils of alcoholism can be eradicated by repressive measures or any extension of the police powers of the capitalist state. Alcoholism is a disease of which capitalism is the chief cause. Poverty, overwork and overworry necessarily result in intemperance on the part of the victim. To abolish the wage system with all its evils is the surest way to eliminate the evils of alcoholism and the traffic in intoxicating liquors.

THE PROHIBITION.

Chairman—Byron E. P. Prugh, Harrisburg, Dauphin County.
 Secretary—Charles L. Rummel, Shippensburg, Cumberland County.
 Treasurer—Thomas H. Hamilton, Harrisburg, Dauphin County.
 Headquarters—212 North Third Street, Harrisburg, Dauphin County.

CANDIDATES.

The Prohibition Party candidates nominated at the primaries held on Tuesday, May 21, 1918, were, as follows: For Governor: E. J. Fithian, Oak Hill, Oakland Avenue, Grove City, Mercer County; Lieutenant-Governor: F. E. Whittlesey, 202 West Church Street, Corry, Erie County; Secretary of Internal Affairs: Thomas H. Hamilton, 312 South Seventeenth Street, Harrisburg, Dauphin County; Four (4) Representatives in Congress-at-Large: *H. F. Dittman, 2108 West Ontario Street, Philadelphia; Albert Gaddis, North Union Township, P. O. Uniontown, Fayette County; Elisha Kent Kane, Hamlin Township, P. O. Kushequa, McKean County; E. L. McKee, 1926 Perrysville Avenue, Pittsburgh, N. S., Allegheny County.

The Prohibition Party of Pennsylvania in State Convention assembled this 12th day of February, 1918, recognizing Almighty God as supreme over men and nations, and Jesus Christ, His Son, as King of kings, and worthy to be crowned Lord of all, do hereby adopt the following declaration of principles as our

PLATFORM:

1. We stand for the complete abolition of the manufacture, sale, importation, exportation and transportation of all alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes and for the ratification of the pending National Constitutional Prohibition Amendment for the securing of this abolition; we believe further, that no party should be entrusted with the reins of government that does not openly stand for this abolition.

2. As patriotic Americans we stand by the President in his endeavor to lead us to victory over German Autocracy; and we urge him to use at once the power vested in him by Congress and rid our Country of the Brewery and Drinking Place, which are the Kaiser's most powerful American Allies.

3. We declare for Woman Suffrage and believe that the right of suffrage should be based upon morality and intelligence.

4. We stand for the enactment of such laws as will always place human rights above property rights; and insist that the inalienable rights of womanhood and childhood be still more securely safe-guarded.

5. We stand for compulsory arbitration of controversies between employers and employees.

6. We believe in the public ownership of public utilities.

7. If given the power, we promise a complete revision of the taxation system of the state in accordance with principles of justice and equity.

8. Likewise, we promise a vigorous enforcement of the laws of the State forbidding the defilement of our streams.

9. We also pledge ourselves to legislation providing for a system of durable and permanent highways to be economically constructed and supervised free from partisan influence and control.

10. We favor the conservation of the Sabbath as a day of rest, and advocate the legalizing of Saturday half-holiday as conducive to that result.

11. We stand firmly by the American principle of the absolute separation of church and state, and against the appropriation of public funds to sectarian purposes.

In support of these principles, the Prohibition Party of the State of Pennsylvania invites the co-operation of all good citizens at the polls.

The Prohibition State Committee convened at Harrisburg, Wednesday, June 5, 1918, at which meeting officers of the Committee and an Executive Committee were elected, and the following resolutions were adopted:

1. That we reaffirm our loyalty to the platform adopted by the National Prohibition party, and that which was adopted by our own state convention on February 12, 1918.

2. That in view of the absolute necessity for the conservation of food, fuel and man power, we demand the immediate enactment of bone dry legislation by Congress, and that the President use his great influence with Congress to secure such legislation, in order that the war may come to an early and victorious end.

3. That we declare it to be the policy of the Prohibition party in the coming campaign so far as possible to cooperate with the Pennsylvania Dry Federation or any other body of people intent upon the election of a Legislature that will ratify the prohibition constitutional amendment and enact State-wide prohibition; that where there is a contest between the "wets" and the "drys" in the old parties, our candidates should withdraw and let the old party "dry" candidates' names be placed on our ballots with the hope of helping to dry up the State; where the old party candidates are all "wet" we demand and expect that the "drys" shall in return rally round our candidates and endeavor to elect them; where all candidates in the old parties are equally "dry" there will be no call for our endorsement of any.

4. That any form of local option law is especially undesirable at the present time and Prohibitionists are urged to discourage and oppose all proposals for the passage of any local option law by the next Legislature.

*In five states the electoral vote was divided: In California and Ohio because the vote for the Cleveland and Harrison electors was so close; in Michigan because by act of legislature each congressional district voted separately for an elector; in Oregon because one of the four candidates for electors on the People's party ticket was also on the Democratic ticket, the result being three Republicans and one People's party elected; in North Dakota because one of the two People's party electors who were elected cast his vote for Cleveland, this causing the electoral vote of the State to be equally divided between Cleveland, Harrison and Weaver.

†In the States of Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, North Dakota and Wyoming the Democrats ran no electoral tickets, and voted for the People's party electoral tickets for the purpose of taking those states from the Republicans. With a few exceptions they also voted for the People's party electors in Nevada.

‡In Louisiana the Republicans and People's party united their vote, each nominating half of the eight candidates for electors, and in the table their aggregate popular vote is divided.

§In Oregon the highest vote for an elector was that cast for the one candidate who was on both the Democratic and People's party tickets. He received 35,813 votes. The next highest was for a Republican candidate for elector, 35,002. This gave the Fusion candidate (who afterwards voted for Weaver) a plurality of 811.

*There was fusion on the electoral ticket of the Democrats and Populists, and in some instances Silver Republicans, in the following states: Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming. In some of the states like Illinois and Kansas, there were Bryan-Watson tickets run by the Middle-of-the-road Populists.

It was impossible to separate the Populist from the Democratic vote in the states in which there was a fusion of those parties; for the reason that in some of the states, like Illinois, in which the two parties voted for the same electors, but upon separate tickets, county officers, in making returns to the Secretaries of State combined the votes on electors. In such cases the vote classed under the head "Bryan-Watson" was no indication of the strength of the People's party, while at the same time it gave too large a vote to the Democrats.

A choice was made on the 36th ballot, which was as follows: Jefferson—Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont and Virginia—10 states; Burr—Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island—4 states; Blank—Delaware and South Carolina—2 states.

POPULAR VOTE OF PENNSYLVANIA FOR PRESIDENT FROM 1789-1916.

Note: The majority of the returns given in the following table have been compiled from the official records on file in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Some were obtained from old newspapers, files and other publications issued at the time of the respective elections for which the returns are given. The data obtainable from the early records was so meagre that it was found impossible, in giving the vote for President, to follow any rule, but simply to give the vote as obtained. In several cases the vote given is for the elector receiving the highest vote on each ticket, in one or two cases it is the average vote for each set of electors, but since 1868 the vote for the first elector on the respective tickets is given.

Wednesday, January 7, 1789:

George Washington (seven counties missing), 5,930

Note: The first election for Presidential electors was held on the first Wednesday of January, 1789, under authority of an act passed by the General Assembly on October 4, 1788.

The total of 5,930 given above is the vote cast in all the counties of the State except Allegheny, Bedford, Cumberland, Dauphin, Fayette, Huntingdon and Westmoreland for Edward Hand, the elector receiving the highest vote; the vote of the said counties we have been unable to find.

Tuesday, November 6, 1792:

George Washington, Federalist (Henry electors, four counties missing), 3,479

George Washington, Federalist (Todd electors, four counties missing), 1,097

Note: The vote of 1792 is as taken from the official returns on file in the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office, and is complete except for the counties of Washington, Franklin, Huntingdon and Mifflin, which are missing. George Washington had no opposition for President, though in a majority of the counties two sets of electors were voted for, the set of fifteen which was elected and another of twelve, whilst in many counties local candidates received the entire vote, there being nearly one hundred such persons who received from 1 to 100 votes in the State. William Henry, the first elector on the ticket elected, received a total in the State, four counties missing, of 3,479. William Todd, the first of the set of twelve electors, received a total in the State, four counties missing, of 1,097.

Friday, November 4, 1796:

This is the only presidential election at which the electors of Pennsylvania did not have an opportunity of expressing by popular vote their choice for President. The Legislature having failed at the regular session of 1799-1800 to provide for the choosing of presidential electors in 1800, the Governor (Thomas McKean), on the 18th day of October, 1800, issued a proclamation for the assembling of the General Assembly in special session on the 5th day of November, 1800, at the court house in the borough of Lancaster, for the purpose of providing for the selection of presidential electors on behalf of Pennsylvania. The Legislature, after a contest between the two houses as to the method of electing the electors, passed an act, which was approved by the Governor on December 1, 1800, providing for the naming of eight candidates for presidential electors by each House, and the selection of fifteen therefrom at a joint session of the two Houses. On December 2, 1800, the joint session of both Houses was held and the eight nominated by the House and seven of the eight nominated by the Senate, making in all fifteen (the number to which Pennsylvania was then entitled), were elected as presidential electors to represent Pennsylvania, in the choosing of a President and Vice-President in 1800. At the meeting of the electoral college eight of the electors voted for Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr, the Republican candidates, and seven for John Adams and C. C. Includes all newspapers and periodicals which bear the authorized statement: "Entered at the post-office as second-class mail matter." (See sections 2 and 4.)

THIRD-CLASS

Includes all printed matter upon paper not having the nature of actual personal correspondence, except newspapers, and periodicals bearing the statement: "Entered at the post office as second-class matter." (See sections 2 and 4.)

Exceptions:—Miscellaneous printed matter (not books), weighing more than 4 pounds shall be included in matter of the fourth-class (parcel post), and after March 16, 1914, books weighing more than eight ounces shall be included in the fourth-class (parcel post).

FOURTH-CLASS—(Parcel Post.)

Includes all merchandise and all other matter not comprehended in the first, second, and third-classes. (See sections 2 and 4.)

NOTE.—Matter of a higher class enclosed with matter of a lower class subjects the whole package to the higher rate.

SECTION 1.

Domestic Mail Matter.

Domestic mail matter includes all matter deposited in the mails for local delivery, or for transmission from one place to another within the United States, or to or from or between the possessions of the United States.

Porto Rico and Hawaii are included in the term "United States." The Philippine Archipelago, Guam, Tutuila (including all adjacent islands of the Samoan group, which are possessions of the United States), and the Canal Zone are included in the term, "Possessions of the United States." The term "Canal Zone" includes all the territory purchased from the Republic of Panama, embracing the "Canal Zone" proper and the islands in the Bay of Panama named Perico, Naos, Culebra and Flamenco.

Domestic rates of postage also apply to mail matter sent from the United States to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, the Republic of Panama, and the United States postal agency at Shanghai, China, and matter addressed to officers or members of the crew of vessels of war of the United States. The domestic rate applies also to letters, but not other articles, addressed to Great Britain, Ireland, Newfoundland, Dominican Republic, New Zealand, Bahamas, Barbados, British Guiana, British Honduras, Dutch West Indies, Leeward, Danish West Indies, Trinidad, including Tobago and Windward Islands, including Grenada, St. Vincent, Grenadines, St. Lucia.

SECTION 2.

Classification and Postage Rates.

Domestic mail matter is divided into four classes:

FIRST CLASS.—Rate, 2 cents for each ounce or fraction. Limit of weight, 70 pounds for parcels mailed for delivery within the first, second, and third zones, and 50 pounds for all other zones. United States postal cards, 1 cent each; post cards, 1 cent each.

Includes: Letters, United States postal cards, post cards manufactured by private persons (see sec. 7), all matter sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, and all matter wholly or partly in writing, whether sealed or unsealed. Except manuscript copy accompanying proof-sheets or corrected proof-sheets of the same and the writing authorized by law to be placed upon matter of the other classes.

NOTE.—Typewriting and carbon and letterpress copies thereof are written matter and subject to the first-class rate. A printed communication having the character of actual personal correspondence is regarded as a letter. (See section 8.)

See section 3 for exceptions to prepayment.

SECOND-CLASS.—Unsealed.—Rate, 1 cent for each 4 ounces or fraction. Full prepayment required. No limit of weight.

This is the rate which applies to newspapers and other periodical publications bearing the printed statement: "Entered at the post-office as second-class matter," etc., when they are mailed by the public.

For permissible additions see section 4; wrapping, section 13.

NOTE.—The rates of postage on and the conditions applicable to second-class matter, when mailed by publishers or news agents, are not treated in this Digest.

THIRD-CLASS.—Unsealed.—Rate, 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction. Full prepayment required. Miscellaneous printed matter (not books), becomes fourth class (parcel post) matter when packages weigh in excess of four (4) pounds.

Includes: Books weighing 8 ounces or less, newspapers and periodicals not admitted to the second-class, circulars, miscellaneous printed matter on paper not having the nature of personal correspondence and weighing four pounds or less, and proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, and manuscript copy accompanying the same, and all matter in point print or raised characters used by the blind.

For permissible additions see section 4; wrapping, section 13.

FOURTH-CLASS—(DOMESTIC PARCEL POST) matter embraces all other matter, including farm and factory products, not now embraced in either the first, second or third class, not exceeding 70 pounds when mailed for delivery within the first, second, and third zones and not exceeding 50 pounds when mailed for delivery in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth zones. Parcels cannot exceed 84 inches in length and girth combined and cannot contain matter of a perishable nature within a period reasonably required for transportation and delivery.

The following table governs the postal rate on parcels to the different zones.

First zone includes approximately 50 miles distance.

Second zone includes approximately 150 miles distance.

Third zone includes approximately 300 miles distance.

Fourth zone includes approximately 600 miles distance.

Fifth zone includes approximately 1,000 miles distance.

Sixth zone includes approximately 1,400 miles distance.

Seventh zone includes approximately 1,800 miles distance.

Eighth zone includes all outside the seventh zone.

The above table applies to parcels weighing in excess of four ounces, fractions of pounds being considered full pounds. On parcels weighing four ounces or less the rate is one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce regardless of distance. Books weighing eight ounces or less shall be charged at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction of two ounces; on all in excess of eight ounces the rates as shown in the table shall be charged. Miscellaneous printed matter weighing in excess of four (4) pounds, shall be charged according to zone rates. Printed matter (not books) weighing four (4) pounds or less shall be charged at the rate of one cent for each two (2) ounces or fraction of two ounces.

(NOTE.)—All fourth-class (parcel post) matter should be marked to indicate if same is perishable or fragile.

Parcel post packages cannot be registered but can be insured at the following rates:

When the value of the parcel does not exceed $5.00.....	3 cents.
When the value of the parcel does not exceed 25.00.....	5 cents.
When the value of the parcel does not exceed 50.00.....	10 cents.
When the value of the parcel does not exceed 100.00.....	25 cents.

The charges on a package will be collected on delivery and returned to the sender by money order upon payment of 10 cents in addition to the regular postage providing that the amount to be collected does not exceed $50.00, and a fee of 25 cents in stamps provided the amount to be remitted does not exceed $100.00. Such a parcel becomes automatically insured up to $50, and $100 according to whether 10 or 25 cents fee is paid.

Upon every parcel or package transported from one point in the United States to another by parcel post on which the postage amounts to 25 cents or more, there shall be paid a tax of one cent for each 25 cents, or fractional part thereof charged for such transportation, to be paid by the consignor.

Insurance and C. O. D. fees the payment of which is evidenced by postage stamps being affixed, do not constitute postage on such matter.

The tax on fourth-class matter referred to is not applicable to parcels on which the postage amounts to less than 25 cents. On a parcel subject to 25 cents postage the tax is one cent; on parcels on which the postage amounts to from 26 cents to 50 cents the tax is two cents each, and so on. Parcels must not be accepted for mailing unless both the required postage and tax are fully prepaid.

Special Internal Revenue Stamps shall be used to pay the tax, which will be sold by postmasters to their patrons. Ordinary postage stamps are not to be used to pay this War Tax.

For permissible additions see section 4; wrapping, section 13.

SECTION 3.

Prepayment of Postage.

Postage on all domestic mail matter must be prepaid in full at the time of mailing by stamps affixed, except as follows:

(a) Letters for Soldiers, Sailors and Marines may be transmitted in the mails, without prepayment of postage. Letters of soldiers, sailors and marines connected with the American Expeditionary Forces may be mailed free of postage, provided they bear in the upper left hand corner the name of the soldier, sailor or marine, together with the designation of the service to which he belongs, as, for instance, Private John Doe, United States Army, United States Navy, or United States Marine Corps, as the case may be.

(c) First-class matter, prepaid one full rate, 2 cents.

NOTE.—In each of the above cases the matter will be forwarded to destination and the unpaid postage collected on delivery at single rates only.

(d) Matter of the second and third classes mailed in quantities of not less than 300 identical pieces upon which postage is paid in money, and 250 identical pieces of matter of the fourth class upon which postage is paid in money.

NOTE.—Postage—Due stamps, internal-revenue stamps, or embossed stamps cut from stamped envelopes, or stamps cut from postal cards will not be accepted in payment of postage.

SECTION 4.

Permissible Additions to Original Matter.

NOTE.—The words "personal" or "to be called for," and other directions as to delivery, and requests for forwarding or return upon prepayment of new postage, are permissible as part of the address on second, third, or fourth-class matter. (Parcel Post.)

Additions to Second-Class Matter.

1. ON THE WRAPPER, or the matter itself, there may be written or printed (1) the name and address of the sender, preceded by the word "from;" (2) the name and address of the person to whom sent; (3) the words "sample copy" or "marked copy," or both, as the case may be.
2. ON THE MATTER itself the sender may (1) place all that is permitted on the wrapper; correct typographical errors in the text; designate by marks, not by words, a word or passage in the text to which it is desired to call attention.
3. Other writing will subject the package to the first-class rate.
4. To be entitled to the transient second-class rate copies of newspapers or periodical publications must be complete. Partial or incomplete copies are third-class matter.

Additions to Third-Class Matter.

5. ON THE WRAPPER, envelope, or the tag or label attached thereto, or upon the matter itself, there may be written or printed the name, occupation, and residence or business address of the sender, preceded by the word "from;" there may also be printed on the wrapper, envelope, or the tag or label attached thereto, any matter allowable as third-class, but there must be left on the address side a space sufficient for a legible address, postmark, and the necessary postage stamps.
6. The words "please send out," or "post up," or other similar directions or requests, not a part of the address, nor necessary to effect delivery, may not be written upon the wrapper of third-class matter or upon the matter itself without subjecting it to postage at the letter rate.
7. ON THE MATTER itself the sender may place all that is permitted on the wrapper, and may make marks other than by written or printed words to call attention to any word or passage in the text, and may correct any typographical errors. There may also be written or printed upon the blank leaves of any book, or upon any photograph, or other matter of the third-class, a simple manuscript dedication or inscription not of the nature of personal correspondence. A serial number written or impressed upon third-class matter does not effect its classification.
8. WRITTEN DESIGNATION OF CONTENTS, such as "book," "printed matter," "photo," is permissible upon the wrapper of mail matter of the third class.
9. ENCLOSURES.—A single card bearing the written name and address of the sender, or an envelope bearing a written or printed name and address of the sender may be enclosed with a circular, catalogue, or other third-class matter without affecting the classification thereof.
10. PUBLIC LIBRARY BOOKS, otherwise allowable at the third-class rate, may bear any printed or written mark which may reasonably be construed as a necessary inscription for the purpose of a permanent library record.
11. ADDITIONAL IMPRINTING, by hand stamp, upon third-class matter will not affect its classification as such except when the added matter is in itself personal or converts the original matter into a personal communication; but when such appears to be the fact, the presentation at one time at the post-office window or other depository designated by the postmaster of not less than 20 perfectly identical copies separately addressed and unsealed will be sufficient evidence of impersonal character to entitle such matter to the third-class rate.
12. CORRECTIONS IN PROOF-SHEETS include the alteration of the text and insertion of new matter, as well as the correction of typographical and other errors. Includes also marginal instructions to the printer necessary to the correction of the matter or its proper appearance in print. Part of an article may be entirely rewritten if that be necessary for correction. Corrections must be upon the margin of or attached to the proof-sheets. Manuscript of one article cannot be enclosed with proof or corrected proof-sheets of another except at the first-class rate.

Additions to Fourth-Class Matter.

13. ON THE WRAPPER, envelope, tag, or label, in addition to the name and address of the addressee, there must be written or printed the name, and residence, or business address of the sender preceded by the word "from," and there may be any marks, numbers, names, or letters for the purpose of description. On the address side or face of the package there must be left a space sufficient for a legible address, postmark, and the necessary postage stamps.
14. ON THE MATTER itself, or upon the tag or label attached thereto, may be written or printed any matter authorized to be placed on the wrapper. Such words as "Dear Sir," "My Dear Friend," "Your Truly," "Sincerely Yours," "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and "Do Not Open Until Christmas," or words to that effect, written upon third-class matter are permissible inscriptions.
15. WRITTEN DESIGNATION OF CONTENTS, such as "samples," "candy," "cigars," are permissible upon the wrapper of mail matter of the fourth class.
16. INCLOSURES. With a package of fourth-class matter, prepaid, at the proper rate for that class, the sender may inclose a written or printed invoice showing the name and address of the sender and of the addressee; the names and quantities of articles inclosed, together with inscriptions indicating "for purpose of description," the price, style, stock number, size, and quality of the articles; the order or file number, date of order, and date and manner of shipment; and the initials or name of the salesman, or of the person by whom the articles were packed or checked. A single card bearing the written name of the sender and such inscription as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," etcetra, may also be enclosed with fourth-class matter without affecting its classification.

Drop Letters.

1. A "drop" letter is one addressed for delivery at the office where mailed.
2. Drop letters are subject to postage at the rate of 2 cents each ounce or fraction thereof, except at offices where there is no city, rural or star route delivery. At such offices the drop rate on letters is one cent an ounce or fraction thereof.
3. There is no drop rate on mail matter other than letters.
4. A request upon a drop letter for its return to the writer at some other post office, if unclaimed, can not be respected unless it has been prepaid with one full rate (2 cents) of postage.
5. Letters mailed at a post office for delivery to patrons thereof by star-route carrier, and those deposited for mailing in boxes along a star-route or rural free-delivery route, are subject to postage at the rate of 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof.

SECTION 6.

United States Postal Cards.

Postal cards are furnished at the postage value represented by the stamp impressed thereon; single postal cards for domestic and foreign correspondence at 1 cent and 2 cents each, respectively, and reply (double) postal cards at 2 cents and 4 cents each, respectively.

ADDITIONS.—Government postal cards may bear written, printed, or other additions as follows:

(a) Addresses on postal cards may be either written, printed, or affixed thereto.
(b) Advertisements, illustrations, or writing may appear on the back of the card and on the left third of the face.

(c) The face of the card may be divided by a vertical line placed approximately one-third of the distance from the left end of the card; the space to the left of the line to be used for the message, but the space to the right for the address only.

UNAUTHORIZED ADDITIONS.—The addition to a postal card of matter other than as above authorized will subject it, when mailed, to postage at the letter rate, if wholly or partly in writing, or at the rate for added matter, if it bears no writing. In such case the postage value of the stamp impressed on the card will not be impaired.

INTERNATIONAL POSTAL CARDS.—The United States international 2-cent single and reply postal cards should be used for correspondence with foreign countries, except Canada, Cuba, Mexico, and Republic of Panama, to which the domestic 1-cent single and reply cards are available; but when these international cards can not be obtained, it is allowable to use the United States domestic 1-cent single and reply postal cards with 1-cent United States adhesive postage stamps affixed thereto.

REMAILING.—Used postal cards conforming to the conditions prescribed for post cards may be remailed upon prepayment of 1 cent postage with stamp affixed.

REPLY OR DOUBLE POSTAL CARDS.—Either half of a domestic reply postal card may be used separately. Such postal cards should be folded before mailing, and the initial half should be detached when the reply half is mailed for return. If the initial half of a double postal card be not detached when the reply half is mailed for return, the card is subject to postage according to the character of the message. The enclosure in a double postal card of unauthorized matter annuls its privileges as a postal card.

SECTION 7.

Post Cards (Private Mailing Cards).

TRANSMISSIBLE, WHEN AND WHERE.—Post cards manufactured by private persons, consisting of an unfolded piece of cardboard in quality and weight substantially like the Government postal card, not exceeding in size approximately $3\frac{3}{16} \times 5\frac{3}{16}$ inches, nor less than approximately $2\frac{1}{4} \times 4$ inches, bearing either written or printed messages, are transmissible without cover in the domestic mails (including the possessions of the United States), and to Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Republic of Panama, and city of Shanghai (China), at the postage rate of 1 cent each, to be paid by stamps affixed.

Advertisements and illustrations may appear on the back of the card and on the left half of the face. The right half of the face must be reserved for the address, postage stamps and postmark.

NON-CONFORMING CARDS, RATE.—Cards which do not conform to the foregoing conditions are chargeable with postage at the letter rate, if wholly or partly in writing, or at the third-class rate, if entirely in print.

UNDER COVER, RATE.—Cards mailed under cover of sealed envelopes (transparent or otherwise), are chargeable with postage at the first-class rate; if inclosed in unsealed envelopes, they are subject to postage at the first-class rate if wholly or partly in writing, or the third-class rate if entirely in print—to be prepaid with stamps affixed to the envelope. Stamps affixed to matter inclosed in envelopes are not recognized in payment of postage thereon.

Double or reply post cards each portion of which conforms in size and quality, to the foregoing conditions are subject to 1 cent postage on each portion. The conditions pertaining to double postal cards, are also applicable to double post cards.

Folded advertising cards, and other matter entirely in print, arranged with a detachable part for use as a post card, are mailable as third-class matter.

SECTION 8.

Third-Class Matter.

Printed matter under the following conditions is third-class matter:

PRINTED MATTER DEFINED.—Printed matter is the reproduction upon paper by any process, except handwriting and typewriting, not having the character of actual personal correspondence, of words, letters, characters, figures, or images, or any combination thereof. Matter produced by the photographic process (including blueprints) is printed matter.

CIRCULARS.—A circular is defined by law to be a printed letter which, according to internal evidence, is being sent in identical terms to several persons. A circular may bear a written, typewritten or hand-stamped date, name and address of persons addressed and of the sender, and corrections of mere typographical errors.

Where a name (except that of the addressee or sender), date (other than that of the circular), figure, or anything else is written, typewritten, or hand-stamped in the body of the circular for any other reason than to correct a genuine typographical error, it is subject to postage at the first-class (letter) rate, whether sealed or unsealed.

EXCEPTION.—If such name, date, or other matter be hand-stamped, and not of a personal nature, the character of the circular as such is not changed thereby. (See also "Additional Imprioting," par. 11, section 4.)

REPRODUCTIONS or imitations of handwriting and typewriting obtained by means of the printing press, neostyle, hectograph, electric pen, or similar processes, will be treated as third-class matter—provided they are mailed at the post-office window or other depository designated by the postmaster in a minimum number of 20 perfectly identical, unsealed copies separately addressed. If mailed in a less quantity they will be subject to the first-class rate.

SECTION 9.

Letters of and Reading Matter for the Blind.

LETTERS.—Under special legislation all letters written in point print or raised characters used by the blind are mailable as third-class matter; that is, when mailed unsealed, they are chargeable with postage at the rate of 1 cent for each 2 ounces or fraction.

READING MATTER.—Books, pamphlets and other reading matter in raised characters for the use of the blind, which contain no advertising or other matter whatever, when sent by or returned to a public library or public institution for the blind, are entitled to transmission in the mails free, under the following conditions: When mailed by a public library or public institution for the blind the matter must be sent as a loan to a blind reader. When mailed for return to a public library or public institution for the blind the sender must be a blind reader. The matter must be wrapped so that it may be easily examined. On the upper left-hand corner of the envelope or wrapper containing the matter the printed or written name and address of the sender (whether public library, public institution for the blind, or blind reader) must appear, and on the upper right-hand corner the word "Free" over the words "Reading matter for the blind." The weight of a package must not exceed 4 pounds except in case of a single volume, which must not exceed 10 pounds.

Seeds, Bulbs and Roots.

1. Samples of flour, rolled oats, pearled barley, dried peas, and beans in which the germ is destroyed, cut flowers, dried plants, and botanical specimens, not susceptible of propagation, and nuts and seeds (such as the coffee bean) used exclusively as food, are subject to the regular Parcel Post rates—see table. (See paragraphs 6 and 9, section 13.)

2. Seeds, bulbs, roots, scions, and plants are fourth-class matter and therefore subject to rates as given in parcel post table when in excess of 8 ounces. When not in excess of 8 ounces the third-class rate (one cent for each 2 ounces) applies.

SECTION 11.

Delivery of Mail Matter.

1. The delivery of letters is controlled by rules and regulations of the Post-Office Department; the object of which is to insure and facilitate such delivery to the persons for whom the letters are intended. In the case of registered letters, the persons applying for them, if not known, will be required to prove their identity.

2. When a letter arrives at a post-office addressed to one person in the care of another, and the postmaster has received no instructions from the person for whom it is intended, it is his duty to deliver it to the first of the two persons named in the address who may call for it.

3. Parents or guardians may control the delivery of mail addressed to minors, except when they do not depend upon parent or guardian for support.

For Special Delivery, see section 19.

SECTION 12.

Unmailable Matter.

Unmailable domestic matter; that is, matter which is prohibited admission to the mails under any circumstances, includes:

1. All matter illegible, incorrectly, or insufficiently addressed.

2. All transient second-class matter and all matter of the third and fourth-classes not wholly prepaid; and letters and other first-class matter not prepaid one full rate—2 cents.

3. All matter exceeding the limit of weight or size prescribed by law.

4. All matter harmful in its nature, as poisons, explosives or inflammable articles, matches, live or dead (but not stuffed) animals (see par. 8, sec. 13), and reptiles, fruits or vegetables liable to decomposition before arrival or destination, guano, or any article exhaling a bad odor, vinous, spirituous or malt liquors, and liquids, liable to explosion, spontaneous combustion, or ignition by shock or jar, such as kerosene oil, naphtha and benzine.

5. All obscene, lewd, or lascivious matter, and every article or thing intended, designed or adapted for any indecent or immoral purpose, or for the prevention of conception or procuring abortion.

6. Postal, post, or other cards mailed without wrappers and all matter bearing upon the outside cover or wrapper or upon its face any delineations, epithets, terms, or language of an indecent, lewd, lascivious, obscene, libelous, scurrilous, defamatory or threatening character, or calculated by the terms or manner or style of display, and obviously intended to reflect injuriously upon the character of another.

7. All matter concerning any lottery, so called gift enterprise, or other enterprises of chance, or concerning schemes devised for the purpose of obtaining money or property under false pretenses and liquor advertisements in certain states.

SECTION 13.

Wrapping of Mail Matter.

1. All mail matter should be so wrapped as to safely bear transmission without breaking, or injuring mail bags or the contents of mail bags or the persons of those handling them.

2. Second, third and fourth-class matter must be so wrapped or enveloped that the contents may be examined easily by postal officials. When not so wrapped, or when bearing or containing writing not authorized by law, the matter will be treated as of the first-class.

3. Harmful articles of the fourth-class not absolutely excluded from the mails may be transmitted when packed in accordance with the following regulations:

(a) When not liquid or liquefiable, they must be placed in a bag, box, or removable envelope, or wrapping, made of paper, cloth, or parchment.

(b) Such bag, box, envelope, or wrapping must again be placed in a box or tube made of metal or some hard wood, with sliding clasp or screw lid.

(c) In cases of articles liable to break, the inside box, bag, envelope or wrapping must be surrounded by sawdust, cotton or other elastic substance.

4. Admissible liquids and oils, pastes, salves, or other articles easily liquefiable, will be accepted for mailing regardless of distance when they conform to the following conditions:

(a) When in glass bottles, the quantity must not exceed sixteen ounces, liquid measure. The bottle must be very strong and must be enclosed in a block or tube of metal, wood, papier-mache, or similar material; and there must be provided between the bottle and the block or tube a cushion of cotton, felt, or other absorbent. The block or tube, if of wood, must be at least three-sixteenths of an inch thick in its thinnest part; if of papier-mache or similar material, it must be at least one-eighth of an inch thick for bottles holding 8 ounces or less, and at least three-sixteenths of an inch thick for bottles holding more than 8 ounces. The block or tube must be rendered water-tight by an application of paraffine or other suitable substance.

(b) When in a metal container, the weight of the parcel must not exceed the parcel post limit. The container must be hermetically sealed and enclosed in a strong box, and securely wrapped.

(c) Pastes, salves, etc., not easily liquefiable, will be accepted for mailing when enclosed in water-tight metal containers and placed in a strong pasteboard or wooden box and securely wrapped.

5. Where sharp-pointed instruments are offered for mailing the points must be capped or incased so that they may not by any means be liable to cut through their enclosure, and where they have blades such blades must be bound with wire so that they shall remain firmly attached to each other and within their handles or sockets. Needles must be enclosed in metal or wooden cases so that they can not by any means prick through or pass out of their enclosures.

6. Seeds or other articles not prohibited, which are liable from their form or nature to loss or damage unless specially protected, must be put up in sealed envelopes made of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents without opening.

7. Ink powders, pepper, snuff, or other powders not explosive, or any pulverized dry substances not poisonous, may be sent in the mails when enclosed in the manner prescribed herein for liquids, or when enclosed in metal, wooden or papier-mache cases in such secure manner as to render the escape of any particles of dust from the package by ordinary handling of the mails without breaking; the method of packing to be subject to the approval of the General Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service.

8. Queen bees and their attendant bees, the "Australian lady bird," other live insects when addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., and to directors of agricultural experiment colleges, and dried insects and dried reptiles, may be sent in the mails when so put up as to render it practically impossible that the package shall be broken in transit, or the persons handling the same be injured, or the mail bags or their contents soiled. Live day-old chicks shall be accepted for mailing, without insurance or C. O. D. privileges, when the package in which they are contained is properly prepared and can be delivered to the addressee within 72 hours from the time of mailing. Live fowls and live domestic animals shall be accepted for mailing (without insurance or c. o. d. privilege) when securely crated and properly crated and can be delivered to the addressee within 48 hours from the time of mailing; such mailing shall not apply on any star or rural route, but shall be confined exclusively to rural motor vehicle truck routes and country motor express routes, and then only when delivery can be effected on the route where mailed or on a connecting rural motor vehicle truck route or country motor express route.

9. No specific mode of packing is prescribed for samples of flour, but they should be put up in such manner as to certainly avoid risk of the package breaking or cracking or the flour being scattered in the mails, and if this be not done the samples will be excluded.

10. Proprietary articles of merchandise (not in themselves unavailable), however, such as pills, fancy soaps, tobacco, etc., put up in fixed quantities by the manufacturer, for sale by himself or others, or for samples, which may be sealed in such manner as to properly protect the articles, but to allow examination of each package in its simplest mercantile or sample form, will be accepted for mailing at the fourth-class rate of postage.

See also "Unavailable Matter," section 12.

SECTION 14.

Forwarding Mail Matter.

1. First-class matter only can be forwarded from one post-office to another without a new prepayment of postage. This includes letters and other first-class matter prepaid one full rate (2 cents), parcels fully prepaid at the first-class rate, postal cards, post cards (private mailing cards), and official matter.

2. A new prepayment of postage on matter of the second, third and fourth-classes must be made by the addressee, or some one for him, every time it is forwarded, as follows:

3. Second-class matter, 1 cent for each 4 ounces or fraction. Third-class matter, the same rates as were chargeable thereon when originally mailed. Fourth-class matter, will be charged at the zone rate from the office of forwarding.

4. EXCEPTIONS.—Mail matter of the second, third and fourth-classes addressed to a discontinued post-office may, when the office to which such mail is ordered sent by the Department is not convenient for the addressees, be transmitted to such office as they may designate without additional charge.

5. Patrons of any office who, on account of the establishment of or change in rural free-delivery service, receive their mail from the rural carrier of another office, may have their mail matter of the second, third, and fourth-classes sent to the latter office for delivery by the rural carrier without a new prepayment or postage, provided they first file with the postmaster at the former office a written request to have their mail so sent. This is not to be construed as "forwarding" within the meaning of the law. Mail matter of all classes addressed to persons in the service in the United States (civil, military, or naval), whose change of address is caused by official orders will be transmitted until it reaches the addressee without a new prepayment of postage.

For forwarding of Registered matter, see par. 2, section 22.

Return of Mail Matter.

1. The only kind of domestic mail matter that is returnable to the sender without additional postage for such service, when undeliverable, is letters and other first-class matter prepaid one full rate (2 cents); official matter mailed under penalty envelope or frank, and double postal cards, but not single postal cards nor post cards, except those for local delivery (private mailing cards).

2. First-class matter indorsed "After — days, return to —, —," if not deliverable, will be returned at the expiration of the time indicated on the envelope or wrapper. If no time be set for return the matter will be returned at the end of:

Five days if intended for delivery by village or rural carrier.

Fifteen days from offices not having city-carrier service, unless intended for delivery by village or rural carrier.

City carriers' returns of first-class ordinary mail bearing the senders' return requests, which are not deliverable at the street addresses placed thereon by the senders, shall be given directory service and, if addresses, the correctness of which is reasonably certain, are not found, such mail shall be returned at once to the senders without regard to the number of days specified or implied by the return cards thereon. Such mail shall not be placed in the general delivery nor held to await call.

3. Unclaimed letters bearing the card of hotel, school, college, or other public institution, which has evidently been printed upon the envelopes to serve as a mere advertisement, will not be returned to the place designated unless there is also a request therefor.

4. Second, third, and fourth-class matter is returnable to the sender only upon new prepayment of postage at the rate of 1 cent for each 4 ounces or fraction for second-class matter, and for third and fourth-class matter the rate with which it is chargeable when originally mailed.

5. When undelivered mail matter of the third and fourth-class is of obvious value, the sender, if known, shall be given the opportunity of prepaying the return postage or accepting delivery to himself, or upon his order, at the office where it is held upon the payment of 1 cent for each card notice given him. If the requisite postage (in either postage stamps or money) be received within two weeks, or if the matter be from Alaska, within ninety days, or if it be from other remote places within four weeks, the matter will be returned. Otherwise it will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

6. The sender of second, third, and fourth-class matter not of obvious value can cause a notice of nondelivery to be sent to him by placing thereon the following request:

"If not delivered within — days, postmasters will please notify —, who will provide return postage."

7. Whenever the senders of undeliverable second, third, or fourth-class matter bearing the above request habitually fail to redeem the pledge to provide return postage, postmasters will inform them that thereafter no notice to remit the same will be sent.

For return of Registered matter, see par. 3, section 22.

Postage Due.

1. Matters of the first-class prepaid one full rate, 2 cents, will be dispatched with the amount of deficient postage rated thereon, to be collected on delivery.

2. The weight of matter at the mailing office determines the amount of postage chargeable thereon, and therefore the amount of due postage rated at the mailing office on short-paid matter will be collected on delivery at the office of address.

NOTE.—A decided down weight is required to subject matter to an additional rate of postage.

3. Mail matter (including that of the first-class charged with the deficient postage at the mailing office) inadvertently reaching its destination without full prepayment of postage will be rated with the postage due thereon by the receiving postmaster. The deficient postage will be collected of the addressee on delivery.

4. On all matter which, through inadvertence, has been transmitted in the mails and reaches its destination without any evidence of prepayment of postage, double rate due postage will be required. Unpaid "drop letters," soldier's, sailor's, and marine's letters properly indorsed (see par. (a), section 3), are excepted from this rule, the single rate only being required, except mail sent by soldiers, sailors or marines mailed abroad, which shall be transmitted in the mails free of charge.

5. Mail matter (except special delivery letters—see exception (b), section 3), reaching its destination bearing stamps other than ordinary postage stamps (see par. 10, section 18), and in lieu thereof, will be treated as wholly unpaid, and double rate due postage will be required thereon.

6. On ship letters not fully prepaid with United States ordinary postage stamps at double the regular rate, due postage for the deficiency will be required of the addressee on delivery.

7. Due postage must be paid in money, and postage-due stamps corresponding in amount must be affixed to the matter by the postmaster before delivery.

Miscellaneous Items.

ADDRESS.—Mail matter should be addressed legibly and completely. The name of the addressee, the post-office, and the State must be given. If the addressee resides in a city having free delivery, the house number and street, or the post-office box, if known, should be given. If the addressee resides on a rural free-delivery route, the number of the route, if known, should be given. If the matter is intended for delivery through the general delivery at the post-office, the words "General Delivery" should be added.

To secure return in case of nondelivery because of misdirection, insufficient payment of postage, or other causes, the sender's name should be written or printed in the upper left-hand corner of the mail matter. (See "Return of Mail Matter," section 15.)

Postage stamps should be placed upon the upper right-hand corner of the address side of all mail matter, care being taken that they are securely affixed.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.—All mail matter advertised as nondeliverable is subject by law to a charge of 1 cent in addition to the regular postage.

COMPLAINTS.—All complaints regarding the service should be addressed to the postmaster, and whenever possible they should be accompanied with the envelope or wrapper of the piece of mail matter to which the complaint refers. Complaints in general should likewise be addressed to the postmaster; but when that course is manifestly improper under the circumstances, they should be addressed to the Postmaster-General, Washington, D. C.

CONCEALED MATTER.—For knowingly concealing or enclosing any matter of a higher class in that of a lower class, and depositing or causing the same to be deposited for conveyance by mail at a less rate than would be charged for both such higher and lower class, the offender will be liable for every such offense to a fine of $10.

CURRENCY.—Postmasters are not required to accept as payment for postage stamps, any currency which may be so mutilated as to be uncurrent or as to render its genuineness doubtful. Nor are they required to receive more than 25 cents in copper or nickel coins in any one payment nor to affix stamps to letters, nor to make change, except as a matter of courtesy. They must not give credit for postage.

DEAD LETTERS.—All inquiries relative to mail matter known to have been sent to the Dead-Letter Office should be addressed to the First Assistant Postmaster-General, Dead Letter Office; and in such cases the letter of inquiry must state to whom and what post-office the article was addressed, and give the name and full address of the writer or sender, the date and place of mailing, and a brief description of the contents. If it is known when the missing matter was sent to the Dead Letter Office, the date and the reason for sending should be given. If registered, the registry number should be furnished.

THIN ENVELOPES, or those made of weak or poor, unsubstantial paper, should not be used, especially for large packages. Being often handled and subjected to pressure and friction in the mail bags, such envelopes are frequently torn open or burst, without fault of those who handle them. It is best to use United States stamped envelopes, which are on sale at all post-offices, whenever it is convenient and practicable to do so. (See "Stamped Envelopes," section 18.)

TRANSIENT LETTERS.—Letters addressed to persons temporarily sojourning in a city where the free delivery system is in operation should be marked "Transient" or "General delivery," if not addressed to a street and number or some other designated place of delivery.

HOTEL MATTER.—That is, matter addressed for delivery at hotels—should be returned to the post-office as soon as it is evident that it will not be claimed. Proprietors of hotels, officers of clubs, and boards of trade, or exchanges should not hold unclaimed letters longer than ten days, except at the request of the person addressed, and should redirect them for forwarding if the present address is known; otherwise they should be returned to the post-office.

Proprietors of hotels should omit the return request from envelopes supplied gratuitously to their guests, and persons using such envelopes should be careful to designate what disposition should be made thereof in case they can not be delivered.

LISTS OF NAMES.—Postmasters are forbidden to furnish lists of names of persons receiving mail at their post-offices.

LOST MAIL.—All inquiries by the public relative to lost or missing mail matter of every description, either foreign or domestic, ordinary or registered, should be addressed to the postmaster, who will forward the complaint to the proper officer of the Department. An early report is advised, as the chance of recovery is thereby increased.

MUTILATED CURRENCY addressed to the Treasurer of the United States for redemption may be registered free, when the package is presented at the post-office before sealing and certain conditions (which will be made known by the postmaster) are there complied with, but the postage thereon must be prepaid at letter rates.

OVERCHARGES.—Postmasters can not remit supposed overcharges on mail matter. In case of dispute, the person to whom the matter is addressed should deposit the extra postage in money with the postmaster, taking a receipt therefor. If upon investigation by the Department it is found that the extra postage is not properly chargeable the postmaster will be directed to refund the deposit.

PENSIONERS' OATHS.—Fourth-class postmasters and rural carriers are required to administer oaths to pensioners and their witnesses in the execution of pension vouchers, and have authority to receive from the pensioners for each voucher a sum not exceeding 25 cents.

PERIODICAL PUBLICATIONS.—The Post-Office Department does not determine questions regarding the liability of a subscriber for the subscription price of a publication. Publications for which the addressee is not a subscriber, and which are not desired, may be refused and not removed from the post-office, or be returned to the postmaster endorsed "Refused." A subscriber to a publication should promptly notify the publisher of any change in his address.

PRIVATE LETTER BOXES.—Patrons in cities where letter carriers are employed are advised to provide letter boxes at business places or private residences, thereby saving much delay in the delivery of mail matter.

PUBLIC LETTER BOXES.—The malicious injury or destruction of any letter box or other receptacle established by the Postmaster-General for the receipt or delivery of mail matter, or the wilful theft, destruction, or defacement of any matter contained in such box or receptacle is a penal offense, for which the offender is liable to a fine of not more than $1,000, or imprisonment for not more than three years.

SECTION 18.

Miscellaneous Information Concerning Postage Stamps, Postal Cards, and Stamped Envelopes.

1. Only the kinds and denominations of postage stamped paper for which there is a demand are kept on sale at the smaller post-offices. All the kinds and denominations issued by the Department may be purchased at offices of the first-class. Special delivery stamps are kept by all postmasters.

2. All postage stamps issued by the United States since 1860 are good for postage.

3. The Department can not furnish information as to the value of rare stamps over their face.

4. Postage-due stamps are used by postmasters to witness the collection of postage on short-paid matter. These stamps are not good for prepayment of postage and are not sold to the public.

5. Internal revenue stamps are neither good for postage nor redeemable by the Post-Office Department.

6. United States postage stamps are good for postage in Guam, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and Tutuila, but not in the Philippine Islands or in the Panama "Canal Zone." Postage stamps overprinted "Philippines" or "Canal Zone, Panama," are not good for postage or redeemable in the United States.

7. POSTAGE STAMPS.—The Department issues postage stamps of the following denominations: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 15, 16, 20, 25, 30, 50-cent and $1, $2 and $5 and Special Delivery.

8. The Post-office Department does not buy or deal in canceled stamps, or those that have been used.

9. Postage stamps that are mutilated, or defaced in any way, can not be accepted for postage. 10. Stamps cut or otherwise severed from postal cards, embossed United States stamped envelopes, or newspaper wrappers are not redeemable or good for postage.

11. Postage stamps are neither redeemable from purchasers nor exchangeable for those of other denominations or any other stamped paper.

12. Postage stamps should not be used for making remittances. They may be lost or may adhere in transit, and such use tends to disorganize the proper equalization of postmasters' compensation under the law. Ample registry and money-order facilities are provided for the safe transmission of funds by mail. (See sections 20 and 22, and 23 and 24.)

13. No postage-stamped paper is sold by the Department direct; it must be bought of postmasters.

14. BOOKS OF POSTAGE STAMPS.—1-cent, 2-cent and 3-cent postage stamps bound in book form are on sale at all post-offices throughout the country at an advance of 1 cent over the postage value. The pages are of six stamps each. They are furnished in the following forms:

Book of twenty-four 1-cent stamps, price 25 cents.

Book of twelve 2-cent stamps, price 25 cents.

Book of twenty-four 2-cent stamps, price 49 cents.

Book of forty-eight 2-cent stamps, price 97 cents.

Book of ninety-six 1-cent stamps, price 97 cents.

Book of twenty-four 1-cent stamps and twenty-four 2-cent stamps, price 78 cents.

15. POSTAL CARDS are furnished at the postage value represented by the stamp impressed thereon.

16. Single postal cards for foreign correspondence are furnished at 2 cents each, and double (reply) postal cards at 4 cents each, respectively.

17. Domestic single cards are furnished in sheets of 60 each, when so desired, for printing purposes. (See also section 6.)

18. UNITED STATES STAMPED ENVELOPES.—The Department issues twelve different sizes of stamped envelopes, including three sizes of window envelopes, the smallest 2½ by 5½, the largest 4½ by 10½ inches, in three qualities and five colors of paper, as follows: First quality, white and amber; second quality, buff and blue; third quality, manilla. The denominations are 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 cent. A diagram of sizes and schedule of prices may be consulted at any post office.

19. Stamped newspaper wrappers are issued in 1-cent and 2-cent denominations, and in two sizes.

20. When stamped envelopes are purchased in lots of 500, or its multiple, of a single size, quality and denomination, the Department will, upon request, print the purchaser's return card without extra charge. Return cards are not printed on newspaper wrappers or postal cards.

21. Unused stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers, when presented in a substantially whole condition, will be redeemed by postmasters at their face value either in postage stamps, stamped envelopes, or postal cards, but stamped envelopes bearing a printed return card will be redeemed only from original purchasers.

Special Delivery.

1. A Special-delivery stamp, or ten cents' worth of ordinary stamps in addition to the lawful postage, secures the immediate delivery of any piece of mail matter, at any United States post-office within the letter-carrier limits of city delivery offices and within a mile limit of any other post-office. When ordinary stamps are used to obtain immediate delivery of mail the words "Special Delivery" must be written or printed on the envelope or covering directly below but never on the stamps.

2. Hours of delivery: From 7 a. m. to 11 p. m., at all city-delivery offices, and from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. at all other offices, or until after the arrival of the last mail at night, provided that be not later than 9 p. m. Special-delivery mail must be delivered on Sundays as well as on other days, if post-office is open on Sundays.

3. If special-delivery matter fails of delivery because there is no person at the place of address to receive it, the matter is returned to the post-office and delivered in the ordinary mail.

4. Special-delivery matter may be forwarded, but is not entitled to special-delivery at the second office of address unless forwarded on a general forwarding request before attempt at delivery has been made at the post-office of original address.

5. A special-delivery stamp does not give a piece of mail matter any other security than that given to ordinary mail matter.

6. Rural letter-carriers are required to deliver special-delivery mail to the residences of patrons of their routes if they live within one-half mile of the routes. Special-delivery matter addressed to patrons of rural free delivery who reside more than one-half mile from the routes will be placed in the box of the addressee in the same manner as ordinary mail.

SECTION 20.

Registry System.

Valuable Matter Should be Registered.

Registry Fee, 10 Cents.

1. Registered mails reach every post-office in the world. The system insures safe transit and correct delivery. Parcel post matter must be insured and not registered.

2. In case of loss, the sender or owner of a registered article prepaid at the letter rate of postage, mailed at, and addressed to a United States post office, is indemnified for its value up to $50. Third-class registered mail is indemnified for its value up to $25.

3. Valuable letters and sealed parcels, and those which the sender wishes positively to know have been correctly delivered, should be registered.

The registry fee is 10 cents for each separate letter, or sealed parcel in addition to the postage both to be fully prepaid with postage stamps attached to the letter or parcel.

4. Any piece of mail matter may be registered at any post-office or station thereof, and by any rural free-delivery carriers. In residential districts of cities, letters and packages of first-class matter that are not cumbersome on account of size, shape, or weight can be registered by letter carriers at the house door as safely as if brought to the post-office.

5. In order to have a letter or parcel registered it is necessary merely to have it properly prepared, addressed, and stamped, and the name and address of the sender written or printed on it. It should be handed to the postmaster, clerk or carrier who will write out a registration receipt for the sender.

6. Unsealed parcels cannot be registered but can be insured. See section 2.

SECTION 21.

The Advantages of Registering Mail Matter.

1. A receipt is given to the sender for every piece registered.

2. A second receipt from the addressee or his authorized agent, acknowledging delivery, is returned to the sender in every case without extra charge, providing same is requested at time of mailing. This receipt is, under the law, prima facie evidence of delivery.

Note.—If the article is addressed to a foreign country no receipt from the addressee is returned to the sender unless the words "Return Receipt Demanded" are written or stamped across the face of the letter or parcel.

3. Registered matter is handled under special conditions and by bonded employes, and such matter is the object of extraordinary care from the moment it is registered. A complete chain of records and receipts from the point of mailing to the point of delivery enables the accurate tracing of every piece of registered mail.

4. In case of loss of a valuable registered letter (or package prepaid at the letter rate) the sender should make application for indemnity to the postmaster at the office where the piece was mailed, or at the office of its address. The postmaster will furnish a blank form for that purpose.

Rules of the Registry Service.

1. Registered mail is deliverable only to the addressee or upon his written order, or to the person in whose care it is addressed, or to some responsible person who is in the habit of receiving ordinary mail for the addressee unless directions are given to the contrary. The sender may, however, restrict delivery to the addressee in person by indorsing upon the envelope or wrapper the words "Deliver to addressee only." The words "Personal" or "Private" do not so restrict delivery. Persons applying for registered mail, if unknown, will be required to prove their identity.

2. Registered mail will be forwarded upon the written or telegraphic order of the addressee—first-class matter immediately and without extra charge; other matter upon prepayment of the postage chargeable by law for forwarding. No additional registry fee is chargeable for forwarding or returning registered matter.

3. Undelivered registered mail is returned to the sender's address after thirty days, or such other period as may be specified in a return request on the envelope or wrapper. First-class matter is returned without extra charge; in accordance with the provisions of section 15, other matter upon prepayment of the return postage.

4. When the sender of registered mail desires to reclaim or recall it, at any time before its delivery, application for this purpose must be made to the mailing postmaster.
(See also "Delivery of Mail Matter," section 11.)

SECTION 23.

Postal Money-Order System.

Money Orders, How Obtained.

SAFE TRANSMISSION.—The Money Order System is intended to promote public convenience, and provides an absolutely safe and convenient means of transmitting money.

APPLICATION.—The process of obtaining a money order is to fill in a simple form, called an "application," which form is furnished free of charge and to present such application at the money-order branch of the post-office, or one of its stations, where, upon payment of the sum to be sent and of the small fee exacted, a money order will be drawn for any desired amount (but no single order for more than $100), payable at any money-order office in the United States designated by the applicant. When a larger sum than $100 is to be sent, additional orders may be obtained.

At all of the larger post-offices, those of the first, second, and third-classes, and at many of the smaller ones, international money orders may also be obtained, payable in almost any part of the world.

IDENTIFICATION.—The person who presents an order for payment must be prepared to prove his identity. In case of payment to the wrong person the Department will see that the amount is made good to the owner, provided the wrong payment was not brought about through fault on the part of the remitter, payee, or indorsee. Money orders may be deposited in bank for collection.

POWER OF ATTORNEY.—A money order may be paid upon a written order or power of attorney from the payee, as well as upon his indorsement.

INDORSEMENTS.—More than one indorsement on a money order is prohibited by law. One or more additional names, however, may be written upon the back of orders for purpose of identification of payee, or guaranty of genuineness of signature of the payee or indorsee. But if the holder is the second or any subsequent indorsee, to obtain the amount he must surrender the order and make application for a duplicate or a warrant to be issued in place thereof by the Department. The stamp impressions which banks ordinarily place upon money orders left with or sent to them for collection are not regarded as indorsements transferring ownership of the orders or within the meaning of the statute which prohibits more than one indorsement.

REPAYMENT.—A domestic order may be repaid at the office of issue within one year from the last day of the month of its issue.

Money orders will be paid at any office in the United States, if presented within 30 days after date of issue, upon proper identification. After 30 days orders will be paid only at the office drawn upon.

INVALID ORDERS.—An order which has not been paid or repaid within one year from the last day of the month of its issue is invalid and not payable. The owner, however, may obtain payment of the amount thereof by making application, through the postmaster at any money-order office, to the Department, for a warrant for the said amount. The invalid order, if in the owner's possession, must be forwarded with the application.

LOST ORDERS.—In all cases of lost orders the remitter, payee, or indorsee may make application, through either the office at which the original was issued or the office on which the original was drawn, for a duplicate to be issued in lieu thereof.

No charge is made for the issue of a duplicate order, nor for the issue of a warrant for the amount of an invalid order.

SECTION 25.

Foreign Mail Matter and Rates of Postage.

Classification.

Articles for or from foreign countries (except Canada, Mexico, Cuba and the Republic of Panama), are classified as "letters," "post-cards," "printed matter," "commercial or business papers," and "samples of merchandise."

This is known as the "Postal Union" classification of mail matter. There is no provision in the Postal Union mails for merchandise other than samples. (See "Parcels Post," section 37.) A package of merchandise sealed and prepaid in full at the letter rate is, however, transmitted in the Postal Union mails to destination as a "letter." The right of its entry into the foreign country is determined by the administration of the country of destination.

Prohibited articles (see section 27), if mailed sealed against inspection, will not be delivered although they reach their destination.

NOTE.—Mail matter for Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines, the Islands of Guam, and Tutuila, the "Canal Zone," and the United States postal agency at Shanghai, China, is subject to the domestic rates and conditions. (See section 1.)

Articles addressed for delivery at places in North China are transmissible in the mails for the United States postal agency at Shanghai, but articles for the places other than Shanghai, are subject to the postage rates named in section 28.

Canada, Cuba, Mexico and the Republic of Panama.

Articles of every kind or nature which are admitted to the domestic mails of the United States will be admitted under the same conditions to the mails for Canada, Cuba, Mexico and the Republic of Panama, except that commercial papers and bona fide trade samples (including samples of liquids and fatty substances) are transmissible in the regular mails at the postage rate and subject to the conditions applicable to those articles in Postal Union mails, and also that packages—other than single volumes of printed books—the weight of which exceeds 4 pounds 6 ounces are excluded from mails for Canada, Mexico, Cuba and the Republic of Panama. Sealed packages, other than letters in their usual and ordinary form, are unmailable to Canada, Cuba, Mexico and the Republic of Panama.

The postage rate applicable to second-class matter for Canada, is one cent for each 4 ounces or fraction of 4 ounces; and to plants, seeds, etc., one cent an ounce or fraction of an ounce.

Great Britain and Germany.

The domestic rate applies to letters, but not other articles, addressed to Great Britain, Ireland, Newfoundland, Dominican Republic, New Zealand, (and to letters for Germany dispatched only by steamers which land the mails at German ports), Bahamas, Barbados, British Guiana, British Honduras, Dutch West Indies, Leeward, Danish West Indies, Trinidad, including Tobago, and Windward Islands, including Grenada, St. Vincent, Grenadines and St. Lucia.

SECTION 28.

Prohibited Articles.

The transmission of the following articles is absolutely prohibited in the mails for foreign countries under any circumstances, viz.: Publications which violate the copyright laws of the country of destination; packets (except single volumes of printed books for Mexico, Canada, Cuba, the Republic of Panama, Shanghai, and Salvador, and second-class matter for Canada, Cuba, Mexico, the Republic of Panama, and Shanghai) which exceed 4 pounds 6 ounces in weight; poisons; explosives or inflammable substances; live or dead (not dried) animals; insects (except bees) and reptiles; fruits and vegetables which quickly decompose, and substances which exhale a bad odor; lottery tickets or circulars; all obscene or immoral articles, and all articles which may destroy or damage the mails or injure persons handling them.

SECTION 29.

Rates of Postage.

The rates of postage applicable to all foreign countries other than those above mentioned, are as follows:

	Cents.
Letters, for the first ounces or less,	5
And for each additional ounce or fraction of an ounce,	3
Single postal cards (including souvenir cards), each,	2
Double post cards (including souvenir cards), each,	4
Printed matter of all kinds for each 2 ounces or fraction of 2 ounces,	1
Commercial papers, for the first 10 ounces or less,	5
And for each additional 2 ounces or fraction of 2 ounces,	1
Samples of merchandise, for the first 4 ounces or less,	2
And for each additional 2 ounces or fraction of 2 ounces,	1
Registration fee in addition to postage,	10

Postage must be prepaid on all articles other than letters at least in part. Double the amount of postage deficient will be collected upon the delivery of articles upon which postage has not been prepaid in full.

A "reply coupon" may be purchased (price, six cents) at post-offices, which upon presentation at a post-office in the principal countries in the Postal Union, will entitle the person presenting it to receive (without charge) a postage stamp equivalent to a 5 cent United States stamp. By this arrangement a person in the United States can furnish his correspondent with a postage stamp with which to prepay postage on a reply to his letter.

SECTION 30.

Rate of postage, 5 cents for the first ounce, and 3 cents for each additional ounce or fraction of an ounce.

The postal conventions do not define the term "letter," but it is held that a package upon which postage at the letter rate has been prepaid in full was intended by the sender to be sent as a letter; and when it does not contain prohibited articles is required to be considered and treated as a "letter." Consequently packages addressed to foreign countries, except Canada, Cuba, Mexico and the Republic of Panama (see section 26), which are fully prepaid at the rate of postage applicable to letters for the countries to which the packages are addressed, are allowed to be forwarded by mail to their destinations, even though they contain articles of miscellaneous merchandise which are not sent as bona fide trade samples.

NOTE.—Articles other than letters, in their usual and ordinary form, on their arrival at the exchange post office of the country of destination, will be inspected by customs officers of that country, who will levy the proper customs duties upon any articles found to be dutiable under the laws of that country and not prohibited transmission in the mails.

United States Postal Cards.

The United States International 2-cent single and 4-cent (reply) postal cards should be used for correspondence with foreign countries, except Cuba, Canada, and Mexico, the Republic of Panama, and Shanghai, to which the domestic single and double 2-cent cards are mailable; but when these cards can not be obtained, it is allowable to use the United States domestic 1-cent single or 2-cent (reply) postal cards with 1-cent on the single and 2-cent on the double cards United States adhesive postage stamps attached thereto.

By special arrangement with the Canadian Post-Office Department, Canadian postal cards mailed in the United States bearing United States postage stamps (domestic rate), and United States postal cards mailed in Canada bearing Canadian postage stamps, are transmissible in the mails and deliverable without further charge.

POST CARDS.—Private mailing cards are transmissible to foreign countries at the rate of 2 cents each, provided they conform to the conditions prescribed for similar cards in our domestic mails. If entirely in print and bear no personal message they may be sent at the rate of 2 cents each. (See Post cards, section 7.) To Canada, Mexico, Cuba, the Republic of Panama, and Shanghai, they may be sent at a rate of 1 cent each.

NOTE.—"Reply" post cards (private mailing-cards) are unauthorized and therefore unmailable as such.

Printed Matter.

Rate of postage, 1 cent for each 2 ounces or fraction. Limit of weight, 4 pounds 6 ounces. Limit of size, 18 inches in any direction, except that "rolls" may measure 30 inches in length by 4 inches in diameter.

Includes newspapers and periodical works, books stitched and bound, pamphlets, sheets of music, visiting cards, address cards, proofs of printing with or without the manuscripts relating thereto, papers with raised points for the use of the blind, engravings, photographs, and albums containing photographs, pictures, drawings, plans, maps, catalogues, prospectuses, announcements and notices of various kinds, whether printed, engraved, lithographed, or autographed and in general all impressions or reproductions obtained upon paper, parchment or cardboard, by means of printing, engraving, lithographing, and autographing, or any other mechanical process easy to recognize, except the copying-press and the typewriter.

Facsimile copies of manuscript or typewriting obtained by a mechanical process (polygraphy, chromography, etc.), are assimilated to "prints;" but in order to pass at the reduced postage they must be mailed at the post-office windows, and in the minimum number of 20 perfectly identical copies.

(Permissible additions, see section 35.)

Commercial Papers.

Rate of postage, for the first ten ounces or less, 5 cents; and for each additional 2 ounces or fraction of 2 ounces, 1 cent. Limit of weight, 4 pounds 6 ounces.

Includes all instruments or documents written or drawn wholly or partly by hand, which have not the character of an actual and personal correspondence, such as papers of legal procedure, deeds of all kinds drawn up by public functionaries, waybills or bills of lading, invoices, the various documents of insurance companies, copies of or extracts from deeds under private signature, written or stamped or unstamped paper, scores or sheets of manuscript music, manuscript of books or of articles for publication in periodicals, forwarded separately, original and corrected tasks of pupils, excluding all comment on work.

Samples of Merchandise.

Rate of postage, for the first 4 ounces or less, 2 cents; and for each additional 2 ounces, or fraction of 2 ounces, 1 cent. Limit of weight, 12 ounces. Limit of size, 12 x 8 x 4 inches. (See "Parcel Post," section 37.)

Packages of miscellaneous merchandise for foreign countries (except Canada, Mexico, Cuba, the Republic of Panama and the United States Agency at Shanghai, (China) are restricted to bona fide trade samples or specimens having no salable or commercial value in excess of that actually necessary for their use as samples or specimens.

Goods sent for sale, in execution of an order, or as gifts, however small the quantity may be, are not admissible at the sample rate and conditions.

Pairs of articles such as gloves, shoes, etc., but not such as suspenders or drawers, are not transmissible by mail to foreign countries as "samples of merchandise," but one article of a pair may be so transmitted. (See "Parcel Post," section 37.)

Samples of merchandise must conform to the following conditions:

(1) They must be placed in bags, boxes or removable envelopes in such a manner as to admit of easy inspection; (2) they must not have any salable value nor bear any manuscript other than the name or profession of the sender, the address of the addressee, a manufacturer's or trade mark, numbers, prices, and indications relating to the weight or size of the quantity to be disposed of, and words which are necessary to precisely indicate the origin and nature of the merchandise; (3) packages containing samples must not exceed 350 grams (12 ounces) in weight, or the following dimensions: 30 centimeters (12 inches) in length, 20 centimeter (8 inches) in breadth, and 10 centimeters (4 inches) in depth; except that when in the form of a roll a package of samples may measure not to exceed 30 centimeters (12 inches) in length and 15 centimeters (6 inches) in diameter.

Samples of liquids, fatty substances, and powders, whether coloring or not (except such as are dangerous, inflammable, explosive, or exhale a bad odor), and also live bees, specimens of natural history, and articles of glass are admitted to the mails, provided they conform to the following conditions, viz: (1) Liquids, oils, and fatty substances which easily liquefy must be placed in thick glass bottles hermetically sealed; the bottles must be placed in a wooden box, which can be opened without withdrawing tacks, nails, or screws, containing sufficient spongy matter to absorb the contents if the bottles should break; and this wooden box must be enclosed in a case of metal or wood with a screw top, or of strong and thick leather, in order that it may be easily opened for examination of the contents. If perforated wooden blocks are used measuring at least 2½ millimeters (one-tenth inch) in the thinnest part, sufficiently filled with absorbent material and furnished with a lid, it is not necessary that the blocks should be enclosed in a second case. (2) Fatty substances which do not easily liquefy, such as ointments, resin, etc., must be enclosed in a box or bag of linen, parchment, etc., and then placed in an outside box of wood, metal, or strong, thick leather. (3) Dry powders, whether coloring or not, must be enclosed in boxes or stout envelopes, which are placed in an outside bag of linen or parchment.

Samples of articles composed of glass or other fragile substances must be packed so as to preclude the possibility of injury to postal employees or the correspondence, in case the article should break.

Packages containing articles of merchandise may be sent to Cuba, Canada, Mexico, Republic of Panama, and Shanghai, at the postage rate, and subject to the conditions applicable to "fourth-class matter" in the domestic mails, except that the limit of weight is 4 pounds, 6 ounces and the 8th zone rate of postage applies.

Permissible Additions and Enclosures.

Packets of printed matter, commercial papers, and samples must not contain any letter or manuscript note having the character of an actual and personal correspondence, and must be made up in such manner as to admit of being easily examined. The following manuscript additions may be made to "prints;" the name, business, and residence of the sender; to visiting cards, the title and address of the sender, and congratulations, thanks, etc., not to exceed five words; the date of dispatch; the necessary corrections on proofs of printing, and the "copy" may be enclosed with the proof; correction of errors in printing other than proof; the erasure and underscoring of certain words; the insertion or correction of figures in price lists, advertisements, trade circulars, and prospectuses; the insertion of the name of the traveler, the date and place of his intended visit, in notices concerning the trips of commercial travelers; the dates of sailing on notices relating to the sailing of vessels; the name of the person invited, the date, object, and place, on cards of invitation and notices of meetings; a dedication on books, journals, photographs, Christmas and New Year's cards; fashion plates, maps, etc., may be painted; to cuttings from journals, the title, date, number, and address of the journal from which they were cut may be added; an invoice may be attached to the article to which it relates.

No manuscript additions other than those above indicated are allowed upon "prints."

It is permitted to enclose in the same package samples of merchandise, prints, and commercial papers, but subject to the following conditions: (1) That each class of articles taken singly shall not exceed the limits which are applicable to it as regards weight and size. (2) That the total weight of the package must not exceed 2 kilograms (4 pounds 6 ounces). (3) That the minimum charge shall be 5 cents when the package contains commercial papers, and 2 cents when it consists of printed matter and samples.

SECTION 32.

Miscellaneous Conditions Affecting Matter Mailed to Foreign Countries.

1. PREPAYMENT OF POSTAGE.—Ordinary letters for any foreign country (except Canada, Mexico, or the United States Postal Agency at Shanghai, (China), will be forwarded whether any postage is prepaid on them or not. All other matter must be prepaid at least partially.

2. UNMAILABLE MATTER.—All articles prohibited from domestic mails are also excluded from circulation in the mails for or from foreign countries. (See also "Prohibited articles," section 28; "Samples of merchandise," section 34.)

3. WRAPPING.—All matter to be sent in the mails at less than the letter rates of postage must be securely wrapped and so that it can be easily examined at the office of delivery, as well as at the mailing office, without damaging the wrapper. (See also "Samples of merchandise," section 34.)

4. POSTAGE DUE.—The letter "T" stamped on the wrapper of an article received in the mails from a foreign country indicates that it was considered in that country as not fully prepaid and that additional postage is to be collected on delivery. An "O" at the side of the postage stamp indicates that the stamps were of no value for prepayment of postage in the country in which the article was mailed. Wholly unpaid letters are liable to a charge of 10 cents per one-half ounce (double the prepaid rate); and insufficiently paid articles of all kinds are liable to a charge of double the amount of the short payment, which amount is indicated by the stamp "Due—cents" or "U. S. charge to collect—cents" impressed thereon at the United States exchange post-office which received the article from abroad, and is required to be collected by the postmaster who delivers the article, and who should affix thereto postage-due stamps of the value of the amount collected.

In the case of unpaid letters or short-paid matter of any kind the deficient postage will be collected by the postmaster by whom the article is delivered.

5. FORWARDING.—Mail matter of all kinds received from any foreign country, including Canada, Mexico, Cuba and the Republic of Panama, is required to be forwarded, at the request of the addressee, from one post-office to another, and—in the case of articles other than parcel-post packages—to any foreign country without additional charge for postage. (See "Postage due," par. 4, section 36.)

6. RETURN.—Letters bearing the return card of the sender on which the postage is fully prepaid will be returned, if undeliverable, without extra charge.

Registered Matter.

Letters and parcels (except Parcel-post packages for Australia, Barbados, Curacao, Dutch Guiana, France, French Guiana, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain, Greece, Guadeloupe, Italy, Martinique, The Netherlands, Uruguay and Society Islands), addressed to foreign countries if admissible to the Postal Union Mails, may be registered under the same conditions, as those addressed to domestic destinations. The registry fee in every case is ten (10) cents, in addition to lawful postage, and both must be fully prepaid. (See "Registry System," Sections 20 to 22.)

DELIVERY.—Registered articles addressed to or received from foreign countries are delivered according to the rules of the country of address.

RETURN RECEIPT.—If a registry return receipt from the addressee is desired, a demand therefor, as "Return receipt demanded," must be written or stamped by the sender upon the face of the envelope or wrapper.

INDEMNITY.—In case of loss of a registered article mailed in or addressed to a foreign country embraced in the Universal Postal Union, except in case of force majeure (beyond control), the sender, or at his request the addressee, is entitled to an indemnity for its value up to fifty francs, approximately ten dollars.

SEALED RECEPTACLES.—The presence in an unsealed parcel of sealed receptacles containing mailable articles which can not be safely transmitted in unsealed receptacles, shall not render the parcel unavailable, provided the contents of the sealed receptacles are plainly visible, or are unmistakably indicated by the method of packing or by a precise statement on the covers. But such sealed receptacles shall not be admitted to the parcel-post unless inclosed in an outside cover open to inspection.

SIZE AND WEIGHT OF PACKAGES.—A package must not measure more than greatest length, 3½ feet; greatest length and girth combined 6 feet, except to Colombia to which the greatest length of parcels is limited to 2 feet, with the greatest girth at 4 feet.

REGISTRATION.—The sender of a parcel addressed to any of the countries named in the table at the head of this section, except Barbados, Dutch Guiana, Great Britain, the Netherlands, France and Uruguay, may have the same registered by paying a registry fee of 10 cents, and will receive the "Return receipt," without special charge therefor, when envelope or wrapper is marked "Return receipt requested."

PLACE OF MAILING.—Matter intended for Parcel-Post must not be posted in a letter box, but must be taken to the post-office and presented to the postmaster, or person in charge, for inspection.

DIRECTIONS ON PACKAGES.—In addition to name and full address of the person to whom sent, the package must bear the words "Parcel Post" in the upper left-hand corner, with the name and address of the sender.

PROHIBITED MATTER.—Any matter which is declared unavailable in the domestic mails is also denied transmission as "parcel-post" mail.

PROHIBITIONS.—Parcels for foreign countries cannot be insured nor sent C. O. D. For prohibitions and observations applicable to the service for each country see U. S. Postal Guide.

CUSTOMS DECLARATION.—A customs declaration, furnished by the postmaster, must be properly filled out and firmly attached to the cover of the package in such a manner that it does not seal or close the package, so that it can be easily opened. A special form of customs declaration must be made in duplicate for each parcel sent to France by parcel post.

LETTERS PROHIBITED.—A letter or communication of the nature of personal correspondence must not accompany, be written on, or enclosed with any parcel. If such be found, the letter will be placed in the mails if separable, and if the communication be inseparably attached, the whole parcel will be rejected. If, however, any such should inadvertently be forwarded, the country of destination will collect upon the letter or letters double the letter rate of postage prescribed by the Universal Postal Convention.

CUSTOMS DUTIES.—The Post-Office Department can not state what articles are liable to customs duties in foreign countries, and consequently does not exclude articles of merchandise from the mails for foreign countries, because they may be liable to customs duties in the countries to which they are addressed.

Customs duties can not be prepaid by the senders of dutiable articles; they will be collected of addressees if the articles are delivered.

Dutiable articles forwarded to the United States from foreign countries are delivered to addressees at Post-Offices of destination upon compliance with certain conditions, and the payment of the duties levied thereon.

SECTION 39.

Postal Savings System.

Object.

1. The Postal Savings System is established by authority of the Act of Congress approved June 25, 1910, for the purpose of providing facilities for depositing savings at interest, with the security of the United States Government for repayment.

Safety.

2. The faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of deposits (made in postal savings depository offices), with accrued interest thereon, as provided by the postal savings act.

Who May Deposit.

3. An account may be opened and deposits made by any person of the age of 10 years or over in his or her own name, or by a married woman in her own name and free from any control or interference by her husband.

4. Deposits will be accepted only from individuals, and no account will be opened in the name of any corporation, association, society, firm or partnership, or in the name of two or more persons jointly. No account will be opened in the name of one person in trust for or on behalf of another person or persons.

5. A person may open a postal savings account at any depository post office, but no person may at the same time have more than one postal savings account either at the same office or at different offices.

6. All accounts shall be opened in person by the depositor or his authorized representative. After opening an account, a depositor may forward subsequent deposits to the post office by registered mail or by money order made payable to the postmaster.

No Charges to Depositors.

7. No charges or fees are collected or required from depositors in connection with the opening of accounts or the subsequent deposit or withdrawal of moneys.

How to Open an Account.

8. When a person applies to open an account, he shall furnish the necessary information to enable the postmaster to fill out an application, which the depositor will then be required to sign.

Deposits.

9. Deposits are evidenced by postal savings certificates issued in fixed denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $200 and $500, each bearing the name of the depositor, the number of his account, the date of issue, and the name of the depository office.

10. No account may be opened for less than $1, nor will fractions of a dollar be accepted for deposit. (See paragraph 16 relative to postal savings cards and stamps.)

11. No person is permitted to have a total balance to his credit at any time of more than $2500 exclusive of accumulated interest.

12. Postal savings certificates are not transferable or negotiable, and are payable only to the person to whom issued, except as provided in paragraphs 27, 28 and 29.

13. On opening an account a depositor is supplied with an envelope in which he may keep his savings certificates. This envelope bears information for his guidance, and a blank ledger record on which an account of his deposits and withdrawals may be kept.

14. If a postal savings certificate is lost or destroyed the depositor should notify the postmaster. Upon compliance by the depositor with the necessary requirements, a new certificate will be issued by the Third Assistant Postmaster General if deemed proper.

15. Postmasters are not permitted to receive issued postal savings certificates for safe-keeping.

Postal Savings Cards and Stamps.

16. Amounts less than $1 may be saved for deposit by purchasing 10-cent postal savings cards and 10-cent postal savings stamps. Each postal savings card bears blank spaces in which such stamps may be affixed from time to time. A postal savings card with nine postal savings stamps affixed will be accepted as a deposit of $1 either in opening an account or in adding to an existing account or will be redeemed for cash.

17. Postal savings cards and stamps are not valid for postage, and postmasters will not exchange them for postage stamps nor exchange postage stamps for postal savings cards or stamps.

Interest.

18. Interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum will be allowed on the amount represented by each postal savings certificate, payable annually. Interest will not be paid for any fraction of a year.

19. Deposits will bear interest from the 1st day of the month next following that in which made.

20. Interest will continue to accrue annually on a postal savings certificate as long as it remains outstanding, certificates being valid until paid, without limitations as to time.

21. Compound interest is not allowed on an outstanding certificate, but a depositor may withdraw interest accrued and make a new deposit, subject to the restriction that deposits at interest will not be received for less than $1.

Withdrawals.

22. A depositor may at any time withdraw the whole or any part of the deposits to his credit, with any interest payable thereon, by surrendering, at the office of issue, postal savings certificates, properly indorsed, for the amount to be withdrawn.

23. A depositor presenting a certificate for payment in full shall indorse it in the presence of the postmaster or his representative and surrender it. The postmaster or his representative, upon being satisfied as to the depositor's identity, will then make payment.

24. When a depositor desires to withdraw only a part of the amount represented by any certificate, the postmaster will cancel the certificate and issue a new certificate or certificates covering the amount remaining on deposit, which will bear interest from the 1st day of the following month.

25. When a depositor desires to withdraw the interest payable on any certificate, he will be required to give his receipt for the amount of the interest paid. The postmaster will enter on the back of the certificate the date of the interest payment.

Deposits Not Made in Person.

26. When a depositor, for good and sufficient reason, is unable to appear in person to make an additional deposit, the amount to be deposited may be sent by a representative or forwarded by registered mail, or by a money order made payable to the postmaster. New accounts can not be opened by mail, but a person who desires to open an account and is unable to appear at the post office may forward the money by a representative, who will be provided with an application form, which shall be properly filled out by the intending depositor.

Withdrawals Not Made in Person.

27. When, for good and sufficient reason, a depositor is unable to appear in person to make a withdrawal, a blank order for the purpose will be furnished upon his application by mail or at the request of his representative. When the order has been properly filled out and signed by the depositor, his signature witnessed by a disinterested person, and the order returned to the postmaster, together with each certificate to be paid properly indorsed, payment will be made to the depositor's representative, or a money order covering the amount withdrawn, less the money-order fee, will be forwarded to the depositor.

28. When a depositor who is unable to appear in person desires to withdraw the interest payable on any certificate, the blank order furnished will be accompanied by a receipt for the interest to be paid. Upon return of such papers, properly signed by the depositor, the postmaster will make payment as provided in paragraph 27.

Death of Depositor.

29. In case of the death of a depositor the amount standing to his credit will be paid to the executor or administrator of his estate upon compliance with necessary requirements. In case of the death of a depositor intestate, where no formal administration is desired by his relatives, the Third Assistant Postmaster General may authorize the postmaster, upon obtaining an affidavit in proper form, to pay the amount to the persons entitled under the State laws to receive it.

Account of Woman Who Marries.

30. A woman who opens an account and afterwards marries should present her postal savings certificates to the postmaster at the issuing office in order that the certificates may be indorsed as payable to her in her new name. The postmaster will receive no further deposits from a woman who marries and fails to comply with this requirement.

Postal Savings Bonds.

31. A depositor may exchange the whole or any part of his deposits in sums of $20, or any multiple of $20 up to and including $500, for United States registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at the rate of 2½ per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after one year from date of issue, and both principal and interest being payable 20 years from such date in United States gold coin. The exchange may be made as of January 1 and July 1 of each year.

32. A depositor desiring to convert his postal savings deposits into bonds on January 1 and July 1 of any year shall make application to the postmaster at least one month previously on a form which will be supplied in triplicate for the purpose. At the time of making application the depositor shall indorse and surrender postal savings certificates covering the amount of the bonds desired, and the postmaster will give him a receipt for the certificates. When the bonds applied for have been issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, he will forward them to the depositor. The exchange is considered as taking effect on the date when the bonds begin to bear interest (January 1 or July 1), and any yearly interest due on the certificates surrendered will be paid by the postmaster on or after that date.

33. Postal savings deposits which have been exchanged for bonds are not counted as a part of the maximum of $2500 allowed one depositor, and there is no limitation upon the amount of postal savings bonds which may be acquired by a depositor.

34. Postal savings bonds are exempt from all taxes or duties of the United States, as well as from taxation in any form by or under State, municipal, or local authority.

35. Postal savings bonds can be procured only by the surrender of postal savings deposits and will not be issued to persons who are not depositors, but whether in registered or coupon form they may, after receipt by the depositor, be sold or transferred at any time. A leaflet containing additional information concerning postal savings bonds may be obtained from the postmaster.

Information.

36. Further information concerning the Postal Savings System may be obtained by application at any depository post office or by addressing the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, Washington, D. C.

LIST OF PRESIDENTIAL POST OFFICES IN PENNSYLVANIA WITH SALARIES OF POSTMASTERS.

The classification of post offices is fixed by law, and the Postmaster General has no discretion in the premises.

First, second and third-class postmasters are appointed by the President, subject to confirmation by the Senate, and are commissioned for four years. But if the revenues of third-class offices relegate them to fourth-class, the term of the incumbent appointed by the President ceases, and an appointment by the Postmaster General will be made.

The salaries of some postmasters are fixed by law and cannot be increased by any increase of business, while the majority of the salaries of Presidential postmasters are adjusted on the basis of the gross receipts accruing at the respective offices for the four quarters ending March 31, of each year, to take effect at the beginning of the next fiscal year, to-wit, July 1, ensuing.

Fourth-class postmasters are appointed by the Postmaster General, and their term of tenure has no specified limit, and under the law their compensation consists of—

1. All the box rents, if there are any.

2. Commissions on the amount of postage due stamps, ordinary postage stamps, stamped envelopes, postal cards and newspapers and periodical stamps canceled on matter actually mailed at their offices, and on amounts received from sales of waste paper, dead newspapers, printed matter and twine sold, at the following rates: On the first $50 or less, 100 per cent.; on the next $100 or less, 60 per cent.; on the next $200 or less, 50 per cent.; on the excess above $350, 40 per cent.

In no case is the compensation of a postmaster of this class to exceed $250 in any one quarter.
